Crisis In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil was plunged into a crisis by the sudden resignation of President Janio Quadros, with touring leftist Vice President Joao Goulart flying home today to take over.

Supporters of Goulart, 43, threatened a general strike in the country already beset by financial troubles if any attempt is made to block him from taking over the presidency if he wants to—and an aide says he does.

Goulart, a wealthy rancher who heads Brazil's Labor party, is flying from Singapore after touring Red China, where he sang the praises of Mao Tzetung and accomplishments under the Peiping regime.

U.N. Congo Aid

ELISABETHVILLE (UPI) — A top United Nations official said today the U.N. is ready to help Central Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula end Katanga's independence with military force if necessary.

The statement came from Conor Cruise O'Brien, chief U.N. representative in secessionist Katanga Province, after his talks with Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

French Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and West Germany today appeared unable to budge France from its opposition to early Berlin negotiations with Russia.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara met for more than an hour with Allied diplomats this morning in an effort to reach agreement on plans for negotiations.

The three allies have been urging France to join in a Western diplomatic initiative.

Auto Talks

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union and American Motors will hold a joint news conference today, with the company and the union expected to announce agreement on a new contract which will share profits with hourly rated workers.

Walkout Averted

'Beer Can Satellite'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "beer can satellite" whirled around the earth today on a space dust-hunting mission that may help ensure the safety of astronauts on interplanetary flights.

The 127-pound space messenger — the 50th American satellite to be placed in orbit since January, 1958 — was gunning around the globe once every 98 minutes.

Tunis Demand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The General Assembly gave overwhelming approval last night to a demand that France negotiate withdrawal of its troops from Tunisia.

The United States, Britain and other NATO powers abstained when the vote came. France boycotted the debate.

ART LOVERS PACK PRISON EXHIBIT

Officials opened the doors one half hour earlier than scheduled this morning to the fourth annual arts and crafts show of inmates' works in the Employees' Recreation Hall at San Quentin Prison. Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff reported persons were waiting in line about 8 a.m. to get in, and by 9:30 a.m. some 500 had gone through the exhibit. Bridge Directors Vote To Help Get 2nd Span

Golden Gate Bridge directors voted yesterday to do everything they can to help get another bridge built between San Francisco and Marin Counties.

With only one dissent, the directors voted to "do whatever we can to expedite, cooperate and facilitate the building of a second bridge to Marin County."

San Francisco Director Ben Lerer made the motion after the board had agreed to postpone vote on further study of feasibility of rapid transit on the Golden Gate Bridge until Sept. 5.

He received enthusiastic support from Marin Director LeLand Murphy, who has consistently opposed putting transit on the Gate Span.

"We should do everything possible to assist in planning a new bridge so they can't say we're just against everything and for nothing," Murphy declared. He said the new bridge should be planned for rapid transit.

Director Peter Gasser of Napa, who earlier had unleashed a violent attack against transit on the Gate bridge, said he already had a motion in committee calling upon the bridge district to build the second bridge.

Director George Anderson of Ukiah also pointed out he had for years been urging the district's building of a second span and criticized his fellow board members for reducing tolls.

"If you'd stayed with me on not lowering tolls, we'd be in a much better position to build a second bridge," he declared.

Daniel L. Del Carlo, San Francisco director, was the only one to oppose the motion. He said there "is no point in passing such a motion. I made one in 1948 and it just died in committee. What can we actually do to 'expedite or cooperate'?" he asked. He noted that the state has appropriated half a million dollars to study a second crossing in the next two years.

"I don't know what agency will build the bridge," declared Lerer, "whether we will or someone else, but we've got to expedite the planning or we're going to be too late."

ANOTHER TOLL CUT SOUGHT FOR GATE SPAN

Another toll cut will be sought next year for the Golden Gate Bridge.

Marin Director Leland Murphy warned the bridge board yesterday that in view of a record July traffic, the first month in which more than two million vehicles crossed the span, he would request toll cuts to become effective next July.

General Manager James Adam told the board that 2,012,031 vehicles used the bridge last month, 128,000 more than crossed in July last year.

Allies Deliver A Strong Crisis Note To Kremlin

Given Warning On Berlin Air Routes

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States, Britain and France today delivered notes strongly denouncing the Soviet's Union implied threat to the air corridors that link West Berlin with the western world.

The notes were delivered at the foreign ministry late this afternoon by messengers.

The Western Allies agreed yesterday on the wording of notes replying to a Soviet charge that the Allies have been airlifting West-German spies and provocateurs to West Berlin.

The Western capitals have rejected the Moscow charges in public statements.

The White House saw the Kremlin allegation—contained in a Soviet note Wednesday—as a threat to interfere with flights to West Berlin and voiced a "solemn warning" against any such "aggressive act" by the Communists.

PROTEST

More words were fired back and forth across the Iron Curtain.

In Berlin Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, U.S. commandant, protested personally to the Soviet commandant today against what he called the illegal regulations of the East German Communists in limiting crossing points between East and West Berlin.

Watson blamed the Russian, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, in part for incidents arising from the new rules.

Irate West Berliners have shouted insults at Soviet troops and tried to overturn Soviet jeeps. Last night several thousand West Berliners demonstrated against the Communists. Angry crowds gathered today at two Communist pass offices newly opened in West Berlin.

U. S. BOOKLET

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, writing in a foreword to a State Department booklet on Berlin, said: "For the third time in just over 13 years, the Soviets have launched a major threat to the freedom of West Berlin."

He voiced confidence that the United States, its Allies "and the stalwart people of West Berlin" will meet the Soviet challenge.

76,500 U.S. Reservists Called Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, in the biggest mobilization since the Korean War, is ordering 76,500 reservists and National Guardsmen to active duty.

Most of the men are being ordered to report Oct. 1.

The callup is part of the Kennedy administration's military build-up to be ready to deal with the Berlin situation and other world trouble spots.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced the call to active duty at a news conference late yesterday.

GUARDSMEN

Army and Air Force National Guard and reserve units that were alerted two weeks ago to possible duty are now being called up, he said. Navy men needed to man ships being added to the fleet also are being ordered to report.

The orders are going out to 311 units of the three services — 210 of them Army, 58 Navy, 33 Air Force, plus miscellaneous outfits.

The callup involves 46,500 Army Reservists and National Guardsmen, 23,600 Air Force men and 6,400 Navy Reservists.

McNamara said the orders do not specify how long the men will be held on active duty, but he noted that the authorization resolution passed by Congress placed a one-year limit on most recalls.

RELEASE

The secretary said the Defense Department hopes to release many of those being called as voluntary enlistments and draft inductions provide needed manpower.

In reply to newsmen's questions, McNamara said that if any of the activated units are sent overseas, dependents would not be allowed to go along.

Orders to the recalled units began going out yesterday and kept flowing today. Commanding officers will get the first word and then notify individual reservists. It will take up to three weeks for individuals to get their personal orders.

When the beefing-up is completed, the Army will have 1,008,000 in uniform, the Navy 657,000, the Air Force 888,227, and the Marine Corps 190,000.

County Merit System Gets Sheriff's 'Aid'

By RANDALL GOULD

When Marin Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos recently bypassed a 16-person eligibility list to get supervisors' approval of a personal choice for deputy sheriff who had taken no examination, he may have indirectily helped the county Merit System.

County Administrator Alan Bruce in his capacity of personnel director said today he is hopeful that the incident may prove of service in getting a modernization procedure under way in personnel procurement.

"Even the sheriff is still using the examination system," said Bruce.

He referred to his assistant, Stella Hughes, and found that within the last couple of days Mountanos's office drew on an eligible list in hiring an intermediate typist.

Miss Hughes conducts what are called "open continuous examinations" to keep a good backlog in several such categories.

Special examinations for positions in Marin's 28 county departments are conducted only when there is a probability of jobs, Miss Hughes explained. As a rule she drops in on a department head when the eligibility list in a given category begins to run low.

She said she called on Mountanous not long before he rammed through appointment of an unexamined shoe repairer as deputy sheriff. She mentioned that the list of eligibles was down, and got his approval to conduct the latest examination, she said.

More than 200 candidates showed up and went through three days of examinations, ending with 16 winners on the list which the sheriff later disregarded. To conduct the oral part of the examination Miss Hughes brought in police lieutenants or higher and undersheriffs from Oakland, Richmond and Sonoma County, following inter-county custom of getting their services as public service at no cost except for their meals.

Bruce concurs with Mountanos's criticism that some

Hamilton Unit Named 'Best'

The 83rd Fighter interceptor squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base has been named the best squadron in the Air Force in the United States.

The squadron and its commander, Lt. Col. Arthur C. Owen Jr., were notified yesterday that they had been awarded the Hughes Trophy by the Air Defense Command.

Crews from the squadron fly two-place F-101 jet fighters in defense of the west coast. It is one of two squadrons in the 78th Fighter Wing commanded by Col. Harvey E. Henderson, base commander. Lt. Col. Robert B. Goetz commanded the squadron until this spring.

Prosecution Says Marin Teacher Savagely Beaten

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The streetcar murder trial was in recess here today after the prosecution had produced testimony that a school teacher was beaten savagely before he was run over and killed by a streetcar.

Four teen-age boys are on trial, charged with the murder of William P. Hall, 27.

Dr. Robert Wright, autopsy surgeon, testified yesterday that Hall's head and shoulders were covered with deep cuts and bruises. Defense attorneys asked Wright if the injuries could have been caused by the streetcar.

He said "No, they are typical of injuries suffered by being beaten with fists and kicked repeatedly."

The prosecution introduced autopsy pictures.

The prosecution charges that Michael Kilkenny, 16; Robert Hall, 17; Larry Magee, 16, and William Castillo, 17, robbed and beat the teacher and then left him unconscious on the tracks as part of a strongarm campaign against homosexuals.

The prosecution said there was no evidence that Hall was a homosexual.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Astronaut Fined

LOMPOC (UPI)—Astronaut Leroy Cooper Jr. was fined $11 yesterday by a justice of the peace who said, "There may not be any traffic restrictions out there in space, but in Lompoc an astronaut has to obey the same rules as anybody else."

Cooper, an Air Force Captain and one of the seven Project Mercury spacemen, had been cited for making an illegal U-turn in this town 150 miles north of Los Angeles.

Barbara Burns Hiding

The 22-year-old daughter of the late comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns left General Hospital last night against the advice of her doctors.

'Monkey Trial'

SALEM, Ill. (UPI)—John T. Scopes, defendant in the famed Dayton, Tenn., "Monkey Trial" in 1925, will not take part in tomorrow's dedication of a statue of William Jennings Bryan, the man who successfully prosecuted him.

Ceremony officials were advised that Scopes became ill with a stomach disorder Thursday night. He was staying at the home of a sister, Mrs. Tom Clark, in Paducah, Ky.

Scopes, a native of Paducah, now lives in Shreveport, La. Ceremony officials said a doctor advised him not to continue the trip to Salem, where he once lived. Scopes was a member of the 1919 Salem High School graduating class addressed by Bryan.

14 Die In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—Fourteen persons died in Algeria yesterday under rebel attack by hand grenade, bomb, pistol and knife. Authorities said 17 were wounded.

A Moslem band lobbed a hand grenade into a restaurant in Medea, about 75 miles south of here, and then sprayed the room with machinegun fire.

Adult School Courses Approved

The Marin Junior College District board Thursday night approved the fall semester adult school courses and instructors recommended by Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of extended day and adult education.

The vote was 4-0, trustee George G. Washburn having gone home by the time this item was reached.

Three new courses will be offered: A class in savings and loan principles to be taught by Jack Goodwin; a class in contemporary painting and sculpture to be taught by Mrs. Nancy Clarke Hayes; and a class in English and general physics to be taught to members of the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais.

Briggs proposed the courses for the radar men be taught on the mountain instead of on the campus because he was assured their commander could more easily arrange their attendance there than if they had to come down to campus level on their own. This was regarded as the understatement of the evening.

There will be apprentice courses in auto mechanics, carpentry, electronics, painting, plumbing and sheet metal work. Briggs said most would be taught by persons now on the faculty.

The pilot, First Lt. W. H. Barbour parachuted to safety. He was flying from Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, S.C., to Nellis Air Force Base, Nev. He was stopping at Tinker Air Force Base to refuel.

The pilot told Tinker his plane was on fire and he bailed out. The plane crashed two miles north of the base in suburban Midwest City, hitting in the backyard of Mrs. Foy Hurst, who was not at home. You Know, Ivan, It's Like Jazzy

MOSCOW (AP) — From now on jazz is in around here, man, but it's got to be Soviet style. You know, with melody, harmony, rhythm and all that stuff.

This is the word from the Soviet Union's leading "dzhaz" composer, Aleksander Tsfasman.

In an article in Izvestia, Tsfasman said he doesn't like the bad press jazz has been getting in Soviet newspapers.

"When do they mention jazz?" the composer asked. "Only when it appears as an accomplice to criminal offenses and leads dissolutes of the inner 'sweet life' to the defendant's bench."

Even in the movies, he complained, a positive hero is backed up with national songs and "for the negative one — jazz."

This has got to stop, Tsfasman said, adding: "Jazz has firmly entered into our daily life and has become an integral part of our musical culture."

He noted that in Russia more than 3,000 jazz bands are playing in various locales.

"No less important is the question of professional training," Tsfasman went on. He feels the time has come to open classes in music schools to train jazz band leaders, musicians and vocalists.

Sunny Hills, School Board Meeting Set

For the first time since they began wrangling several months ago, leaders of the San Anselmo School District Board and the Sunny Hills Presbyterian Orphanage will hold a joint meeting next Wednesday, San Anselmo Schools Supt. Stephen Parodi said today.

He said the full district board will meet with a committee from the orphanage at 2 p.m. at Sunny Hills over the orphanage's opposition to the district's plans to acquire Sunny Hills land for a new grade school.

After this joint meeting, the district leaders will adjourn and hold a meeting of their own at Isabelle Cook School, Parodi said.

In the battle of news releases between the two groups, Sunny Hills announced July 11 it had hired lawyers to fight any condemnation of its land.

The district meanwhile has sought to change the boundaries of its proposed school site so as not to include any of the land Sunny Hills seeks to have rezoned from single residential to commercial.

Last Monday night the San Anselmo Planning Commission delayed decision on Sunny Hills' request for a rezoning of Parcels 3 and 4, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue.

The planners scheduled a special meeting for Sept. 11 to discuss the Sunny Hills request further.

The school officials say Sunny Hills land is required because of "pressing need for another school site." E. T. Hermann, chairman of the Sunny Hills board, has said the orphanage might be forced out of business if a school is built on its property.

MERIT

things about the personnel system are out of date. He called for "modernization" in a letter of last March 30. This won support from Chairman William D. Fusselman. But Julius H. Selinger, head of the personnel commision, put up vigorous objections and the matter was dropped.

Bruce said that next week he intends to place the matter before the supervisors again. He expects to ask appointment of a special committee, including both Selinger and a representative of the department heads to go over the personnel system.

Selinger said he would cooperate in a new attempt at modernizing procedures.

Typical of special examinations currently being held was that for the newly created office of collector of delinquent county bills.

Miss Hughes held this examination last week. It attracted 50 applicants which preliminary screening cut to 25. These appeared for two days of oral examination. To handle this Miss Hughes brought in experts in the field—one from the state, one collector from another county, and Fred C. Robbins who has long run a well known collection agency in San Rafael. As a result, nine applicants were certified.

Bruce and Miss Hughes sometimes encounter vacancies that are hard to fill. At present they need a medical social worker to operate under County Physician Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., and a radio technician operator for the county communications department. Both jobs will be open at the end of this month but applicants of proper qualifications are so far lacking. Examinations of experience record is the chief procedure in such cases.

After the merit ordinance became effective in 1951 the Personnel Commission conducted examinations. But now it functions primarily as an appeal body. Its exact duties and functions may be among the matters tackled if and when "modernization" is undertaken.

Bruce's recommendations have included speeding up the recruiting and examination process, and making it more flexible; including field practice and other practical tests as far as possible; using examinations primarily for qualification and evaluation rather than ranking and several points giving more power to department heads.

One of Mountanous's objections was to the fact that a department chief is given five eligible names at a time rather than the whole list. Bruce thinks there is merit to this criticism though he says that some systems restrict appointment to the top three names.

Bruce has suggested that the department head needn't interview all those certified, also that use of promotional examinations might be optional.

He feels Mountanous was right in wanting to be present at examinations. Now the department head is barred.

One of Bruce's recommendations of last spring ran:

"Decisions as to recruiting methods, whether an examination is to be given, type of examination, weighing factors, timing, etc., should be made by the personnel director working with the department head, under the general supervision of the board of supervisors."

Of even more interest to department heads was:

"The right of department heads to manage their departments effectively and to dispense with unsatisfactory employees without undue harassment needs further strengthening. This may be accomplished by specifically placing the burden of proof on the employee in all appeal proceedings."

OSCAR
Wandering days end

Hub Lions' Lion Back Home Again

He and his partner, Benny, an identical lightweight metal lion, were out to advertise the Lions Club "white cane day" to raise funds for the blind. Benny, who sat in front of the San Anselmo fire house for the day, was left alone.

The club thought the theft had been only a "gag," perhaps by members of another club, reports Harry Brogioli, a past president of the group.

Yesterday two boys, about 12 or 13, told him they knew where the Oscar was. He had been stored in a San Anselmo garage, after having been heisted by older youths.

Brogioli declined to identify heisters, keeper or finders. The two young boys got $25 each for finding Oscar, who has returned to his home with Benny in the back yard of Brogioli's home, 324 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

Audubon Society Takes Option On Ranch Land

The Marin Audubon Society announced today it has taken a first option to buy the 500-acre Canyon Ranch on Shoreline Highway between Stinson Beach and Bolinas for $300,000.

William S. Picher, president, said the group seeks to acquire the land to provide a sanctuary for the large colony of great blue herons and American egrets which nest on the ranch and to create a recreation center for Marin young people's groups.

He said the society hopes within the three months of the option period to raise by donations and pledges sufficient funds to warrant its taking up the option from the present owners, the Tevis Land and Livestock Co. and Mrs. Suzanne de Tessan.

The society is receiving donations at P.O. Box 441, Tiburon, Picher said. He reported that in event the option is not taken up, all contributions will be returned to the donors.

"No other site in the county offers educational and recreational opportunities so diverse and rewarding as Canyon Ranch," Picher said. "Its proximity to Stinson Beach, Duxbury Reef, Bolinas Lagoon and to the trails and lakes of Tamalpais State Park make it ideal as a center for camping, hiking and swimming."

Picher added, "The ranch would also be a convenient overnight camping headquarters for groups visiting Stinson Beach State Park and the Point Reyes Seashore Area. Because of the varied terrain of the ranch and the diversity of the nearby coastline, it would provide an ideal center for nature study."

Officers Search For Suspect In Marin Stabbing

Sheriff's deputies searched today for a 50-year-old, six-foot, 170-pound laborer accused of stabbing a Marin City man with a four-inch knife in a vacated apartment for no apparent reason last night.

The wanted man was identified as Walter Lee.

Sheriff's Deputy H. E. Morgan said Lee is suspected of stabbing Ennis Bowie, 43, of 9 Cole Drive, Marin City, in Building B-2. Bowie said he could give no reason for the atttack unless it was because Lee had been drinking.

Bowie was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was treated for a wound in the right chest and pronounced in satisfactory condition today.

Bolinas Motor Traffic Discussed

Directors of Bolinas Community, Inc. had no official meeting last night for lack of a quorum but spent more than an hour discussing closing the beach to motor traffic.

Some 25 persons attended the meeting but only five directors of the seven needed for a quorum showed up, Jack B. Lowe, president, reported. Residents generally have agreed to closing both the Brighton and Wharf street beach entrances to cars, motorcycles, scooters and horses, Lowe said.

Directors are expected to take action at their Sept. 29 meeting and request the moves from the Marin Board of Supervisors.

Judge Brusatori Is Doing 'Better'

Marin Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori had a "better night" last night at San Rafael General Hospital where he has been confined since Aug. 7.

He was taken to the hospital after suffering what was termed a "mild" heart attack at his home. No visitors are yet allowed, hospital authorities reported.

BERLIN

tion" in the divided city must go and claimed the right to take control of the access routes—land, water and air—after Moscow signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

The State Department has no comment on Ulbricht's remarks. U.S. officials consider him only a Moscow puppet.

The Western ambassadorial group which has been conferring in Washington on the Berlin crisis had little trouble agreeing on a firm stand in their new note to Moscow. But the Allies are having more difficulty thrashing out an answer to another Soviet note.

This Soviet document, dated Aug. 3, spoke of negotiations for peaceful settlement of the German issue but did not retreat from proposals the West deems unacceptable. The West's problem: Whether to enter into negotiations with the Communists soon or hold off for a while.

France's President Charles de Gaulle has let it be known he sees no good in rushing into negotiations—not so long as the Russians continue their Berlin threats and show no willingness to modify their position.

The United States, Britain and West Germany lean toward early negotiations. They feel too much delay could allow the crisis to grow beyond the chance of peaceful settlement.

One possible high-level contact between the West and the Soviet Union could be at New York next month when the foreign ministers attend early sessions of the U.N. General Assembly's fall meeting.

U.S. authorities said no decision has been reached as to the time or place for negotiations.

The State Department booklet on Berlin published yesterday outlines, as Rusk put it, "our patient and persistent efforts to resolve the issues involved by peaceful means."

The 48-page booklet, containing photographs and maps, compares the two parts of Germany and says 16 million inhabitants of the Eastern zone are ruled by the Soviet Union "through its Communist creature, the East German regime which calls itself the German Democratic Republic."

"That regime," the pamphlet continues, "is neither democratic nor a republic. It was not chosen by the people it controls and has never been freely endorsed by them."

On the other hand, the government of West Berlin, states the booklet, "is the only freely elected government behind either the Iron or the Bamboo Curtains."

Wrong Trustee Named As Having Abstained

The Independent-Journal yesterday reported the Marin Junior College District board voted 4-to-0 Thursday night, with George G. Washburn abstaining, to approve continuation of the parent education program. This was in error.

The reporter's notes show Washburn voted with the majority and it was trustee Rupert E. Kempf who abstained.

The stately San Rafael home of the late Capt. Robert Dollar was the setting yesterday afternoon of a reception for his granddaughter, Heidi Hickingbothan, who will be a Winter Ball debutante in Berkeley Dec. 22. Here Heidi and her mother, Mrs. Joseph Hickingbotham Jr. stand in the drawing room, to greet the 400 guests, who later strolled through the dining room with its white chrysanthemum, daisy and carnation arrangements, and the terrace which was hung with a canopy for the party. An orchestra played background music. Heidi's white organdy dress was trimmed with yellow and white daisy embroidery and a green belt. Her mother chose yellow organza and her grandmother, Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont, greeted guests in a blue and yellow chiffon gown. Heidi was graduated from Dominican in June and will enter Briarcliff Junior College next month. MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

It's A Big Weekend At Lagunitas Club

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

This is the big weekend for Lagunitas Club members and their friends. The invitational mixed doubles tournament is being played on the courts today and the finals will be tomorrow. Tonight there will be an informal dinner dance at the club.

Several cocktail parties will precede it. One will be given at the Alexander McAndrews' home in Ross. Co-hosting the party with Mr. and Mrs. McAndrew are her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dibblee (Jennifer McCone) of Merced. Mrs. Dibblee and her two children are visiting here for the month of August. Her brother, Michael McCone, and his wife will come over from San Francisco for the party. Missed from the family group will be the Peter McAndrews who are vacationing for two weeks at Fallen Leaf.

Last night the houseguests of the McAndrews, Senator and Mrs. James Cobey and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Temple, all of Merced, arrived for the weekend, the party and the Lagunitas Club events.

Carl and Harriet Brown are giving a cocktail party before going on to the club tonight.

WHEN PINKIE POMEROY was honored at a tea Thursday by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Paul Case of Sausalito at the Century Club in San Francisco, three generations of a number of families were present. Taking turns pouring were Mrs. Cases' friends, Mesdames Samuel D. Archibald, Raymond Thayer, Wallace Scott, Frank Stratford, John Koenig, John Sutthoff, B. M. Brooks, George Egleston, Watt Long, Stephen Bechtel, William Waste, William Booth, E. Covington Pringle, the hostess' daughter, Mrs. David Plant, her daughter-in-law Mrs. John N. Pomeroy, and her niece, Mrs. John Dey, who is visiting here from Coral Gables, Fla. Assisting them were Mrs. E. M. Shelton and Mrs. Doremus Papworth and Pinkie's two 14 year old cousins, Ann Pomeroy and Susan Plant, and Mary Riley.

Pinkie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pomeroy of Sausalito, whose real name is Margaret will make her debut Dec. 28 in Spartanburg, S.C., her mother's former home and the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur F. Cleveland. Her parents will honor her at a dancing party Sept. 7 at Hazelmont, their Sausalito home: Pinkie, a graduate of Ashley Hall, Charleston, S.C., will be a sophomore at University of California, where she is an Alpha Phi this fall.

For the tea Pinkie wore a full skirted pink organza frock and held a small bouquet of garnet roses. Her mother wore a full skirted gown of cocoa brown chiffon over black. Mrs. Case was gowned in a Sophie model, black brocade background with deep red roses.

A REAL GESTURE of appreciation was made by Frank and Mary Baumgarten who returned Wednesday from a delightful three weeks cruise on an Italian cargo ship, Gallileo Ferraris. They enjoyed sight seeing at ports of call, the delicious meals aboard ship and their accommodations and particularly the friendliness of the young officers and crew. They talked about this on their way home from the ship which had docked on the Oakland side and decided that they were going to do something to show their appreciation.

Most of the young men would stay aboard ship, they knew, as they did not have money at the rate of exchange) to go sightseeing. So when they arrived at their home, Ridgeview Farm in Fairfax, they threw down their luggage and then Mary, driving one car and Frank the other, went back to the ship and invited eight of the officers to join them. They took them on the "grand tour" then up to their "farm" where the Italians were particularly interested in the stables and then over to Wally and Ida Scott's home on the Belvedere Lagoon. Ida wasn't home but Wally gave the visitors a warm welcome and then the sailors had a busman's holiday taking turns at sailing in Wally's boat. Then it was back to the ship to end the big day.

On the Galileo Ferraris the Baumgartens sailed to Vancouver, B.C. There they visited Sally and Dick St. John, formerly of Fairfax. They were also shown the sights in Tacoma by Sally's mother, Mrs. Joseph Gilpin, who has just built a new home. In Seattle Frank and Mary contacted the Daniel Warners formerly of Ross. Dan is now teaching at the University. Canadian friends also entertained the Baumgartens in Vancouver.

And was Frank surprised to meet in a Vancouver store Wally Hickman and Bill Waste, who with their spouses were on their way back from Jasper National Park. Frank and Mary stayed a couple of days at the Empress Hotel in Victoria and they cruised around Juan de Fuca Strait and stayed at Salt Spring Island, which they found delightfully quaint.

Now Mary is busy with preparations for the luncheon she will give Thursday in honor of Patricia James and Mary Campion, who will make their debut at the San Francisco Cotillion Dec. 27. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Balfour James of Ross. Mary, who has been traveling in Europe this summer, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Campion of San Francisco.

Cope Family Returns Home After Two Years In Geneva

The Caleb Copes and their daughters, Susan, 16, Sally, 12, and Molly, 9, have returned to Mill Valley after more than a two-year holiday in Geneva, Switzerland.

It wasn't exactly a holiday for the girls, for they attended the International School in Geneva, where there are students from 63 countries. They are now looking forward to returning to Dominican this fall.

Cope, an architect, and his wife, had more time to follow their own interests, and during school vacations the family covered 15 countries in western Europe.

"We were really able to see the countries," said Mrs. Cope, "because we drove everywhere in our own car, and all of us learned to speak French. We were particularly impressed with the chateau country on the Loire in France."

In Geneva Mrs. Cope became a member of the American Women's Club, which is international in scope, was on the committee for the American library and active in work with the guild of the "American Church."

"They called it the American Church," she explained, "though it was really Episcopal, because it was center of English speaking activities in the city."

Music is a major interest of the Copes and they were disappointed not to be able to attend music festivals, which did not occur during vacations. But they enjoyed the performances of the famous Orchestre de la Swisse Romande, and they were able to see the passion play at Oberammergau.

The family traveled both ways by ship, landing on the rerun journey at New York City, where they picked up a new car and drove home to Mill Valley. They are staying temporarily in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Aird of Mill Valley, who are in Europe.

Ladylike Season For Campus Coeds

This will be a ladylike season for campus belles.

Blouson and princess-style dresses in blues, reds, browns and yellows, solids and plaids are on the hangers of high school and college girls.

Show-the-arms may work its way into the after-sports wardrobe.

A fashion-minded girl may invest in some of the high-style fur trimmed or lined coat popular this season, hardly the dish-of-tea for limited budgets. Many have invested in big dramatic colorful capes and coats with enormous pockets.

Height will disappear in hair-dos gradually this fall, and by winter there could be a definite trend to flat top neat hairdos.

Sweaters are still long, but are smooth. Woolknits and mohair reflect the trend to casual rather than a careless look.

Pearls reflect the good taste that has come over young people.

UPSTON WEDDING IN EAST

Marie Andree Gignoux became the bride of John E. Upston Jr. last Saturday afternoon at the Cathedral Church of St. Luke in Portland, Me. The young couple is spending a wedding trip at the Gordon Tevis home in the Valley of the Moon while the Tevises are in Europe.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John E. Upston of Kentfield and the late Major General Upston. The bride's parents are Judge and Mrs. Edward T. Gignoux of Portland, Me.

Gwendolyn Patterson of Westport, Conn. was maid of honor, and other attendants were Corolan Poett of Hillsborough, Diane Hay of Cumberland Foreside, Me., Mary Maltby of Falmouth Foreside, Me., and Sandra Thaxter and Sara Pew of Portland, Me.

Thomas T. Mein of Woodside was best man for the bridegroom.

Ushers were Edward T. Gignoux Jr. of Cumberland Foreside, Me., Sidney W. Thaxter of Portland, Philip Gignoux of New York, Michael Rapuano, Buck's County, Pa.; and Gavin Scott of Montreal. James W. Aubrey of New York was the ringbearer.

Mrs. Sanborn Reports On Gold Star Home

Mrs. Henry R. Sanborn spoke on her visit to the Gold Star Mothers home in Long Beach following her visit there with Colonel Sanborn, who was attending the American Legion convention in Los Angeles in June. Mrs. Sanborn told the Marin Chapter how the home is run and of its facilities for retired couples when she spoke at the chapter's first fall meeting, held at the Novato home of Mrs. George Carpenter of Novato.

Honored guest of the chapter has been Mrs. Annetta Bumps of the San Antonio, Tex., chapter, who has been visiting in Marin for several weeks.

Peninsula Residents Vacation, Entertain

By CORENA GREEN

Mollie and Nancy Love of Belvedere made a one day round trip by air to New York just to have lunch with their father. This was just prior to Mollie's departure for Marin's Girl Scout Camp at Treasure Mountain. The two girls, with their younger sister Elizabeth, will return to New York shortly for a longer visit. They will be back home before school opens.

The David H. Walkers of Belvedere have just returned from several weeks in the south. In San Diego they rented a trailer and traveled down the Gulf Coast of Baja California to San Felipe, where they camped on the beach. Their itinerary also included a trip without the trailer down Baja California's west coast and a week in southern California visiting relatives.

Mrs. John Wylie of Belvedere entertained at a luncheon for her stepdaughter Lisa Wylie who is visiting from the east.

The William Kings who have been visiting the Frank Kings of Belvedere have returned to their home, in Panama City, Fla. The relationship between the two King families will someday cause a genealogist many a gray hair. William is Frank's father and Mrs. William King is Mrs. Frank's sister. This presents all sorts of interesting combinations of relationships. Mrs. Frank King's niece, Miss Patty Persons, has also been a visitor and has returned to Memphis.

Mrs. W. C. Witter and her son Jack have been to Tuolumne Meadows on a pack trip.

The Charles Blacks of Tiburon and their three children have been in Yosemite. Anne will soon return to the University of Cincinnati and Tony is off to San Jose State as a freshman.

The Donald Mitchells have moved from Little Reed heights to a new home in Del Mar Estates. A surprise cocktail party was given them by their old neighbors as a housewarming followed by dinner at Tiburon Tommie's.

The John Hoffmires also of Little Reed Heights are off to Lake Tahoe with their four boys including brand new Tommy. Also at Tahoe have been the Victor Banks of Hillhaven while their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Michell N. Abramson, Jr., have been touring the Pacific Northwest.

Off for Hawaii on Friday, for a week were the Lowell Airolas of Little Reed Heights. Other Tiburon residents now in the Islands are Susan De Berry and Janet Zeigler, who left last week with Janet's father, James Zeigler, for a two-weeks stay. While there they will visit Mr. and Mrs. James Crase, who have just returned there following a month visit with their daughter, Mrs. Harold Green of Tiburon and her family. When the Crases returned to the island they were accompanied by their granddaughter Elizabeth.

Houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stanton Jr. has been Wendy Donaldson. Wendy formerly lived in Tiburon with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donaldson who moved to New York. The Donaldsons have since moved to Dallas.

Other vacationers are the Raymond Menzels and their five children, who have been camping up the Pacific Coast; the Al Smetanas and their four girls, who are driving to the east coast to visit relatives; the Carl Coombes, who with family and boat are at Meeks Bay, and Mrs. Thomas Drohan and her children have been staying at her family's ranch near Sonora.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Errors Often Come To Light When Playing In Tournament

Many a slip goes unnoticed in ordinary rubber bridge that would come to light if the hand were played in a tournament.

When this hand was played in a tournament, recently, twelve declarers made four notrump on the South hand. The thirteenth declarer was unlucky enough to go down at three.

The play went very quickly at twelve of the tables. South won the first trick with the queen of hearts and led a spade to finesse with dummy's ten. This enabled him to try a club finesse.

South led another low spade to dummy's jack and took a second club. Then he got to dummy with the ace of spades for a third club finesse. By this time he could lead out the ace of clubs to capture East's king. Five clubs, three spades, one heart and one diamond gave the declarer the first ten tricks.

SOMETHING WRONG: Have you spotted the slip? Something went wrong at the first twelve tables, but nobody noticed it. It came to light when some of the players asked what happened at the thirteenth table.

It was very simple. South won the first heart, led a spade to dummy's ten and tried a club finesse. Then South led another low spade, just as all the other declarers had.

West could see what was going on, so he put up the king of spades on the second round of that suit. Declarer could still win three spade tricks, but he could win only two of them in dummy. That meant he could take only two club finesses. Down one.

This is one of the reasons for trying duplicate bridge, if you haven't already done so. You learn from everybody else's good and bad plays, as well as from your own.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

Answer: Bid one notrump. You would bid one diamond in response to one club, but your hand is not strong enough for a response of two diamonds.

Marin Blood Center Short 30 Pints

The Marin Blood Center, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, reported today it is short 30 pints after a heavy drain by a San Anselmo man who received 64 transfusions following two major operations in a local hospital. He was in the hospital seven weeks.

George Solini, 37 Sunnyside Avenue, San Anselmo, went home Wednesday after the surgery, the center said. Friends and relatives donated about 25 pints to his credit. Blood donated may be given in Solini's name, the center said.

The center receives donations Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Music Scholarships Awarded Marinites

Five music scholarship awards, instead of the expected four, were announced today by the Marin Music Chest.

Four instrumentalists—three girls and a boy—were named winners following auditions held for 16 contenders between 14 and 19 years old at Angelico Hall of Dominican College. But so impressed were the judges by the performance of a 15-year-old vocalist that a fifth scholarship was made available late yesterday by Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain, Mrs. Raymond Thayer and Mrs. Samuel Archibald to award to her, announced Mrs. Archibald, who is Music Chest president.

The five winners are: Kathleen Winslow, 14, pianist; Sharon Johnson, 15, violinist; Mary Hall, 17, pianist; Russell Taylor, 15, organist, and Jan McCready, 15, vocalist.

Miss Winslow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Winslow of Tiburon. She is a sophomore at Katharine Branson School in Ross and has studied piano five years. Her present teacher is Mrs. Inga Cohelan of Fairfax.

Sharon is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Johnson of San Rafael and is a junior at San Rafael High School. She is concert-mistress of the high school orchestra and Marin Youth Orchestra. Sharon is studying with Carol Weston of San Francisco. Her ambition is to get a music scholarship to Stanford University when she graduates from San Rafael High.

Mary is a daughter of Dr. Byron Hall of Belvedere and Mrs. Elizabeth Hall of Kentfield. She is a student at Katharine Branson School in Ross, entering her senior year. Her interest other than music is in dramatics, and her ambition is to make music her career. Miss Hall is studying music with Faith France of Ross.

Russell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Taylor of Mill Valley. He has studied organ for four years, and also is an accomplished pianist. Russell is a sophomore at Marin Catholic High School.

Jan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland M. McCready of Stinson Beach, is a soprano, and has studied voice for three years. Her present teacher is Bella Resek of Mill Valley. The young singer is a junior at Tamalpais High School, is a member of the high school choir and has appeared in four school productions: "Brigadoon," "The Tender Land," "Pajama Game" and "Amahl and the Night Visitors." She is interested also in dramatics.

"With so much talent to select from, it was difficult to make a choice," Mrs. Archibald said.

The winners will be introduced to the public during intermission at the closing concert of the season, Sept. 10 at 8:30 p.m. in Forest Meadows, San Rafael, featuring Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers.

Roofer Found Guilty Of Bilking Sisters

A Sacramento roofer was found guilty yesterday of trying to cheat two elderly San Anselmo sisters of about $800 last May.

A jury of seven women and five men found Vernon G. Lawson, 24, guilty of attempted grand theft. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court set Monday morning for sentencing.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales put Josepha Daniel, 82, and Emma Daniel, 85, on the witness stand, but neither was able to identify Lawson as the man who came to repair their home and tried to get $800 from them. Bales, however, produced a check for $800, written by Josepha Daniel, which Lawson had tried to cash.

The two sisters live at 101 Ross Avenue in San Anselmo.

Lawson, defended by Harold Hayes, contended that the Daniel sisters had contracted with him to repair and repaint the entire house for $800. He alleged that it was a legitimate contract, and he had no intention of taking money from anyone.

The jurors deliberated for more than five hours before ruling against Lawson.

Opening Delayed At Kindergarten

West Marin School kindergarten will not get under way for about three weeks after the Sept. 5 opening of school, Supt. George B. Stratton said today.

Construction of new rooms at the school will not be completed until that time, Stratton said.

Parents may register new pupils every day from 1 to 4 p.m. at the West Marin School. Registration for the Inverness School will be on Aug. 31 from 1 to 4 p.m., Stratton said.

Bids To Be Advertised For Widening Of Span

Advertising for bids on the $1,200,000 widening program for the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge should start in about a week, the general manager reported yesterday.

The job was to have been put out to bids some time ago, but the U.S. Army, which controls the land on which the bridge sits, interjected a number of requirements the bridge district was forced to accept.

The general manager, James Adam, said working plans and specifications including the desired Army changes, will be completed next week and turned over to the military authorities. Simultaneously bids will be advertised.

"We should have the Army's approval before the deadline for signing a contract with the winning bidder," Adam noted.

He asked and received from the bridge directors $3,000 with which to pay for special engineering services needed in connection with the Army's wiring requirements.

The directors yesterday also:

1. Heard a report that a proposal of the State Highway Department to build a roadway so that motorists could drive from south-bound lanes under the bridge to Vista Point, would cost $264,000, of which the state would pay only $40,000. An alternative would be a 20 to 25 car parking area on the west side of the bridge costing $40,000, which the state would pay for entirely.

2. Authorized advertising for bids for a new tow truck and a new tower truck.

3. Received a report from California Highway Patrol Capt. T. F. Parnow that 1,176 citations were issued on bridge approaches from Jan. 1 to June 30 for "accident causing violations" and an additional 250 arrests made for non-moving violations, as well as "many thousands of driver contacts made where a verbal warning or notice of Vehicle Code violation were issued."

4. Referred to the building and operating committee a proposal by Pacific Productions, Inc., of San Francisco that a motion picture of bridge operations be made in connection with the Silver Anniversary of the bridge in May next year.

Hamilton Team In Competition

A team of fighter pilots, radar observers and ground crews from the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base will compete Oct. 23-Nov. 2 for top Air Force flying awards.

The "William Tell" competition at Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida will be used to pick the outstanding units in the air defense command from 13 picked teams competing from world-wide U.S. installations.

Air crews, guided by radar teams from the ground will fly high and low-level daylight and night missions. The F-101 jets from the base will fire air-to-air rockets and missiles at jet drone planes.

Crusade Leaders To Tour School

Leaders in this fall's United Crusade campaign, including department chairman of Pacific Telephone's employee drive, will visit St. Vincent's School for Boys near San Rafael at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday.

After touring the school the group will hear reports from representatives of two other Crusade agencies, the Legal Aid Society and the Marin Chapter of the Red Cross.

ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Aug. 26, the 238th day of the year with 127 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1873, Dr. Lee De Forest, whose invention of the three element vacuum tube made modern electronics technology possible, was born.

In 1883, the great volcano at Krakatoa in the Netherlands East Indies began to erupt. It destroyed two thirds of the island and an estimated 36,000 persons lost their lives.

In 1920, the secretary of state declared the 19th amendment to the Constitution, providing for suffrage for women, operative.

In 1948, Mildred Gillars, known to thousands of American soldiers as "Axis Sally" was flown to the United States from Berlin to face charges of espionage and treason.

A thought for today: German philosopher Immanuel Kant said: "Man should not allow himself to be governed by his feelings and inclinations, but by reason." .

SAIL HO, SAIL HIGH

Clipper Yacht Harbor salesman Ken Underwood has found a new use for the old Marinship ferry pier. Whenever a prospective boat buyer has rigging trouble, Underwood goes into his aerial act, climbs to the top of the ancient pilings and goes to work on the rigging. He is doing so here for prospect Bob Baum, of Sausalito, while an appreciative audience watches his daredevil tactics. Marin artists have also found good use for the ferry slip at Clipper. They have painted it from all angles and under all conditions and art classes regularly use the picturesque structure for class assignments, according to Clipper Yacht Harbor operator Shirley Morgan. Stoneham Insisted On Regular Lineup

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Short steps along the sports trail:

THE SAN FRANCISCO Giants' recent rise to pennant contention in the National League followed closely Horace Stoneham's insistence that Alvin Dark stop his Stengel-like platooning and put some semblance of a "set lineup" on the field from day to day.

When President George Weiss of the New York Mets was general manager of the New York Yankees, he once made this acid inquiry about widely publicized trader Frank Lane: "How many pennants has he won?" his listener replied: "None." Apparently Charlie Finley thought the same thing.

It's a shame the Boston Red Sox can't play all their games at home. They won 14 of their last 17 at friendly Fenway Park but recently lost nine of 10 road games.

NOW THAT Rod Laver and Roy Emerson of Australia have unexpectedly decided to compete in the national singles championships at Forest Hills next month, it seems our title may remain abroad for another year. Tony Trabert was the last United States' player to take the crown, back in 1955. Laver's acceptance Thursday made him the automatic favorite to add our title to his Wimbledon championship. Laver lost to fellow-Aussie Neale Fraser in our 1960 final.

ELSTON HOWARD, catcher of the New York Yankees, made his comment on his race for the American League batting title with Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers: "We're in our own little world. Once a week people take time out from the home run race to inquire what we're doing."

However, despite the home run furor, it's been a great season for pitchers. Joey Jay (18-8) needs five victories to achieve the biggest winning season by a Cincinnati flinger since Bucky Walters had a 23-8 record in 1944. Frank Lary (19-6) requires three wins to be the top Detroit Tiger hurler since Hal Newhouser's 26-9 in '45. Whitey Ford (21-3) needs one more triumph to be the New York Yankees' best winner since Lefty Gomez' 26-5 in '34.

CARL BRAUN, who will resume his playing career with the Boston basketball Celtics next season, says he once tried to use an arm-grab defense on Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors' seven-foot center. "But," says Carl, "Wilt just carried me right off my feet and up into the air. He took me so high, I got scared and let go in a hurry."

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates says the "human element" is the big difference between his world championship team of 1960 and his faltering Bucs this season. The players' averages are pretty close to those of 1960, but that doesn't mean a thing, he says. "It's when they hit safely," he explains, "and when they make the big play in the field that is the difference between a first-place team and a fifth-place outfit."

Football Contests Slated For Novato, Hamilton Youths

A pass-punt-kick competition for Novato and Hamilton Field Air Force Base boys will be held early in October in Novato, it was announced today.

Boys aged 6 through 10 may register from Monday through Sept. 25 at the L. J. Dervin Ford Co., 7401 Redwood Highway, Novato. The company is sponsoring the local tournament; the Ford Motor Co. sponsors the competition nationally.

The five winners in each age group in the local contest will win football uniforms; the five boys placing second will win warm up jackets and the third place winners will receive footballs.

Winners of the Novato competition may go on for regional and national competition. Five national winners and their fathers will see the National Football League championship game and attend a White House reception.

Exact date and site of the Novato competition has not yet been decided.

49ers Seek First Victory Against Vikings Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers and rookie Minnesota Vikings square off tonight with each club seeking its first win of the National Football League exhibition season.

Both clubs have dropped a pair of contests, but the 49ers have been the more impressive thus far. That's understandable, however, as the Vikings are beginning their first season as an NFL franchise.

A full house of approximately 29,000 is expected to watch the contest, largely because Norm Van Brocklin, current Viking coach and former NFL quarterback star, and Minnesota quarterback George Shaw both hail locally. Van Brocklin starred for the University of Oregon and Shaw grew up in Portland.

GAME ON TELEVISION
KTVU (Channel 2) will televise tonight's 49er-Viking game starting at 8:15

Three ex-49ers are now in the Viking fold. Halfback Hugh McElhenny heads the list, along with linebackers Clancy Osborne and Karl Rubke. All three are expected to start.

Forty-Niner Coach Red Hickey planned to go with John Brodie again at quarterback, with C. R. Roberts at fullback, and J. D. Smith and R. C. Owens at tight backs. Rookie end Bernie Casey will open in place of injured veteran Clyde Conner.

Defensive tackle Lou Cordileone, acquired from the New York Giants for veteran quarterback Y. A. Tittle, will start his first game for San Francisco.

Three 49ers, fullback Bill Cooper, kicker Tommy Davis and back Jim Johnson will miss action due to injuries.

San Francisco has been edged by the New York Giants, 21-20, and the Cleveland Browns, 27-24, while Minnesota has dropped contests to Dallas, 38-13, and Baltimore, 13-3.

Babe 'Trails' Maris By Only 10 Games

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Babe Ruth, always a guy to rise to a challenge, now is only 10 games behind Roger Maris. And he's within four of Mickey Mantle.

With tongue in cheek, that's the way the three Yankee sluggers stand in their battle for the home-run record after Maris and Mantle again failed to add to their totals last night in New York's 3-0 victory at Kansas City.

Maris, who hasn't connected in three games, still has 50 after going 0-for-3 against left-hander Jim Archer of the A's in the Yanks' 128th game of the season. Mantle had two hits, both singles, in four trips against Archer and right-handed reliever Bill Fischer, leaving his home-run count at 46. He had belted just one in 12 games.

Ruth hit his 46th in game No. 132 and his 50th in game No. 138 en route to his record 60 in 1927.

Despite the lack of home runs, the Yankees held to a two-game lead in the American League race behind the five-hit pitching of Ralph Terry. Second-place Detroit won 6-0 at Washington in a game held to eight innings by rain, as Jim Bunning checked the Senators on two singles for the Tigers' second straight shutout success and seventh victory in eight games.

Third-place Baltimore beat Minnesota 5-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 3-2 in a battle for fourth place, and Boston won 12-6 at Los Angeles, peppering the Angels with four home runs.

The Yankees broke a scoreless duel after Archer (8-10) hit Maris with a pitch leading off the fourth inning. Maris scooted to second on Mantle's fly to deep left and then came in on Bill Skowron's single. The other two runs came in the ninth on singles by Mantle, Elston Howard, pinch-hitter Yogi Berra and Terry, who won his sixth in a row for an 11-1 record. Terry has a string of 22 scoreless innings.

Bunning (15-9), a lean right-hander, didn't allow a hit for 6⅓ innings at Washington, then gave up singles by Gene Woodling and Willie Tasby in the seventh for the second two-hitter of his major league career.

Tiburon '9' Hosts Jeffs Tomorrow; S.A. Plays Lodi

San Francisco Jeffersons, oldest semi-professional baseball organization in northern California, make their annual trek to Marin County tomorrow to battle the Tiburon Pelicans at Tiburon's Judge Field, 2:30 p.m.

Tiburon, with an 8-7 won-lost record on the season, probably will start righthander Buzz Wensloff on the mound with veteran lefty Fred DeMartini in relief.

Elsewhere tomorrow the Ongaro Plumbers of San Anselmo play host to the Lodi Bears at 1:30 p.m., Memorial Park in the Hub City.

Moonstruck Giants Eclipsed; Defensive Failures Blamed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ever hear that an eclipse of the moon is a bad omen.

The San Francisco Giants hope it's just superstition, because they and the moon were overshadowed last night. The streak-happy St. Louis Cardinals won 7-3 in their fifth straight and 10th in a row at home.

As the eclipse took place, some unnatural lunacies occurred on the playing field. The Giants came up with three errors, a wild pitch and a passed ball to give 20-year-old Ray Sadecki his 12th win against six losses. It was Billy O'Dell's fifth loss against four victories.

Despite their second straight setback the Giants remain five games behind the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Cards scored twice in the first inning. Outfielder Charley James hit a soft one near O'Dell and beat the pitcher to first.

James stole second and made it to third on an overthrow by Giant catcher John Orsino. He made it home on a single by Bill White. Ken Boyer had walked and a single by Don Taussig scored him to make it 2-0.

The four-run Cardinal fourth was too much for O'Dell, who was replaced by Sad Sam Jones.

CEPEDA ERROR

Pitcher Sadecki singled to right field but Orlando Cepeda lost the ball for an error and eventually threw to the plate. His throw was made worse by a Willie McCovey deflection and the situation worsened when Orsino missed the ball and Schaffer came home.

Sadecki went to third and O'Dell went to the clubhouse. Jones threw a wild pitch and Sadecki crossed the plate. The Cards put the seventh one across in the seventh. Sad Sam was taken out in the seventh and replaced by Bob Bolin.

Giant scoring came in the top of the fourth and in the eighth. Willie Mays clouted a triple and was brought in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda in the fourth.

In the eighth Eddie Bressoud walked, Joe Amalfitano singled and Jim Davenport hit a run-making double. Mays hit a grounder that made the Giants' third and final run.

Giant hurler Mike McCormick (10-12) faced Bob Gibson (8-10) today.

Old Pro Duke Helps Bums Snap Tailspin

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers' 10-game losing string is a thing of the past, and it was Duke Snider, their old power guy of the past, who shook them free of the slump.

The Duke, playing despite the pain of a chronic bum knee, capped a two-run inning with a triple and then hit a home run for the clincher in the third as the Dodgers clubbed first-place Cincinnati 7-2 in the opener of a four-game showdown with the Reds last night.

Oddly, the victory put second-place Dodgers within 2½ games of the Reds in the National League race — exactly where they were when they started the losing string Aug. 14.

San Francisco, in third place, stayed five games behind as the Giants, after winning six straight, lost their second in a row, 7-3, at St. Louis. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 1-0, and Milwaukee and Philadelphia split 9-4 decisions in a twi-night pair.

PURKY SHELLED

Snider's slugging, making up for an 0-for-4 performance when he was moved into the lineup by Manager Walt Alston Thursday night, was matched by a pair of home runs by Frank Howard in the Dodgers' 11-hit assault on Bob Purkey (14-9) and two relievers.

Jones 13-5 Pick Over Clay On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Doug Jones (18-0) takes on Von Clay for the third time tonight and is the 13-5 choice to run his record in their personal rivalry to three-for-three.

The Madison Square Garden 10-rounder will be nationally televised by ABC starting at 7 p.m., PDT.

Jones, a New Yorker, won close decisions over Clay, of Philadelphia, twice last year at St. Nicholas Arena. Both are light heavyweights but the contract calls for both to come in over the 175-pound limit.

Jones, 24, is ranked as the No. 2 challenger for the New York-Massachusetts-Europe share of the lightheavy title, while the 22-year-old Clay is No. 5.

Hapless Rams Routed; Waterfield Mystified

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sometimes it is better to let things remain a mystery.

For instance, Coach Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams said last week he hoped to find out what type of team he had when it met the Cleveland Browns last night. You can bet now Waterfield wishes he didn't know.

Waterfield learned the awful truth as the Browns manhandled Los Angeles offensively and defensively to win their National Football League exhibition battle, 34-17, before 40,086 stunned fans at the Coliseum.

The Rams' offensive wall, which looked somewhat improved in two earlier pre-season games, appeared as hapless as ever. Even Waterfield was somewhat shocked by the team's inability to mount any type of offensive drive.

"Certainly we haven't played that bad in our previous games?" he questioned slowly. "We'll have to hope for improvement."

Waterfield then said what had already become evident to anyone in the Coliseum as he added, "we didn't block for our passers in the second half."

Indeed the Rams didn't, and they let a 10-7 halftime margin turn into a 34-10 Cleveland lead in the fourth quarter.

The Los Angeles defenses, which had showed strength in the club's first two outings, also fell apart before the likes of rambling Jim Brown and precision passer Milt Plum.

Football player Brown, whom Coach Paul Brown in the understatement of the year called "a good back," bashed for two touchdowns. Plum tossed scoring passes of 43 and 30 yards apiece to Leon Clarke and rookie Bob Crespino respectively.

Raiders Play In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The team that never has lost an exhibition football game, the San Diego Chargers, tries to keep its perfect record intact tomorrow when it hosts the Oakland Raiders in a pre-season American Football League battle at Balboa Stadium.

The Chargers, who didn't drop an exhibition game during their first year of operation last season in Los Angeles, are 2-0 during 1961 following two wins over the AFL champion Houston Oilers.

Looking for their first 1961 win, the Raiders open with a backfield that's been collected mostly from the University of Pacific at Stockton about 60 miles away. Quarterback Tom Flores, and halfbacks Jack Larscheid and Herman Urenda all hail from UOP.

Michigan Team Wins Pony World Series

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Hamtramck, Mich., reigns today as champs in Pony League baseball.

The team edged San Antonio 2-1 in 10 innings last night in the finals of the league's World Series.

Reg Ferrebee singled home both Hamtramck runs, one in the sixth that tied the game 1-1 and the other in the 10th.

Pastors Establish Systematic Visitation At Marin, San Rafael General Hospitals

A regular Protestant pastor is now assigned to be chaplain of the week at two Marin hospitals.

The Protestant Hospital Chaplains of Marin County systematically serve Marin General Hospital and this month started a program of calling at San Rafael General Hospital. Protestant chaplain service by ordained ministers at both Ross and Novato general hospitals is on an irregular schedule, and those hospitals are served mostly at patients' requests.

Catholic patients are called upon by priests from parishes near all Marin's hospitals. Schedules vary. At Ross a priest was reported by business manager Maxine Ferriario to call at least once a week from St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Mrs. Patricia Leonard, superintendent at San Rafael General said a priest from St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael calls daily, usually it is Rev. John Patroni, assistant pastor. Marin General has no regular schedule of priest visitation, said attendants.

At all the hospitals the priests are given a list of patients that are Catholic and then visit each patient who may have visitors. A specific minister of any faith is, of course, called at a patient's request.

The Protestant Chaplain's new service at San Rafael General was started by the organization's pastor - officers; Rev. Gearl S. Moyer of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madara (president); Rev. George F. Walker of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Tiburon (vice president), and Rev. Donald H. Baldwin of the Methodist Church of San Rafael (secretary.)

Some 20 other Marin pastors of almost all denominations are in the organization which schedules two pastors as "chaplain of the week," one for Marin General, and the other for San Rafael General. This week the chaplain at Marin is Rev. Harold Bonner of the Church of the Nazarine in San Anselmo; at San Rafael General it is Rev. Wallace Hough of the First Baptist Church of San Rafael.

Each chaplain wears a chaplain name-plate and cross in his lapel. He also consults a patient's file. The pastor's work in co-ordination with the hospital's volunteer workers. He is asked by the group to notify the pastor of the church of which a patient is a member. Tuesdays and Fridays are designated for calling.

Ross Hospital does have student ministers who visit as part of their required field work at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. They come about twice a week during the academic year, said Mrs. Ferriario.

Attendants at all the hospitals reported some religious reading materials are in their libraries for patients. Also the Marin County Library will mail patients who are members, any books or periodicals on religion, or any other subject it has. Volunteer workers may check out books for patients, said Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian.

Staff and patients at the hospitals as well as the chaplains and priests realize that the hospitals are non-sectarian, and in the words of San Rafael General administrator John H. Prescott, "patients, medical staff and personnel represent and respect all religions."

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal Bishop of California, will take part in tomorrow's 10 a.m. services at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere, announced John H. Davis, senior warden.

The service was to be the last conducted at the parish by the Rev. E. John Mohr, who has resigned as rector to take a new position with the national church office in New York.

Father Mohr, however, was yesterday reported ill at Ross General Hospital, and may not be well enough to conduct the services. Bishop Pike will nevertheless attend, reported Mrs. Ann Booze, publicity director for the church.

Economists, Financial Experts Debate Employment Future

WASHINGTON—The President's two messages, which were given to Congress last week, call for additional government spending and government investment. Accom-

It would be fair to say, I think, that the President's

First Day Of School Exciting And Fun If Child Is Unafraid

Remember the thrill of your first day at school? There's never been another day like it, has there?

Do you have a child who will start school this fall? He'll be just as excited as you were. Do everything possible to make his first day a success. Go to school with him the opening morning. His teacher may not welcome you. That's okay. Just smile, and stay there. If your little one needs you, don't leave. The inconvenience to his teacher will be less important than his emotional welfare.

Stay at the back of the room. Say nothing. Do nothing. Just be where he can see you. After a while he'll feel safer. He can tell you when he no longer needs you. Then you can leave. But don't let him feel he's been deserted.

Is he ready for school? Does he know which room he'll be in? Where the restrooms are? How to find and use the playground? How to get to and from school safely? Has he had a good physical exam? Are you sure his eyesight is normal? And his hearing? Is he happy about school, and anxious to begin?

Remember this. If he makes a good start, he's set for a successful school career. If he makes a bad start, he may have lasting trouble. And the first day is the most important one of all.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I phoned my daughter's first grade teacher. I asked if my girl could meet her before the opening of school. She seemed offended, and told me not to bring her. Dr. Barbour, didn't you advise parents to have their first graders meet their teachers in advance?"

(A) Yes, I did. I'm sorry your teacher responded that way. Sensitive teachers know that starting school is a great step, often difficult, They realize that prior acquaintance with the teacher can help. Some teachers spend the week before school starts calling on the homes of their new students. I think all first grade teachers should do that, and be paid for it.

OPENING DOORS NO PROBLEMS

Billy O'Brien, 6, can't use either hand since he fell from a tree several weeks ago and broke both wrists. Federal Tax Policies Will Remain The Same

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncertainties may pile up daily in this and that part of the globe but one thing businessmen can now be sure of: Federal tax policies will be about the same for another year.

This can affect some business planning, many tax returns, and also the hopes of the U. S. Treasury in holding down a prospective deficit that seems to grow and grow.

Businessmen who were eyeing some tax relief as an incentive for expanding their plants can forget it. There won't be any special help that way this year.

Those who were fearing a crackdown on expense spending as one of the pleasanter ways of doing business can relax. Congress has put all that over until next year, if then. And the same goes for the withholding at source of taxes on interest and dividend payments.

Those who are bemoaning the chance of losing present partial deductions of dividends from taxable income also can relax. That, too, has gone by the board.

The Internal Revenue Service may tighten up its scrutiny of returns and could be a little less lenient in allowing deductions, but changes along that line are a normal uncertainty in doing business.

True, the tax changes that President John F. Kennedy proposed early in the year had been running into increased opposition, and the final decision to postpone such revisions wasn't exactly unexpected.

But at least now business can plan along one line instead of having to set up alternates.

The biggest change in plans may come for those who were expecting to expand activities next year.

Most such expansion was probably based on indications that a general economic upswing is fairly certain. But the chance the proposed tax bill held out of getting some tax deductions doubtless will make a difference in some marginal cases.

The Democratic majority on the House Ways and Means Committee has promised to take up this proposal as the first order of business in 1962.

Such tax relief would cut into Treasury receipts, but the Treasury had counted on getting that much and more back from other provisions of the shelved bill. In addition to the withholding tax on dividends and some kinds of interest payments, and tighter rules on business expense accounts, the tax-raising proposals included a controversial tighter tax treatment of some income earned abroad.

How much the loss of this prospective take will cut from anticipated Treasury receipts is open to debate. But the Treasury now is looking to another source of increased revenue anyway.

That is the extra take it expects to come from present corporate and individual income taxes due to the expected surge in economic activity.

Barber Shop Style Singing Contest

Fifty members of the Marin Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will compete in the Northern California elimination in Alameda High School auditorium Sept. 9.

They will sing against more than a dozen other groups for the right to represent the area in the far western contest in San Diego next October. Winners of that contest will sing in the international competition in Kansas City next summer.

The chapter said tickets for the Alameda event may be obtained from Ed McKinney, 1023 E Street, San Rafael, or at the auditorium.

Hub Rotary Speech

Norman C. DeLaittre, governor of Rotary International District 513, will speak before the San Anselmo Rotary Club on Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the Legion Log Cabin.

Treasurer Should Urge Canada Visits

OTTAWA (UPI)—If U. S. Treasurer Elizabeth Rudel Smith wants more public support for her "colored money" campaign, she might encourage her fellow countrymen to visit Canada.

Contact with this country's multi-color currency seems to sell Americans on the idea.

A survey of U. S. visitors to Parliament Hill showed almost unanimous support for the Canadian system of printing each denomination on different colored paper. Even those who vetoed the idea for the United States did so no grounds of economy and not out of preference for their present one-color system.

The prime reason behind the conversion of most tourists to "colored money" appears to be the very point emphasized by Mrs. Smith—easier identification. Many of them also agreed with her that the varied colors produce a more attractive product.

"I think it would be wonderful to change to the Canadian system," said Clifford Eynon of Harbor Beach, Mich. "It certainly makes it easier to tell them apart."

"I think it's a real good idea," echoed Joseph Marion of Scipio Center, N. Y. "I'm all for it."

"I find it easier to make mistakes with our bills," added Joseph Sczipucha of Jersey City, N. J. "It sure would be helpful to have each denomination a different color."

Qualified opposition to Mrs. Smith's campaign came from Robert Hicks of Lancaster, Pa.

"I've found Canadian money more attractive and a bit easier to tell apart, but I don't think it would be worth all the trouble to change ours," he said.

Latest word from Washington indicated that the administration sides with Hicks. Mrs. Smith said this week after a meeting with Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon that her proposal had been "deferred."

Mrs. Smith, a National Democratic Committeewoman, lives in Kentfield.

Like It Or Not, Californians Must Think Of Whole State

Sometimes, when we Californians start fighting over water, smog, climate, tourists, anything, we forget that we are one state, vitally connected by economy, laws, government, association and many other things although physically partially divided in two by the Tehachapi Mountains.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown in a speech this week in National City brought the spotlight immediately to bear on our togetherness.

"We must never forget," he declared, "that our large volume of internal trade causes changes in one part of California to be quickly felt throughout the state's economy.

"In short, all Californians are in the same economic boat. In manufacturing alone, some 28,000 jobs are created in the Los Angeles-Long Beach Area because San Francisco Bay Area customers buy more Los Angeles products than San Franciscans sell in Los Angeles. If that demand should drop in San Francisco, unemployment would soon occur in Los Angeles."

We recall, too, recent studies of highway travel which showed that more than 50 per cent of the tourists coming into Redwood Empire state parks were from Southern California. These people are able to bring a flood of new money into our area because their part of the state is prospering.

As the governor pointed out, nearly half of all civilian jobs in California are created to supply private customers in California.

It is these economic facts of life which we sometimes forget when we get into arguments about who gets water where or how much of the state gas tax should go North or South.

We can't write off Southern California, much as we might sometimes feel like it. They can't afford to be without us. We, in fact, are a team working together in the fastest growing, soon-to-be the largest state in the Union.

We can reach our objectives sooner if we minimize the fact that we're from the North and they're from the South and work together for the best of everyone, for if it's good for them, it's good for us too.

A Free Fishing Hint

Although we enjoy the sport, we have never posed as fishing experts. But recently a friend who is an encyclopedia of fish lore gave us a tip to pass on to our readers. He considers it the secret of hot weather fishing.

Fish are like people, says this gentleman. Especially trout. During hot weather they lose their appetite. Therefore, they pass up big chunks of bait like a fellow turning down his third potato.

What the fish want is a snack, not a full course dinner. Keep the treat small and take home a big catch.

So says our friend.

Bouquets And Brickbats

BOUQUETS to the Marin Industrial Development Foundation for taking a constructive approach to the San Rafael tunnel abandonment and seeking outside, impartial investigation by the State Public Utilities Commission on repair costs and to San Rafael City Council for calling a meeting next Wednesday to discuss the problem.

A BRICKBAT to Doherty Drive, Larkspur, for not staying where the engineers put it.

A BOUQUET to Louis Joseph Oliver of Black Point on his 106th birthday last week.

A BOUQUET to Marin Shakespeare Festival and its director John Brebner for the six weekends of "Midsummer Night's Dream" which awakened Marin County to The Bard. Many children saw Shakespeare for the first time and at least one we know of, changed her school major from homemaking to dramatics as a result of seeing the show.

BRICKBATS to the supervisorial majority who succeeded in cutting the county tax rate 7 cents by putting off paying a civic center bill until next fiscal year and manipulating the unappropriated reserve fund.

ROBBERS ARE NOT EASILY DECEIVED

Thieves couldn't quite believe the following notice posted outside a factory in Bristol, England:

"Do not waste your time and energy breaking into these premises. We bank all cash daily. No cash is left on the premises overnight."

Despite the tip, the burglars decided to break into the factory anyhow and their determination paid off. They found $196 in cash in the safe.

Those who specialize in evil seldom take anything for granted. They are not easily deflected from the pursuit of any goal they feel will result in their advantage.

Persons on the side of truth and justice should certainly not be any less persistent and painstaking. They should leave no stone unturned in achieving their objectives.

Don't let the Devil tempt you to be complacent. If you show as much enterprise on behalf of God's truth as others do in the spread of iniquity, you are bound to exert an influence for good.

(Luke 16:8)

Instill in me, O Holy Spirit, a determination to push on despite all obstacles.

Chester Bowles Has Been Quietly Divested Of Authority, Responsibility

WASHINGTON — That storm-tossed problem, the present place and future role of Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles, has now been solved by a decidedly singular, quite conspicuously unannounced compromise.

To permit more orderly management of the State Department, Bowles has been quietly stripped of most of the customary policy-making authority and administrative responsibility of the principal Under Secretary of State. The Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, George Ball, has been given the responsibility and authority thus taken away from Bowles.

To satisfy Bowles, meanwhile, he has been left with his title and all its superficial perquisites. He has also been given a general commission to think large thoughts, on the ground that he is a good idea-man. And he may further receive a more specific commission to interest himself in the welfare of the undeveloped and uncommitted nations.

BALL, WHOSE gifts for decision and dispatch long ago commended him to President Kennedy, has become the principal Under Secretary of State in all but name. And Ball's deputy, Asst. Secy. Edwin M. Martin, must now carry most of the responsibility for economic affairs.

As is usual in such cases, the very existence of this peculiar new arrangement may be denied, or the shifts of authority and responsibility may be officially minimizd and made to seem trifling. But the Bowles compromise is a decidedly important and interestitng event.

AT THEIR FIRST White House luncheon, when President Kennedy told Bowles he had better take another job, Bowles did not get the message that he was being fired. Hearing that his words had fallen upon deaf ears, the President then sent an emissary to the State Department to tell Bowles he had indeed been fired. With Bowles' encouragement, the emissary returned to propose the precise compromise which has now been made.

This did not satisfy the President. He sent his emissary back to the State Department, to tell Bowles that the President wanted him out. There followed the weekend of the grandiose Bowles pressure campaign—the solicited message to the White House from Adlai Stevenson, the begged-for editorials, and all the rest. This was followed by the second White House luncheon, at which the President did not fire Bowles.

THE BEST guess is that the President finally consented to keep Bowles out of consideration for Secretary of State Dean Rusk. This is not to say that the Secretary of State made the smallest objection to the President's original plan to fire his Under Secretary. But after reflection, the President evidently decided he ought not to make Rusk the target of an organized pro-Bowles uproar at this particular juncture.

The Bowles compromise is wrong in principle and wrong in practice.

The President will never be satisfactorily served by his foreign policy-making apparatus, as long as it is staffed by a sort of human smorgasbord.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Hal Morgan Going To Quit As Demo Leader?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

CHIP DAY

Is Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin Democratic County Central Committee, going to resign? If so, when? Those questions are beginning to flicker around when groups of Democrats start talking shop.

Hal has been doing a lot of traveling lately in his business. He's been out of county much of the time and has had to be inactive. He often misses central committee meetings.

And state election campaigns are only months away, nervous-type Democrats note.

A COUPLE of left-over items from the Brown-McCarthy fracas:

Ex-Director of Motor Vehicles Robert I. McCarthy was seen leaving Sacramento—by bus. No driver's license?

Tom Carvey, president of the California Democratic Council, sent a telegram to Gov. Edmund G. Brown after McCarthy's bitter resignation letter was made public. The telegram said:

"The California Democratic Council opposes McCarthyism in all of its forms."

MARIN AND SONOMA Democratic clubs are hosting a reception and buffet supper for Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson in the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building on Thursday, Sept. 7.

The reception is scheduled for 6 p.m. with the buffet to start at 6:30.

Reservations — at an unbelievably low price — can be made in Marin with Mrs. Peter Krug of Larkspur or Mrs. Chester Bowles Jr., of Belvedere.

MARIN SENATOR John F. McCarthy will be the kick-off speaker at the California Young Republican College Federation's first annual leadership institute at Newport Beach.

McCarthy will open the three-day workshop on practical politics, club activities and membership Sept. 7.

The senator has been spending considerable time and speeches in Southern California recently. Almost like a candidate for statewide office. But what office?

Next Thursday McCarthy is scheduled to be in Yreka at a State Fact Finding Committee on Natural Resources meeting to study fish problems of Iron Gate Dam on the Klammath River.

TIME IS RUNNING out on the right of a county superintendent of schools to appoint replacements to school district boards.

Marin Supt. Virgil Hollis is telling school trustees who are considering retiring, that if they resign before Sept. 15, he is responsible for their replacement. After Sept. 15, the remaining school board members will fill vacancies.

The change is brought about by a bill passed by the legislature earlier this year and signed by Governor Brown. It will be the first time in the state's history that regular school boards, excepting junior college, unified, and city boards, will appoint new members to serve with them.

THIS MAY NOT be political, but somehow I think it is.

My mother and father celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this week. I happened to mention this fact to a local publicist. His reaction was:

"It's going to be a great shock to some political leaders I know in both parties."

"What do you mean by that?" I asked.

"They've always claimed," he answered, "that your parents were never married."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Marin Has Good Cards Against SP

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With a great deal of interest (as a former railroad man) I have been reading of the SP's desire to abandon service to San Rafael via the NWP.

The first step is to abandon repairs to the tunnel and route service via the Santa Fe from across the Bay to Tiburon.

As I look at it, the SP wants to retain the "plum"—that is, the bulk of the shipping from Northern California—and let the Santa Fe have the crumbs—that is, the costliest end of the line via the Santa Fe ferry.

How does the Santa Fe feel about this? They used to handle much more than Marin County alone can provide!

As I have read in your paper in past years, the Santa Fe at one time vied with the Southern Pacific for control of the NWP (just as they are both fighting now for control of the Western Pacific).

From where I sit I can see at least two weapons for San Rafael to use:

1. Sponsor the Santa Fe in her desire to acquire the Western Pacific.

2. Require the Santa Fe to reciprocate by negotiating for control of the NWP. The Santa Fe wanted NWP in the past and perhaps still does.

The Santa Fe operates a ferry to Tiburon—already has a foot in the door, as you might say. Make a deal with the road that makes the best offer. There are many possibilities.

Then too, if the road is abandoned, don't let speculators gobble up the old right of way as was done in the portions of the old electric road. This right of way may be just what you want for the new transit system.

As an afterthought, has an open cut, following the route of the old tunnel, been considered? The earth excavated could be used as a fill on the new fairgrounds. The cut could be made wider for one or two lanes of highway traffic with the State Highway Department sharing the cost.

San Rafael and the county have a lot of good cards if they play them right.

Bill Bradley May Have Inside Track For Deputy Coroner Job

The supervisors have authorized an assistant to help County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Normally, this should start quite a scramble for the new job, which pays over $6,000. But this time, there seems to be no "mad race" to vie for the position. Which probably means Coroner Keaton already has eyes pretty well focused on the man he wants for assistant.

Although no one is talking at of the time of this writing, there is some indication that the coroner is looking for a trained law enforcement man to be assistant coroner. Some sources are going as far as to hint that the solid favorite to be appointed is the man with the English derby hat and eyes of a Scotland Yard man, Inspector Bill Bradley.

Of course, this is only unconfirmed rumor at this stage. Whoever it will be, Coroner Keaton has announced he'll be disclosing his appointment in a week or two.

THE NEWEST pistol packin' mama on the county range in San Rafael is a petite girl named Aurora, who works in the city hall.

On weekends, you can see her pepperirng the bullseye with a .22 caliber pistol under the tutelage of Officer Wade Powell.

IF YOU SEE a man in downtown San Rafael, with a gadget that looks like a Geiger counter strapped to his shoulder and probing the ground with a long steel rod, you needn't get alarmed. The fallout hasn't started yet.

He's merely the routine "gas sniffer," a man that PG&E hires to make routine checks around town of any gas leaks that might have sprung on the company's lines.

WHEN SOMEBODY asks for an annulment, the reason he (or she) gives is usually the time-worn "misrepresentation" or "fraud."

But young lawyer Fred Robbins, Jr., came up with a new excuse the other day. He says both his client and spouse were so intoxicated when they got married in Reno that they were of unsound mind. Therefore, the marriage should be null and void.

IF YOU WANT to make $500 in your spare time, take a tip from Joann Rassio of Tiburon. She did it during her leisure by sending in a story and having it published in September issue of Woman's Day, sold at local stores.

She got some of the ideas from a course in creative writing she took at Drake High. It's taught Thursday nights by Mrs. John Cresap of San Anselmo.

GIRLS, YOU'LL soon be able to get cosmetics that are out of this world.

It says here in Chemical Week that material that flopped as a nose cone ingredient in missiles will be sold as a cosmetic. The material, once intended as a surface hardener in nose cones, will appear as fingernail hardener.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael City Council followed a county lead and voted to close most city offices all day Saturday, though Councilman Harry Albert wanted to keep them open from 9 a.m. to noon as hitherto.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael city councilmen inspected a special car being used in San Francisco to mark overparked vehicles, and were told that it could cover the whole of San Rafael in 45 minutes.

Bill Nave Has Led Busy Life

By ELLEN BRY

William Nave says he was born an old man.

He grew up fast, owning and selling business, borrowing to build others, while still in his teens. The family home in which he was born was razed to make way for his Nave Shopping Center in Novato.

Today he talks of building a shopping center in Half Moon Bay, a medical-professional building in Novato. He has just finished construction of the $1,500,000 Nave bowling lanes near Hamilton Air Force Base.

But he calls the young years, up to 18, the "crowded years" when people called him the "boy wonder."

HIS FATHER, Peter Nave, came from Genoa, Italy, to San Anselmo. He worked a vegetable garden where Sir Francis Drake High School now stands.

He later purchased land in Novato, at first 10 acres, later upping it to 70 acres, in what now is the Nave Gardens subdivision.

"And he became a citizen in nothing flat," Nave says today, still with a hint of the Italian accent acquired from his family.

The eight-room house where Nave was born in 1901 went up in 1838. Nave remembers fishing for trout and swimming "in the days of no swimming suits" near what now is the Nave Shopping Center.

With two brothers and two sisters he worked the orchards and gardens, milked the cows, dug potatoes.

Novato then had a couple of blacksmith shops, a livery stable, a saloon and general store where "they'd sell everything from liquor to harnesses," Nave remembers.

WILLIAM NAVE and his future wife used the bumper of his car for a chair in posing for this photo taken in 1919.

THE SENIOR Naves, the Peter Naves, were celebrating their 50th anniversary when this photo was taken in 1942. Peter Nave came from Genoa, Italy, to Marin. He worked for a time as a vegetable gardener in San Anselmo and later acquired land in Novato in what is now Nave Gardens subdivision.

MRS. WILLIAM NAVE had been married only a short time when this photo was taken during an outing. She's a partner in the family business.

Small ads make I-J Classified a mighty marketplace

It might surprise you to know that this is one of the big "meeting places" of buyers and sellers in the U.S. Last year, for instance, more people ran more ads in I-J Classified than in the morning New York Herald Tribune or the evening N.Y. Journal American—a a total of 3,519,748 lines.

Last week alone, 5,256 ads "went to market" in the Classified section of the I-J. The only reason they do... is because it brings results, proved again and again. Whether you're selling or buying, look to the I-J Classified... where big ideas and sound bargains turn small space into action.

entered school. His formal schooling was short—there was business to be done. There were night courses later, but "I got most of my education through affiliation with some of the finest business people in the county."

By the time Nave was 13, two men were working for him, buying and selling livestock and farming equipment. When he was 15 he started his jitney business, meeting the trains with a model T and a Dodge.

The jitneys served the "little business people and retired, people" who made up Novato. You could get a ride for 10 cents to a quarter. "They'd get on by the dozen just to ride in a car," Nave says, leaning back in the modern chair in the modern office of the Nave Lanes.

Money to buy cars? Nave had trapped foxes, chopped wood, did odd jobs. Cars cost $400 to $600. He later opened the first garage in Novato, once operated a butcher shop and country store.

"I borrowed $10,000 off a bank up here when I was 19. They knew me."

ONE MORNING in 1916 he was putting along in his car when he saw two girls walking to the railroad station to catch the train for San Rafael to attend high school.

He offered them a ride and met Irene Lartigue. They were married in 1921.

She later was to become a cook on the ranches which Nave owned and operated, when "she'd never seen a cow before." She's been bookkeeper, accountant, consultant for the business enterprises through the years.

Nave learned to ride from Spanish ranchers and herders south of Novato. "Those were real cowboys. They'd put me on a horse and I'd hold on like a snail."

Where the Marin Golf Club now stands with its smooth, green tees, cattle once munched on wild grass. In 1919, Nave bought the Loma Verde and Bodkin ranches, at one time owning 2,100 acres of land and running up to 800 head of cattle.

The first world war came along and Nave was marching down San Rafael streets in a parade on the way to the induction center when the armistice was announced.

Nave continued in the cattle business, opening an insurance agency in 1928, the Redwood Music Co., jukebox concessionaire, in 1934. He moved to San Rafael in 1929. And in 1930 the cattle business almost killed him.

NAVE FELL through a barn floor while on a cattle buying expedition, fracturing his spine and hip, temporarily paralyzing his lower body. He was in a cast for 18 months. "I suffered the tortures of hell," he says today, shaking his head at the memory.

The injury, children beginning to arrive, the depression, combined to get him out of the cattle business. Billy Nave was born in 1924; Bobby in 1926, Richard (Rich) in 1930.

In the early '30s Nave was appointed loan commissioner for the Federal Land Bank, approving more than a million and a half dollars worth of loans to depression-hit ranchers and poultrymen.

In 1935 he was appointed a deputy county assessor, planning to stay at the post only a short time. He quit in 1949.

The time in the county courthouse was time to do some thinking, "making little notes in little books."

He kept looking and noting that bowling alleys never were found in the bankruptcy columns. "It was changing from a cigar-smoking type to a family spot."

Financing for bowling lanes was not easy to get. It was the same problem he'd had with the Nave Shopping Center in Novato: "They thought the pony express still ran through Novato. 'You're out of your mind,' they say."

THE BOWLING lanes and the shopping center are reality now. Nave owns them "with the bank and the boys." This is a family business — "banks want you to get involved, sell stock."

There are 14 grandchildren now, "just in case the automatic pin setters go out," Rich Nave explains.

"I've lived a varied life," Nave says. "There's more years crammed into my life —if I was to die tomorrow, I'd be 120."

Selling Nuclear Survival On TV

Each program in the KPIX-TV series entitled "Steps to Survival" opens with the flat statement that survival from nuclear attack is possible, desirable, necessary.

The men at KPIX who are primarily responsible for the series admit that the statement is far from universally accepted.

But producer Lee Mendelson, KPIX public affairs director Jere Witter and program director Ray Hubbard are convinced that their series has started many Bay Area people to thinking about the advisability of protection, and has encouraged and helped them to take the first steps.

All three men, incidentally, are Marin residents. Mendelson lives in Terra Linda, Witter in Mill Valley, Hubbard in Ross.

Their show, KPIX's major public affairs undertaking for 1961, is seen Sundays on Channel 5 at 1:30 p.m.

MENDELSON says it all started when San Francisco Mayor George Christopher was faced with a KPIX newsreel camera and given the opportunity to make any kind of public service statement he thought appropriate—providing it was limited to 10 seconds.

Christopher used his brief time on-camera to urge viewers to attend a series of lectures on nuclear preparedness, put on by the San Francisco Disaster Council.

The mayor's 10-second "spot" never got on the air. KPIX decided it could do better by the subject.

To Mendelson and Hubbard went the assignment of putting the disaster council's civil defense course on TV. And program director Hubbard logged the defense course into his summer and fall schedule.

The three men decided they were faced with three preliminary steps:

1. They had to seek out top authorities and get themselves educated on civil defense.

2. They had to try to gauge public attitude toward nuclear preparedness.

3. And they had to then design a sensible approach for a series of television programs.

CONFERENCES were held with Admiral A. G. Cook, head of the San Francisco Disaster Council, and with Allan Jonas, chief of the California Disaster Office. Both agreed to extend the fullest cooperation of their offices.

The KPIX men found that "a whole new attitude toward civil defense was pervading the powers of government."

Formerly, they say, it had been generally thought that survival of a hydrogen bomb attack would be an impossibility.

"Even many of the nation's highest leaders were privately convinced that defense preparations were less than useless," Mendelson says, "and little more than lip-service was paid to getting ready for the worst."

That school of thought was undergoing a revision in high circles, the TV men found. This, they add, was largely due to studies by RAND Corp. of Los Angeles which reported it had found that large numbers of people could and would live through nuclear bombardment, and that the nation would survive the first shock of nuclear war if it came.

RAND had also probed into public attitudes on nuclear questions.

It reported that people, understandably, did not want to think about "the bomb," and that the antagonism went even deeper. The RAND people said that many Americans felt it was bad to even think about civil preparedness because:

1. They felt civil defense was useless.

2. They feared a well-de-

THE PROGRAM IS under way, and an audience of Bay Area business men and housewives fires questions at the "Steps To Survival" panel of civil defense authorities.

veloped civil defense set-up might make governments "careless," less anxious to avoid nuclear war, and therefore increase the possibility of war.

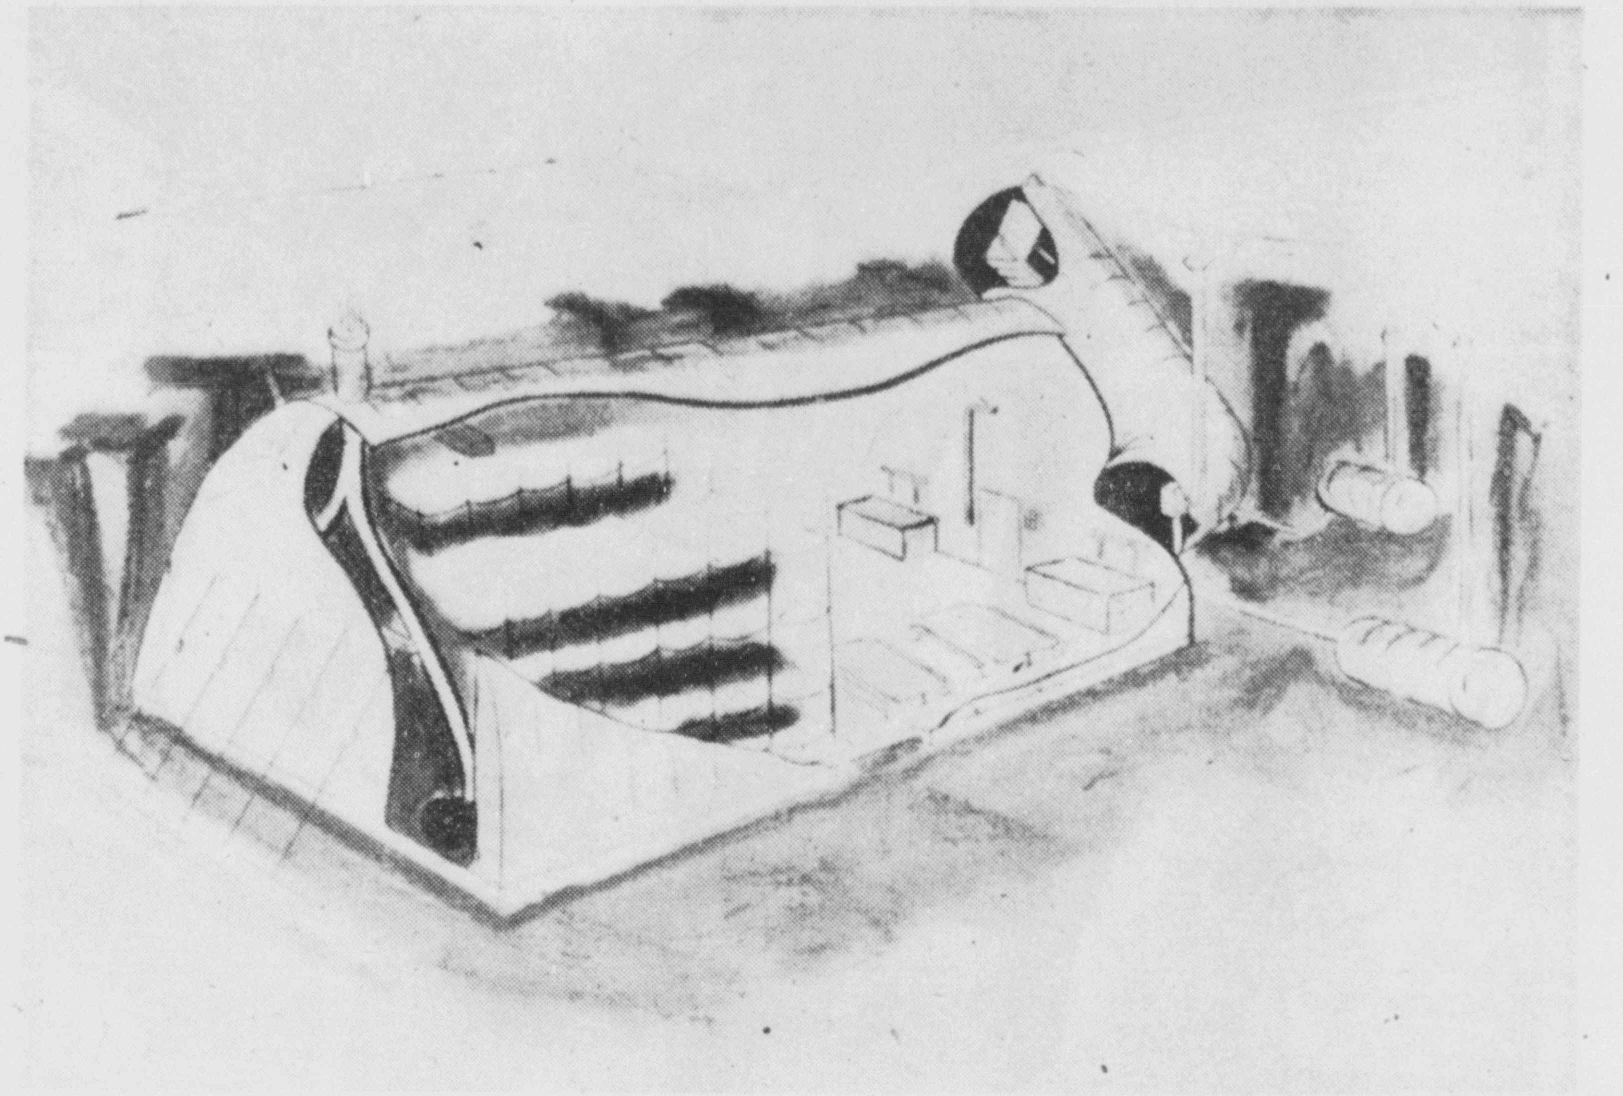
3. They were convinced that in the event of such a war, the world's wreckage wouldn't be worth living in, and that survivors might well "envy the dead."

RAND held that adequate preparation and fallout protection could save tens of millions of lives.

RAND ALSO maintained that data from nuclear experiments and nuclear damage showed that the nation would actually not be destroyed in a first-round nuclear encounter—that life would exist in the aftermath and that what kind of life "would be determined by the preparations the people took before hand."

RAND supported the idea that the outcome of World War III would depend upon how well the nation was prepared to shelter itself, and upon how many Americans survived the first nuclear onslaught.

To the theory that preparedness induces nuclear carelessness, state disaster chief Jonas had this reply: "I just bought seat-belts for my Chevrolet, but I didn't buy them so I could race over Black Point at 100 miles an hour on the wrong side of the road."



THIS IS A SKETCH of the "community" or "group" bomb shelter developed by the U.S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory at Hunters Point and indorsed by the state civil defense office. The "group" shelter has been the focal point of several of the "Steps to Survival" television programs over KPIX. The shelter is planned to house approximately 100 people for two weeks or longer.

There were other objections to civil defense, some on religious grounds, some on intellectual.

A San Francisco newspaper came out against shelter-protection, asserting that "the American is not a burrowing animal."

The antagonism toward civil defense, the KPIX men found, was deep rooted and grounded in ideas that had been shared for a long time in high levels of government.

"It wasn't something that KPIX could discount," Mendelson says, "and it wasn't something we could expect to set to rest with a series of television lectures. But we felt we had some new and encouraging concepts of nuclear protection, that the people should be told about and which might, at least partly, overcome the basic antagonism."

The television men were also heartened by evidence that if civil defense was taboo in some quarters, not all people were bored with or opposed to the idea.

DISASTER officials reported they found many had a nagging curiosity about it, others even an eagerness to learn.

Jonas put it this way: "When anything hits the newspapers about civil defense, people just about ring our telephone off the wall. They want information."

KPIX decided upon an optimistic approach to civil defense and the introduction, a step at a time, of new information and the new thinking of authorities upon the subject.

The San Francisco civil defense course was re-designed to fit the needs of TV. Its scope was widened to interest the entire Bay Area. The four two-hour lectures remodeled into a more manageable series of 12 half-hour shows, with two half-hour programs of review to conclude the series.

Many photo slides were eliminated because they were too dim for use on the air. Other visual effects were devised for added impact: Fire demonstrations, Geiger counters, first-aid models, set-ups for storage of food and water.

It was decided the course would be presented before a live studio audience so that questions could be asked and answered.

Major alterations of the basic disaster course, however, were those necessary, Mendelson says, to point up "a new philosophy of nuclear survival—one which we felt had national and historical implications."

IN INTRODUCING the basics of disaster preparation, Lt. William Osterloh and other disaster council members discussed such topics as the nature of fear and how to cope with it, the elements of first aid, fire and damage control, food and water storage techniques, group training, etc.

Questions from the studio audience were plentiful.

One highpoint of the series, not yet completed, came when KPIX obtained films of a group undergoing nuclear tests in a shelter. The films had never previously been shown.

The series also has taken an interest in the family fallout shelter, the group or community survival shelter, and the shelter-building business.

Besides Admiral Cook and Jonas, guests have included Walmer Strope of the Navy's radiological laboratory at Hunters Point; Gen. Crawford Sams, the man who conducted medical studies at the sites of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and other persons involved with the nuclear survival problem.

Mendelson and his associates acknowledge that their series cannot answer all the questions on the nuclear survival issue. And they doubt that they will succeed in galvanizing the Bay Area public into a mass effort in the civil defense field. But they are heartened by such letters as one received by KPIX from D. C. Armanino, assistant vice president of the Wells Fargo Bank and American Trust Co. He wrote:

"I have been one of the individuals in the audience for five of your 'Steps to Survival' TV programs . . . I have been greatly impressed with the material and information presented, and this morning I . . . suggested that steps be taken to organize a civil defense plan for our bank . . ."

THE KPIX TEAM from Marin acknowledged that it isn't succeeding in persuading all the skeptics of nuclear survival that the civil defense effort is worthwhile.

But they do feel they are making some headway.

"Can The New Burlap Garments Be Drycleaned?"

A few months ago, I answered a question regarding the serviceability of the new burlap fad. I mentioned its readiness to fray. I did not comment on its drycleanability.

Yes, new burlap fashions can be drycleaned, but much depends upon the grade of jute used in making the burlap garment you purchase. There is high grade and low grade burlap, just as in all articles. Burlap is made from jute grown in India and has a naturally offensive odor. That must be removed. It must be bleached and dyed and then softened from its natural stiffness.

Jute does not take dyes readily. The color may rub off or the dyes may crock. Incidentally, poor quality burlap usually has many thick bark knots, tends to wrinkle excessively and may shed lint.

As we stated a couple of months ago, burlap is presently "high fashion" and should be purchased and worn for its own sake. However, high fashions aren't always serviceable. It can be drycleaned, but much depends upon garment construction, fabrics construction, finish and how the color has been applied. Enjoy your burlap fashions, but don't expect them to perform like fabrics to which you are more accustomed.

INDICATIVE OF THE NEW Sausalito that is beginning to spring up among the village's picturesque older landmarks is the Cote D'Azur luxury apartment project to overlook Shelter Cove. Site clearing has started for 60 one, two and four-bedroom apartments on the old Weber property on South Street. Builders are the Albert-Lovett Corp. which recently constructed the towering Comstock apartment building on San Francisco's Nob Hill. Called "community apartments," the units will sell from $18,000 to $64,000. They are to be completed by next June.

Sausalitans Look To The Future

By BRUCE COLEMAN

They're knocking at the gates of the village.

From the gate to the south, the Golden, to the gate to the north, Gate 5, developers are clambering around Sausalito's hills and waterways.

In their hands they hold blueprints. In their heads they have visions of hotels, apartments, boatels and fancy restaurants.

SAUSALITANS know they have a good thing. "We've got the goose that lays the golden egg," says Sausalito City Councilman Marjorie Brady. She spoke of Shelter Cove's natural beauty which draws tourists and tradesmen.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich states it more simply: "Every inch of the waterfront is gold."

Some Sausalitans say they must be wary. Civic leader Carl W. Spring says: "There are a lot of tom cats coming to town looking for the kittens, of which we have, unfortunately, too many."

In the burst of building permit requests which make their way to city planners and councilmen, there are millions of dollars' worth of developments. Some large developments have been approved; many are awaiting approval.

Alive to Sausalito's future and its loquaciousness, the Sausalito Rotary Club recently held a series of six talks on "The Future of Sausalito—As I See It."

The community program, which was well attended, had top speakers representing homeowners, merchants, tourists, city officials and builders.

The series was followed by a group of three town hall forums by the Sausalito Citizens Council in cooperation with the Sausalito Woman's Club. Again crowds were good.

The talks pointed up the town's problems. Should it be tourists first, Sausalitans second? (Last year the city got $117,000 in sales tax revenues, second to San Rafael in the county with $186,000.) Should hotels be allowed on the edge of the residential district? How should Marinship be directed?

WHAT WAS decided? Business would get better. There will be more tourists. Sausalito will be a town of single people, couples and old couples, but fewer people with children.

Here are some of the developments, which indicate that Sausalito is leaning more toward apartments, boatels and marina activities than industry, that were discussed:

In Marinship, Clipper Yacht Harbor has started a five-to-seven-year project worth five million dollars which will be an integrated marina facility

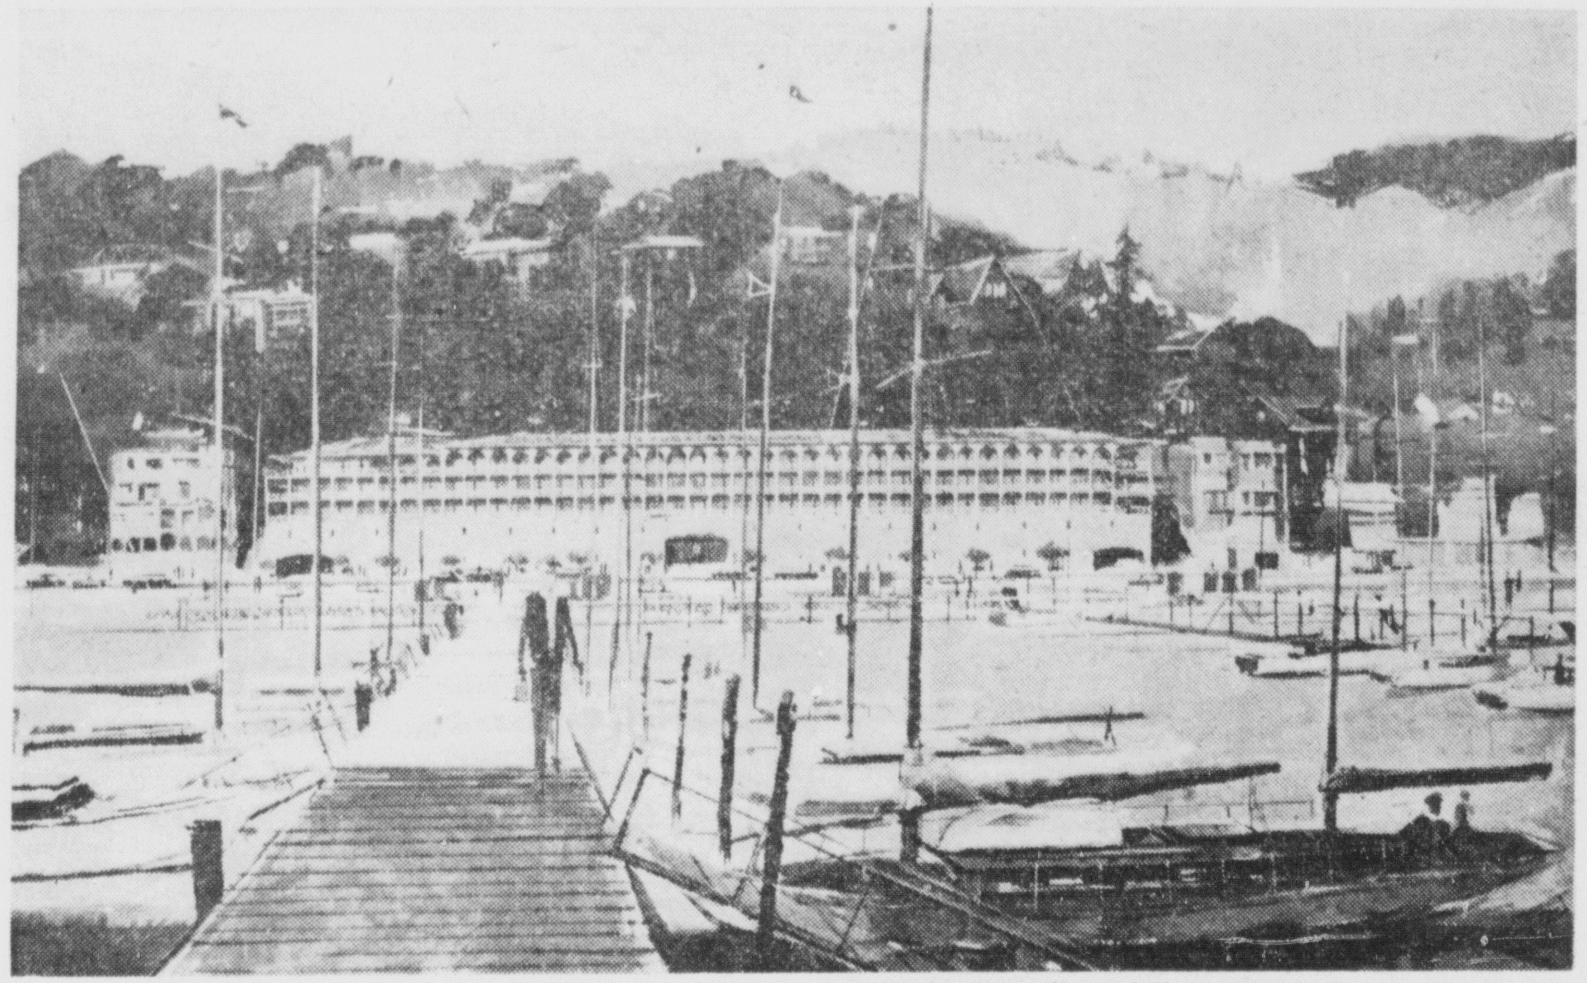
MAJORITY REPORT TO SAUSALITO CITY COUNCIL
PLAN OF CENTRAL WATERFRONT AREA - SAUSALITO - CALIFORNIA
BY CITIZENS CENTRAL WATERFRONT PLAN COMMITTEE
AS APPOINTED BY THE COUNCIL FEBRUARY, 1960

A CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE for waterfront planning submitted to the Sausalito City Council two proposals for a civic center as shown on the map above. The first calls for a new police station next to the fire station on Johnson Street, remodeling of the present City Hall, and construction of a library next to the Bank of America. An alternate plan suggests the police station on Johnson Street with a civic center on Northwestern Pacific Railroad freight station property. Still a third plan, a minority report, would have a park, green, plaza and civic bulding on the sandspit to jain present Vina Del Mar Plaza.



THE VINA DEL MAR INN, a Spanish-style hotel, has been proposed for the 700 block on Bridgeway to be named after Sausalito's sister city of Vina Del Mar, Chile. It has been held up by the city, pending studies of zoning for hotels. A one million dollar project, the hotel is to have 49 rooms, a swimming pool, cabanas and a park to be entered from Bulkley Avenue. It is to be built by Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley. Some Sausalitans have described it as "a Grecian coliseum."

Changing Faces Of Sausalito

A two and one-half million dollar shopping center has been approved for Kurt Heath and Allied Grocers in Marinship. Heath, of Mill Valley, also proposes apartment houses for boaters as well as a luxury restaurant over the water.

He has tentative plans, with Texas interests, to build tower apartments to stand dramatically on Wolfback Ridge above the crooked-streeted village.

The apartments would be part of a model city on 1,750 acres of the Marin Land and Cattle Co. and would include a lake, golf course and homes.

"The Pelican," a 75-unit garden apartment unit, to cost $1,300,000, has been approved in Marinship by the city.

IN SHELTER Cove, work has begun on a 60-unit community project, "The Cote d'Azur," to cost $2,600,000. Apartments are to be on 75-year leases starting at $18,000 and going to about $64,000.

Sausalito Properties, Inc., plans an inn, restaurants, yacht harbor and pedestrian walkway on 32 acres of waterfront between Napa and Dolphin streets.

A variance is being sought by Mrs. Marian W. Frick to build an 80-room hotel on Bulkley Avenue.

Being tiny, Sausalito does not have a great amount of space to be built upon. For this reason, the water looks good to build over.

Marinship — with its mixture of industry—looks good to apartment builders and there was no pause recently when developers began building behind the American Distilling Co., a whisky factory.

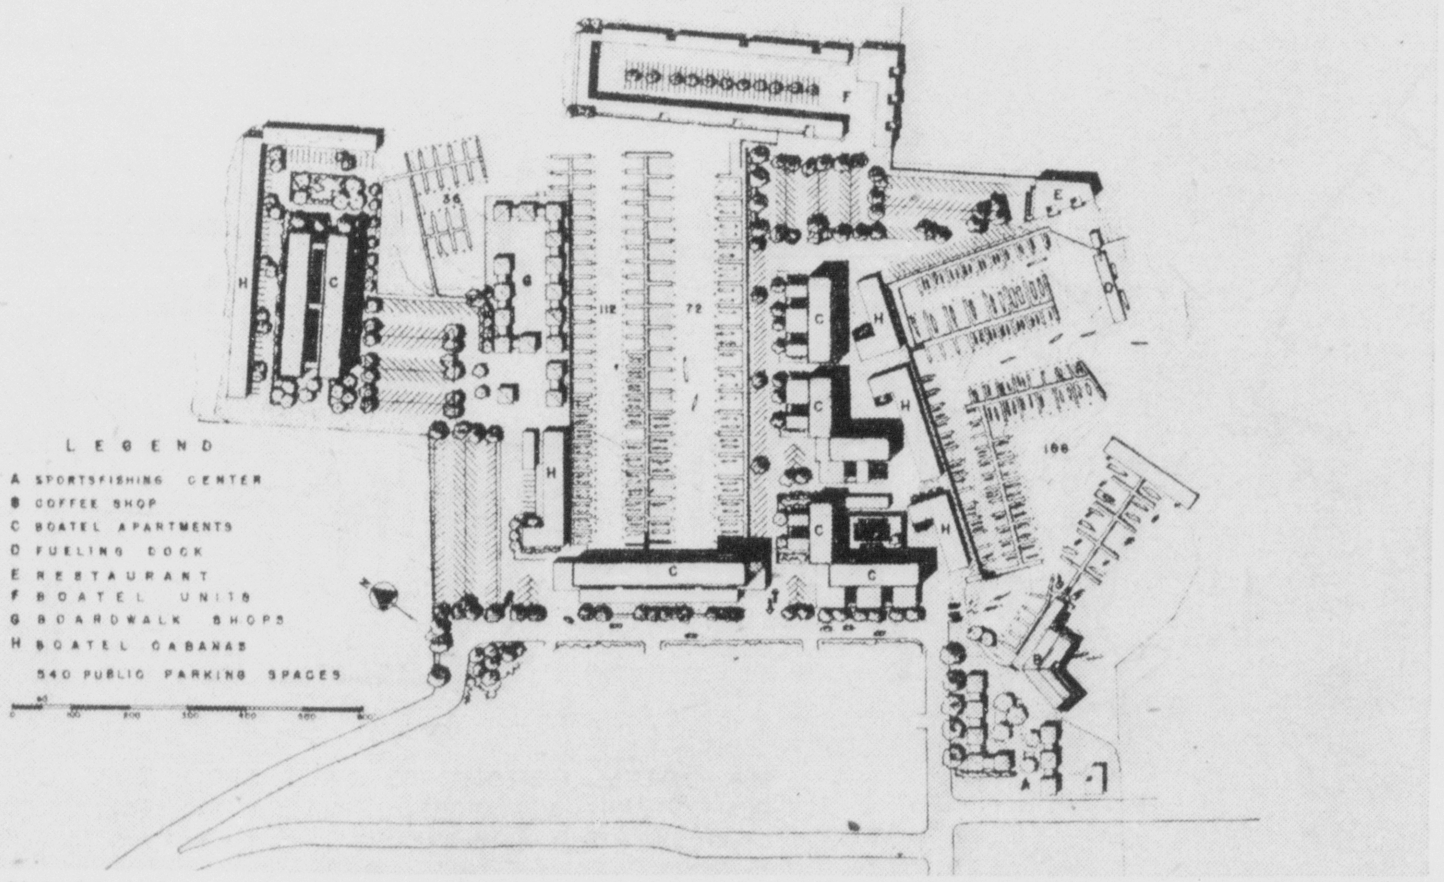
The city fathers try heroically to handle the multitudinous problems facing the city. In spite of this, they are often berated for being slow to act. Builders say it hurts not only the builder but the city's coffers.

PLANNING Commissioner Paul Micou says "hasty decisions will damage the city"; that the city needs professional help and that the townspeople should participate in the commission's and council's decisions. "Too often," he said, "the only person we see at our meetings is the one who wants to get something done."

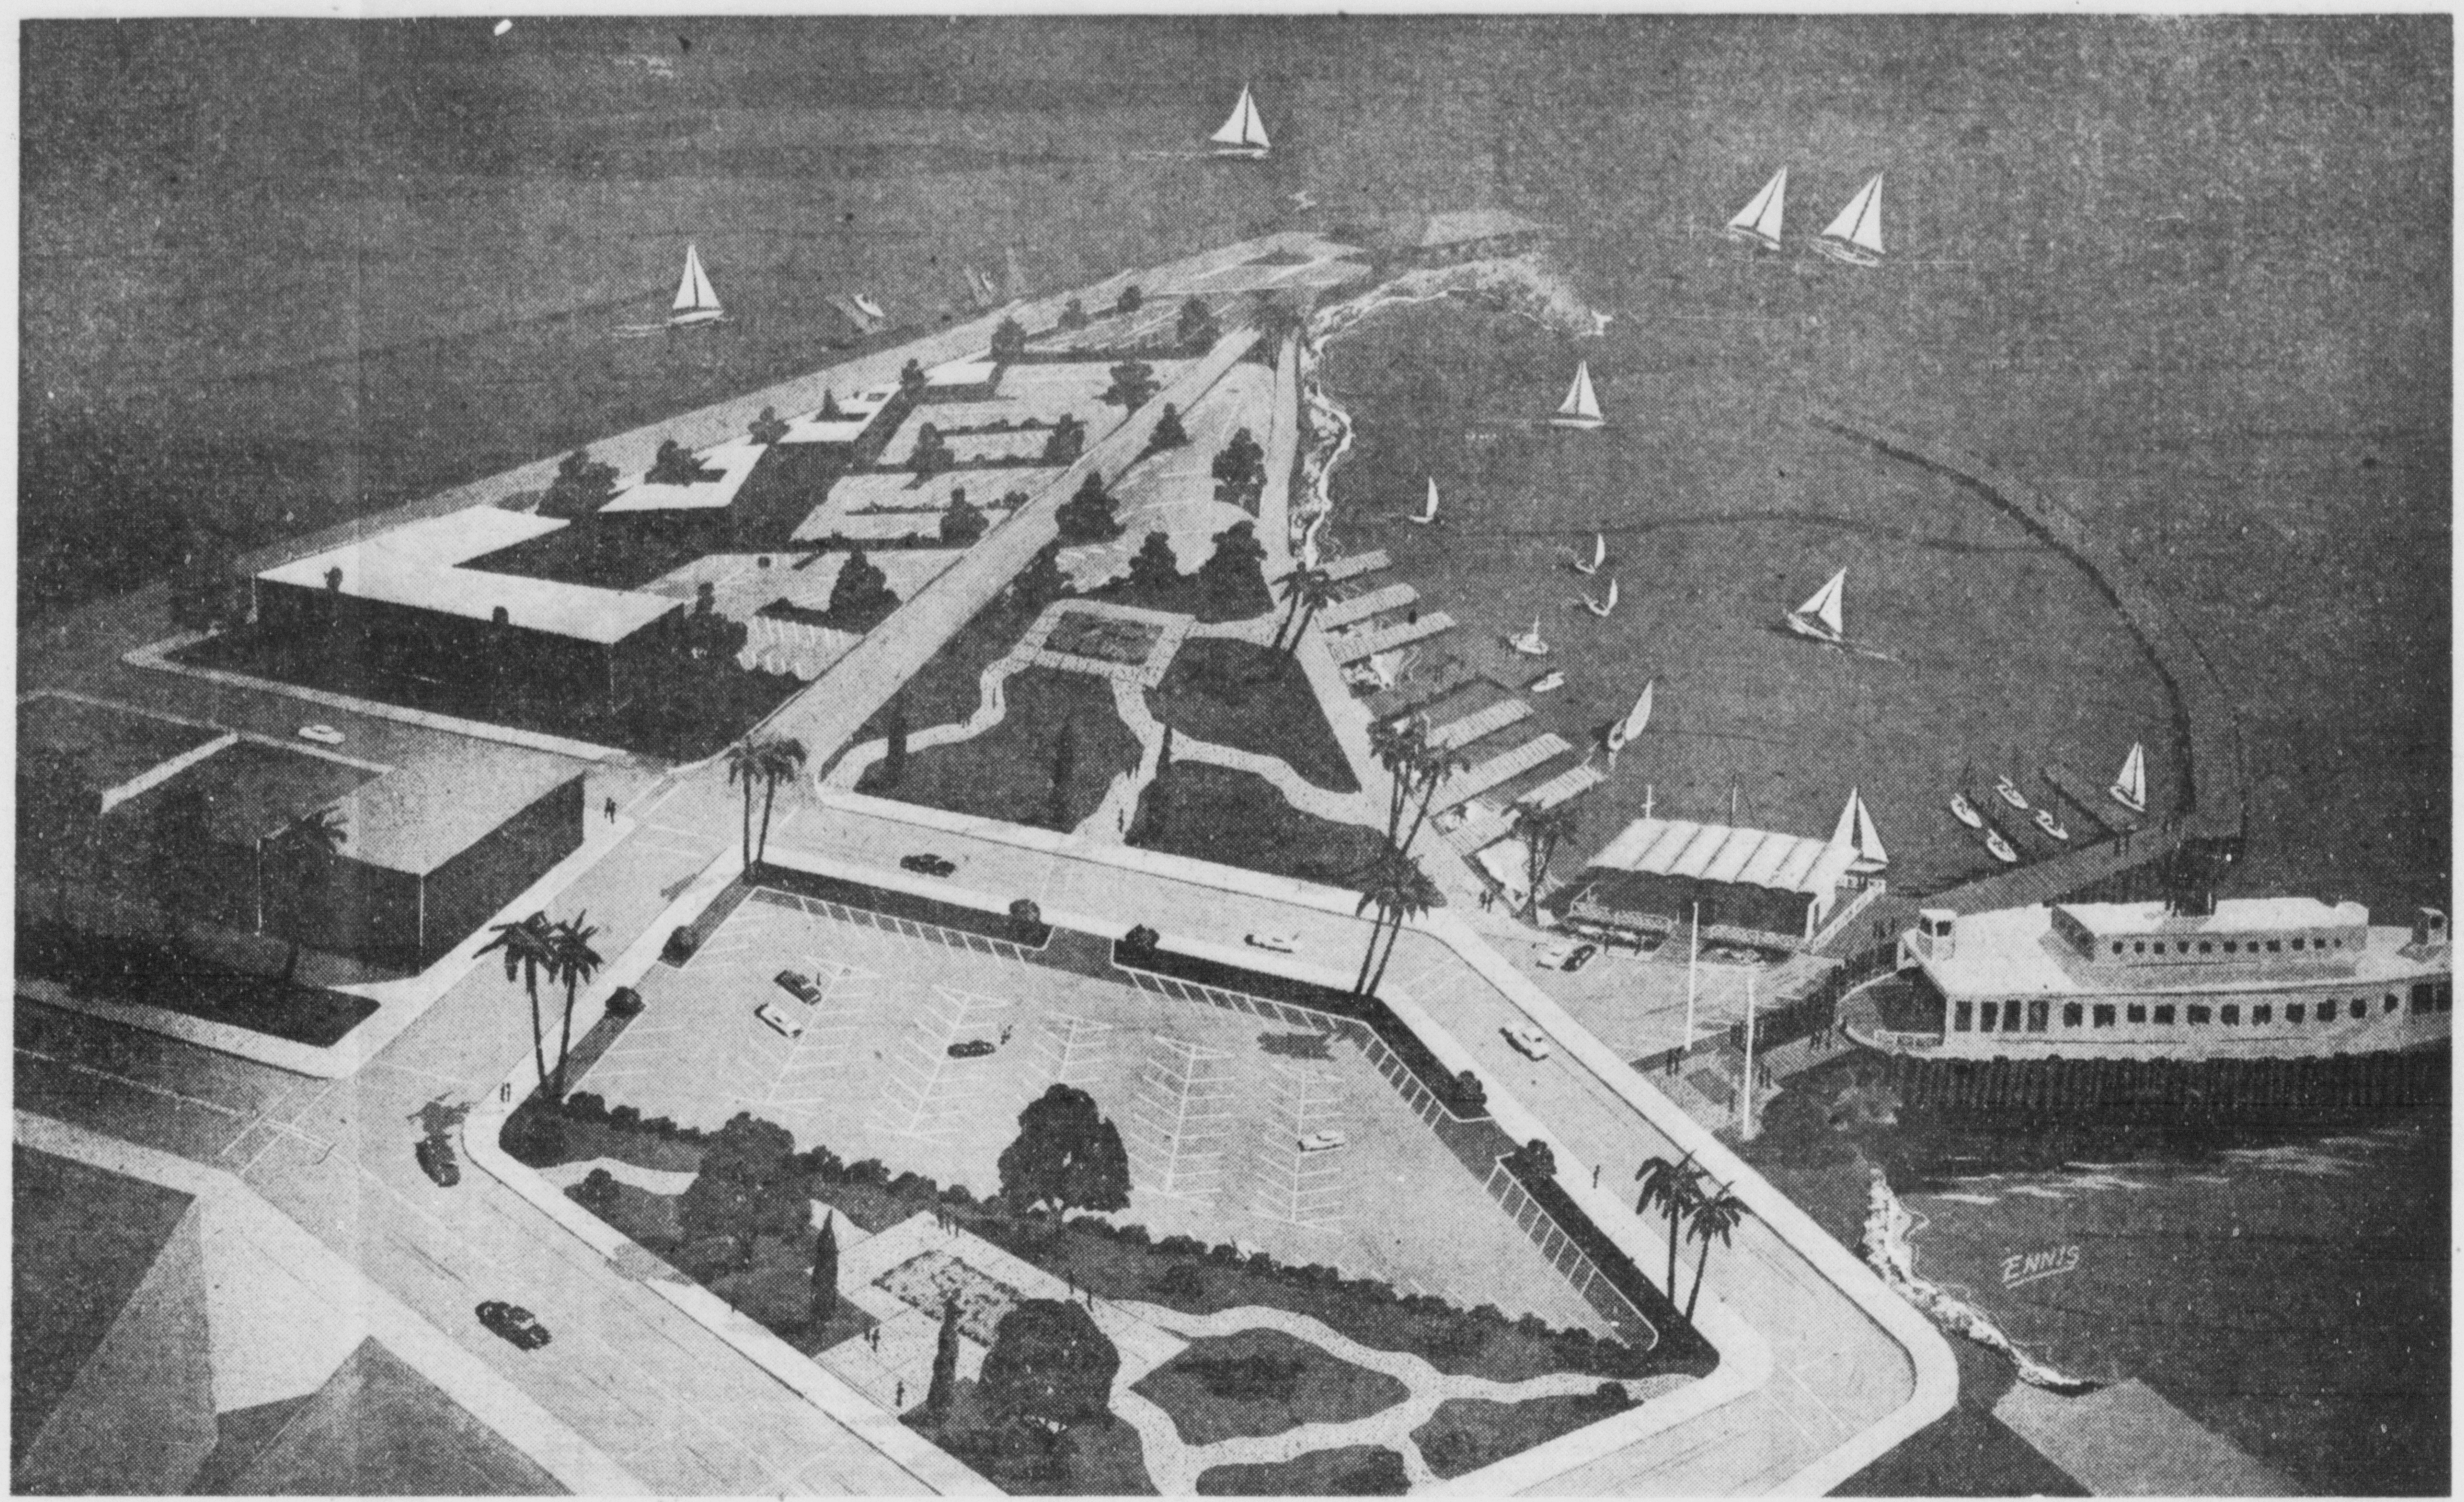
Always lurking in the background are esthetics. Sausalito should keep its waterfront, should have public walkways, parks, a civic center, an art gallery. Citizens have had many a hot discussion over the central waterfront area as to whether it should be park or parking.

Rotary's final speaker in the series, A Leonard Bjorklund, summed things up saying: "Let us keep the future of Sausalito, whether we see it one way or someone else sees it another, in our own hands."

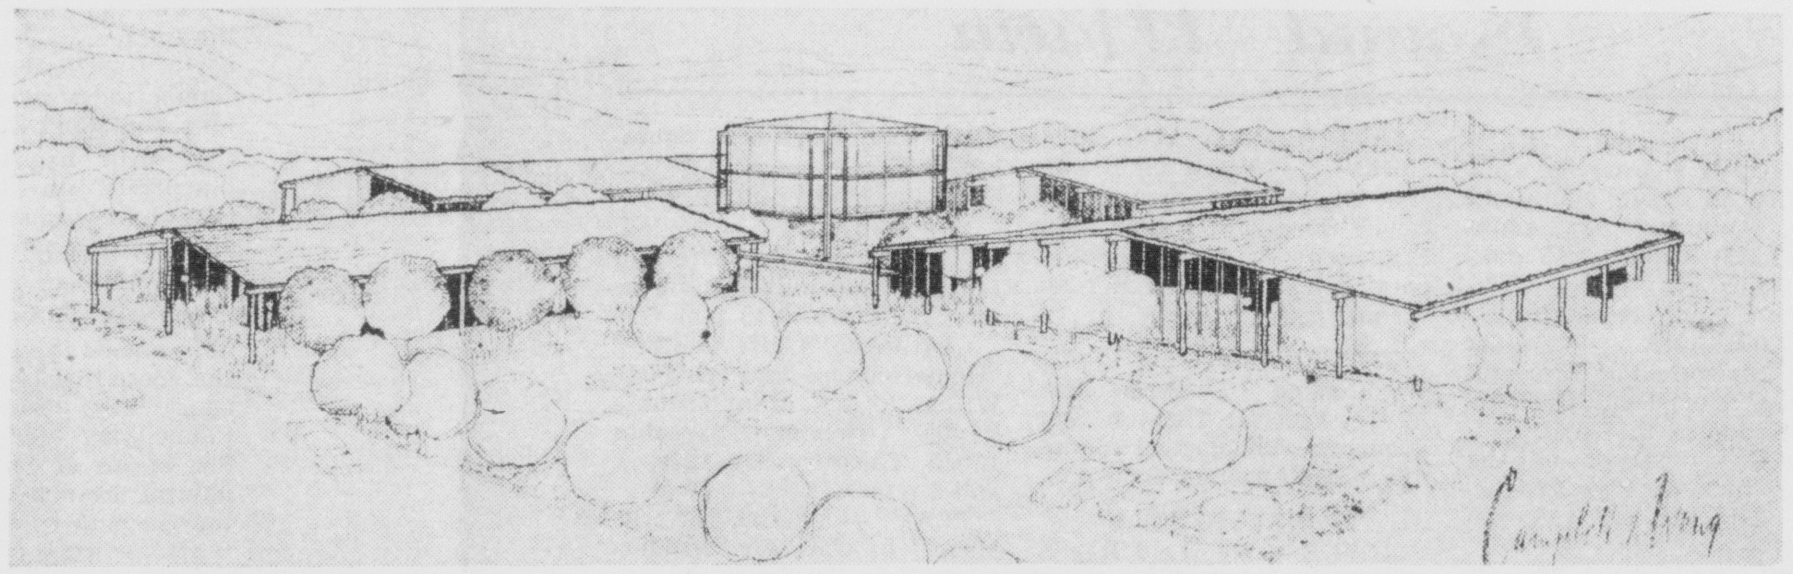
So, how now, Sausalito? Where do you go? Can you have tower apartments and still be a village? You have the "golden goose waterfront." What will you do with it?



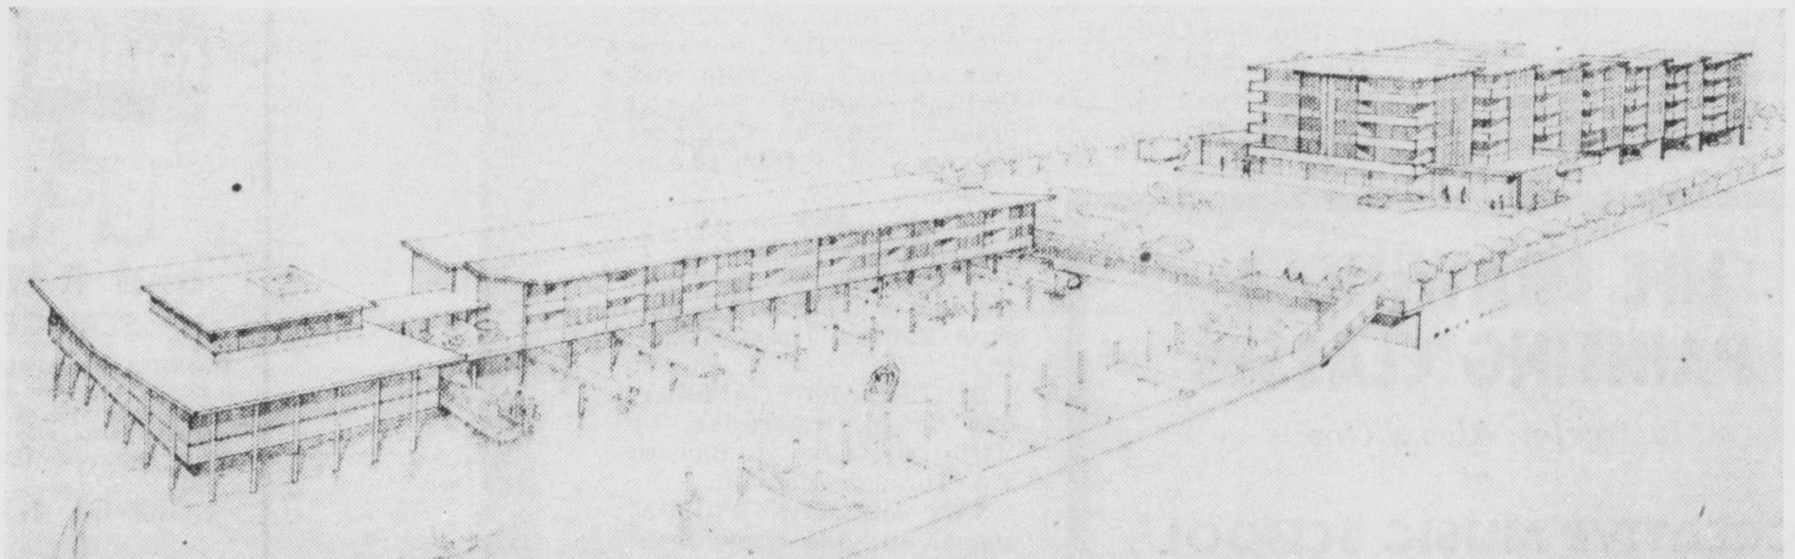
CLIPPER YACHT CO.'S five million dollar project is one-fourth complete at Sausalito's Marinship. It will include a sportsfishing center, boatel apartments, coffee shop, and restaurant, fueling dock, boatel units, boardwalk shops, cabanas and 50 parking spaces, as shown in the plot plan above. Finger piers will permit guests to have their boats at their backdoors. The project will have a 500-boat capacity. Shirley Morgan, co-owner with Clifford Pedersen, says the remainder of the project will be constructed as soon as street plans for Harbor Drive are approved. Architect is Roger Lee of Berkeley.



THE HEART OF SAUSALITO is its central waterfront which holds the tiny and beautiful Vina Del Mar Plaza, the ferry-boat Berkeley, the sandspit, municipal parking, and, for cars, a place to turn around. It was a cause celebre recently when two groups of citizens argued over whether it should contain more park or more parking. This rendering shows the Sausalito Yacht Club's proposal for a breakwater with a public promenade, berthing for 75 boats, and El Portal Street extended to loop in front of the club and connect with Railroad and Humbold Avenues. The sandspit, at rear, houses the Spinnaker restaurant at its tip with proposed Carmel-type shops in the center.



APPROVAL HAS BEEN GIVEN by the city of Sausalito for construction of the Heath-Allied Grocers Shopping Center to be built on Bridgeway in the Marinship for approximately two and a half million dollars. The center will have a tower for offices and will include supermarket and shops. It will have an inner mall with a moat of water around it. Worley K. Wong and John C. Campbell are the architects.



FOR MARINSHIP, the Heath Land Co. has proposed to build boatel apartments designed for people who might have another home but desire an apartment in Sausalito where they can keep their boat tied up outside. Over the water at left would be a restaurant which Fleur De Lys plans to operate. At far right are 50 units of marina apartments. The architect is William H. V. Brooke of Belvedere.

Sausalitans Speak About Their Village

Enid Foster, artist: "Tourist, go home."

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., mayor: "Every inch of the waterfront is gold . . . We're going toward the tailfin and the tourist."

Frank Bosl, banker: "Industry, either through trades or the actual commercial end . . . can become a very important factor in our community."

Stuart Rose, building designer: "We don't want to foster any more Snake Alleys."

Harold Puharich, hardware store owner: "There is a plan that a certain amount of parking is to be eliminated in downtown Sausalito . . . it will kill downtown Sausalito."

Rob Rose, builder: "Sausalito's future seems to be at the mercy of prejudice, intuition, caprice, vacillation, favoritism or vengeance . . . Why can't the city administration work with our citizens in harmony, trust, confidence and cooperate to build a better Sausalito?"

Carl W. Spring, civic leader: "Sausalito is facing a challenge. The whole area is just bursting at the seams."

M. Justin Herman, executive director, San Francisco Redevelopment Agency: "Tourists for awhile are here to stay . . . I think we've got to open up the waterfront, not only for the resident but for the tourist as well . . . you have great opportunities; you just need more daring."

Luther W. Conover, merchant: "Sausalito is a show place, a gem of the entire Bay Area. It has more of the flavor, more of the feeling of old San Francisco than San Francisco itself has."

Halsey Lyon, vice president, A. G. Schoonmaker Co., Inc.: "Sausalito does not stand alone as an island in what is a vital part of the community of Marin County. It contributes a great deal to the being of Marin County."

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., attorney: "We must be self-interested. Self-interest is not a dirty word."

Straw Hatters Place New Emphasis Upon The Dance

The satirical sketches and music that have been the principal assets of past Straw Hat Revue successes will again be a major part of "We Had It—So We Cooked It," the new Festival Theater funfest which opens next Wednesday.

But these facets of the evening's entertainment are going to have to share honors with a new Straw Hat trend—a new stress on the dance.

Choreographer Jeannie Herst has been busy rehearsing "hoofers" for the generous portion of dance routines which has been incorporated into the new revue.

To make room for the dancers, the stage of the Festival Theater, located on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo, has undergone extensive renovation since the recent closing of the extended run of Shaw's "Back to Methuselah: Part One" and Thurber's "The 13 Clocks."

The platform was rearranged to provide a large and open stage to accommodate the dance numbers.

Choreographer Herst has been the Straw Hatter dance director for a number of years. She has also worked with the San Francisco Ballet Company.

After opening next Wednesday, the revue will run nightly, Wednesdays through Saturdays, for three weeks at the theater. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

THAT SHADY LADY from San Francisco, Dolly Brine, is again played by Elizabeth Fuller in the Straw Hat Revue, "We Had It—So We Cooked It," which opens Wednesday night at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo. "The Trial of Dolly Brine" has been a hit in past revues and is being repeated by popular request. But most numbers in the revue are new. Shown with "Dolly" are music director Fae McNally, left, and Louis Bennett as an astonished judge. "We Had It—So We Cooked It" will run for three weeks, playing Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Boyhood Pals Stick Together

They attended the Old Mill Grade School together.

They were schoolmates at Tamalpais High School as they grew up together in Mill Valley.

AFTER HIGH school they went to Europe together.

Monte studied art in Paris, traveled across Europe and North Africa, painting as he went. After a year and a half, he returned to Mill Valley where he has been busy painting canvases ever since.

And the young man who made it possible – his longtime friend, Tom Wishart.

Tom had remained in Europe for five years before returning to the U. S. to operate the firm of T. Taylor Wishart and Son at Green and Sansome Streets in San Francisco.

The firm maintains a fine arts gallery in conjunction with the business establishment. And there will hang paintings by James Kenneth Monte through Sept. 23.

His "Freeway" spreads crimson over everything—"a bloody, insanely arched suicide trap," it has been described.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Novel Headed For Best-Seller Lists

By DON KEOWN

This must be one of the big novels of 1961—a certain best-seller, and deservedly so.

Zara has based his tenth novel upon the tragic life of Stephen Crane, a fascinating subject, indeed. He has then exploited that excellent choice brilliantly. The result is a stirring and powerful novel, a long one, but one that holds the reader hypnotized from start to finish.

Zara follows Crane from his boyhood as the guilt-ridden son of a stern minister, through his youth and his literary struggles, and on to his death at an untimely early age.

The author paints Crane as what he was—an unhappy genius, tragically ill-fated in love, seldom satisfied with his own literary efforts and frequently unappreciated by the public, particularly that in his own country. He was a man buffeted by hardships and disappointments. But Crane's place as one of the giants of the turn of the century is made clear. He may have lacked the charm and flamboyance of his contemporary. Richard Harding Davis, and therefore never achieved the popularity of RHD with the American public. But he was a far more talented man, a much deeper and sincere personage. And he had his own kind of quiet courage.

Through Zara's book parade many other greats and near greats of the era, pictured with such clarity that often they seem to be standing before the reader's eyes. But Crane remains at all times the central figure.

THE UNDYING PAST edited by Orville Prescott, Doubleday and Co., 623 pages, $7.50.

It is a long way from the historical novels and short stories written by the likes of Scott and Tolstoy to the sensational and superficial trash that pours from the printing presses today, supposedly chronicling life as it was in the past. And the direction is backwards.

No one is more aware of this or angered by it than Orville Prescott, the New York Times book reviewer.

A bitter critic of much that passes for historical novels today, he is an unqualified admirer of the really quality writing in this field, both past and present.

In this book he presents a collection of excerpts from what he regards as the most distinguished examples of historical fiction. Represented are such authors from the past as Beloc, Defoe, Tolstoy, Melville, Conrad, Hawthorne, Thackery and Dickens, and such contemporary writers as Wilder, Roberts, Wolfe, Richter and Forester.

In all, there are 45 selections, covering the scope of history from antiquity to the American Civil War.

There, Prescott tells us, is what the historical novel or short story can mean when it has not fallen into the hands of the "potboiler." It is an impressive demonstration.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF BULLFIGHTING by Barnaby Conrad, Houghton Mifflin Co., 272 pages, $10.

In the title of his book Marinite Conrad uses the term "encyclopedia" advisedly. It is just that, offering about all the information of any consequence that is available upon Conrad's favorite sport.

Included are the definitions of frequently used bullfighting expressions, the biographies of the more noted matadors, the roles of the less glamorous participants in the sport, histories of many of the brave bulls, much discussion of bullfighting techniques, the formal rules of the fight,. and much, much more.

The aficionados will, of course, regard this book as a must for their libraries.

The non-enthusiast will be primarily interested in the photographs which Conrad has collected to illustrate his text. They are superb. Ten dollars, however, is a stiff price for the non-student to pay, and we expect that the appeal of the book will be almost exclusively with the aficionado or the would-be aficionado. But they are increasing in number north of the border, and Conrad may well succeed in doing a bit of recruiting for their ranks through this book.

13 FOR LUCK by Agatha Christie, Dodd, Mead and Co., 248 pages, $3.50.

There is only one Agatha Christie, a fact that every mystery story fan must bemoan. For she is the master of the mystery puzzle—so expert, indeed, that she can compress greater bafflement into a short story than can most writers into a novel.

Here are 13 of her short stories, topnotch mysteries all with one exception. The publishers especially recommend them for the young reader, perhaps because violence and bloodshed are at a minimum. But we recommend them for readers of all ages, and do so enthusiastically.

Those peerless Christie sleuths Hercule Poirot, Miss Marple, Mr. Satterthwaite (with the mysterious Harley Quinn), and Parker Pyne all work brilliantly. Only the story of Tommy and Tuppence Beresford is a disappointment. The others are all Agatha Cristie at her best—and that is very, very good, indeed.

KINKIE THE KINKAJOU, a "star boarder" for six weeks at the animal shelter of the Humane Society of Marin County, tries a piece of hard candy given her by Mel Morse, the society's executive director, as dessert after she had polished off her dinner of fresh fruit.

BUT KINKIE finds that chewing the candy isn't an easy matter. So she takes it out of her mouth and holds it in her paws while she tries to puzzle out just what the trouble is. "It looks all right," Kinkie decides. And she isn't one to pass up a sweet. So she decides to give it another try, and to chomp down a bit harder this time. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

AND BITE DOWN hard Kinkie does. This time she gets the job done. The candy goes down and it tastes great.

Add Kinkie The Kinkajou To Animal Shelter's Guest List

He's Just One Of Many Unusual Visitors That Humane Society Has Played Host To

By DON KEOWN

Dogs and cats may be in the majority, but they are far from the only "boarders" at the animal shelter maintained in San Rafael by the Humane Society of Marin County.

Many other animals and birds, some native to Marin, some originally from far-away places, find their way into the shelter for various reasons. And there they present some special problems for Mel Morse, the society's executive director, and his busy staff.

"Whenever we get an unusual animal, we all learn a little," Morse says.

Bats, canaries, monkeys, chimpanzees, raccoons, donkeys, egrets, goats, hamsters, lizards, moles, ocelots, deer, foxes, guinea pigs, horses, rabbits, rats, mice, owls, parakeets, pheasants, squirrels, turtles, seals, snakes, skunks, sparrows, chickens, cockateels, cows, crows, doves and ducks.

One recent addition to the list was Kinkie the kinkajou.

Kinkie's former owner placed her in the shelter with a request that a new home be found for the pet. She was a guest of the shelter for a month and a half, and left when the humane society succeeded in finding for her a new home offering ideal conditions for a lively young kinkajou.

The kinkajou is a relative of the monkey, a nocturnal and arboreal little mammal belonging to the Procyonidea family. A native of Mexico, Central America and South America, the animal has a long, prehensile tail, large and lustrous eyes, and a soft and woolly yellowish brown fur.

Placed with persons who understand the kinkajou, the animal makes an excellent pet, according to Morse.

Recently, the shelter has experienced a "run" of monkeys.

"We've had four in a period of two weeks," Morse reports.

Which animals cause the humane society staff the most trouble?

"People," says Morse with a grin.

Then, seriously, he adds: "It is the animal which requires a radically different environment from the usual one at the shelter which provides us with our greatest challenge. For instance, the seal. We have to try to simulate the environment of sea-life in order for the seal to thrive. And sometimes that takes a bit of doing, although we get it done somehow."

Seals, kinkajous, cats, dogs and even the lowly mole have all found temporary homes at the Third Street shelter. And all have basked in hospitality that would put many a hotel to shame.

THE CANDY WAS good, but now Kinkie has another problem. Her paws are all sticky and she doesn't know what to do about that.

KINKAJOUS aren't the only unusual pets which have found a temporary home at the humane society's shelter. A number of monkeys have enjoyed its hospitality of late. This one was a stray which was picked up and was being held to be claimed by his owners.

A Home Tailored For Its Occupants

Tailored to the requirements of the Richard Saltzman family is their three bedroom, three bath home at 71 Junipero Serra Ave., San Rafael, in the new Villa Real area.

Built by Custom Builders-Parnow Bros., San Rafael contractors, the most unusual feature of the Saltzman home is a well-equipped music room. In addition, there is a formal living-dining area, convenient kitchen, good service space, and large family room opening to a concrete terrace and sparkling kidney-shaped swimming pool, also built by Parnow Bros.

A PLEASING combination of brick and vertical siding stained dark brown contrasts with bright white trim on facia and window detail. Dramatic use of glass walls gives architectural interest and clerestory windows provide ample glareless daylight in the home's sunny location. Easy-care flowering shrubs have been chosen for planting.

A large entrance area, entirely paved, permits parking for five cars for guests in addition to the two-car garage, which takes care of the family's needs.

Three-quarters of an acre of property gives the home and pool seclusion as well as uninterrupted vista of the oak-studded hillside. The 36 foot by 16 foot pool, surrounded by a spacious terrace of concrete squares marked by

Focal point of the formal living room is a black metal firebox and hood mounted on a white polished concrete bench. The free-standing fireplace and its unusual hearth serves as a divider between the living and dining areas in the Villa Real home, designed by Edward Hageman and Associates of San Rafael. Emphasizing the pitched roof line are exposed brown stained beams. Walls are painted aqua, and Mrs. Saltzman has chosen carpeting in aqua tweed to create a unifying effect in hall, living-dining area and master bedroom. Upholstered pieces in black or white are effective. Three slender supporting columns separate the entry hall in the open plan. Light beige drapes are drawn across the glass wall in the living room and high clerestory windows bring natural light into the spacious room.

THE MODERN kitchen is well located to serve both formal dining area and family room. A bath adjacent to the service and laundry area also serves the pool. Family room walls are of sturdy select birch finished with natural light stain. Ceiling treatment of the family room continues the use of dark brown exposed beams accenting the high roof line. The window wall of this room with its outlook of the pool and hillside is further enhanced by repetition of uncurtained clerestory windows, and one end of the room contains a comfortable library corner, cheery brick hearth and birch paneled built-in "TV garage." Informal in tone, the room is furnished with durable upholstered pieces of tweed and naugahyde. Practical linoleum in brick pattern was chosen by Custom-Builders for the floor covering.

Richard Saltzman, associated with the family business, Saltzman Furniture Co. in San Francisco, is a spare-time musician, hence the music room containing piano, drums and vibraphones, the scene of much musical activity when Dick and his friends get together for practice and fun sessions. Saltzman's small combo is in demand for local engagements.

THE TWO Saltzman daughters, Laura, 11, and Linda, 9, are active in Girl Scout and Bluebird programs, with their mother, Lorellen, assisting with leadership responsibilities. Laura is a seventh-grader at Davidson School, with Linda in the fourth grade at San Pedro School.

The Saltzman family moved to their Marin County home four years ago from San Francisco.

Fall Color In Marin Takes Some Planning

The intensity of fall color in Northern California depends entirely on where you live. Here, near the coast, you sometimes have to scratch for it.

It is, therefore, a good idea to plan specially for fall—not only for fall foliage color, but also for that which comes from the berried shrubs and from bedding plants.

Our most spectacular displays come from the brilliant splashes of foliage which certain trees give us. You see this often in the Mother Lode, where poplars, locust and scarlet oak color up so vividly. Try these same specimens in coastal gardens, however, and you'll see why color depends on where you live.

Best bets for foliage color along the coast—and obviously they are just as good or better inland—are sweet gum, maidenhair tree and Chinese pistache. Scarlet oak will show occasional bursts of color in coastal gardens and flowering Japanese cherries turn vivid where few others will.

These five—or four, if you exclude scarlet oak as a sure thing—will give you a nice range of fall color: The lovely yellow of maidenhair tree, the richly mixed reds and yellows of sweet gum and flowering cherry, the bright reds of scarlet oak and Chinese pistache. Who could ask for more?

Of the berried shrubs, none offers more vivid color than pyracantha. Improvement of this species has been a steady thing over the years with larger berries the prime goal of every hybridist. Orange berried pyracanthas usually bloom first and are followed closely by the reds. Cotoneaster and barberry also offer good fall berries.

The premier flower of fall is the chrysanthemum, with rich bronze or yellow seasonal colors. Wait until fall's first breath arrives; then load up with 'mums. You'll find them ready and waiting in full bloom at nurseries.

A CHECKLIST FOR GARDENERS OF MARIN

✓ Bush berries that have not been pruned yet should be. Remove the canes that bore fruit this year and loosely wind the new growth around the trellis.

✓ Shasta daisies are better divided in early spring than now. Simply remove the top growth when they stop blooming.

✓ Stake chrysanthemums. Continue feeding them at two week intervals.

Can You Recall The Events That Lead To Opening Of World War II?

WHERE WERE you when madman Hitler sent his troops and tanks swarming into Poland? Had you realized that World War II was about to explode?

If you have difficulty remembering the sequence of events which preceded the German aggression against its neighbor, you can refresh your memory by watching "The Twentieth Century" program on KPIX tomorrow night at 6:30.

It will be a rebroadcast of "The Week That Shook the World," the story of those fateful days when diplomats tried desperately to stave off the war which the German dictator was determined to have. Highlights are recordings of on-the-spot news reports made during that week by correspondents Edward R. Murrow, Eric Sevareid and William L. Shirer.

Like most of the Twentieth Century documentaries, it is an exciting story — and one none of us should forget.

AND WHILE on the subject of war, the "Camera Three" series tomorrow at 9 a. m. on KPIX will offer a dramatization of "Company K," William March's fine novel of World War I. It is a vivid description of the terrifying loneliness felt by men facing violent death.

ANOTHER noteworthy television venture into heavy drama will take place tomorrow on "Look Up and Live," also a Channel 5 show and seen at 8:30 a. m.

The program will continue its summer drama series with Jean-Paul Sartre's "The Flies," a modern parable of vengeance and guilt based on the legend of Orestes.

FOR MORE pleasant viewing, KPIX will offer you a chance to visit, view and savor Venice's famed Piazza San Marco on its "Accent" program tomorrow at 11:30 a. m.

Your hostess will be Mary McCarthy, American novelist.

Seated at a table at Quadris, Venetian sidewalk cafe in the Piazza San Marco, Miss McCarthy will discuss with CBS correspondent Winston Burdett something of the architecture and history of the square called the world's "most famous drawing room."

There will also be a look at the Doge's Palace and a stroll toward the sea so that you can see something of Venice, the cultural center and resort.

NOVATO planning commissioner Harvey McAskill and Marin Golf Club manager Kenneth Baker, originally scheduled to appear on last Sunday's "Gracious Living in the Bay Area" show on KGO, will be seen instead tomorrow as guests of host Bud Foster at 3:15 p. m.

"EDITOR'S CHOICE," seen at 10:30 p. m. Sundays on KGO, will look into the predicament of the small American community without a doctor tomorrow night. It will also tell what one Wisconsin town did to correct that situation.

THE MEN who know our problem juveniles best—our juvenile court judges — will discuss delinquency on KRON tonight at 10 o'clock.

Participants will be six judges from different sections of the country. Their discussion was videotaped in June while their honors were in San Francisco for the convention of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges.

They'll discuss such matters as delinquency trends in their respective areas, and the relationship of school drop-outs and delinquency.

The locally-produced show will follow a network "Nation's Future" program on KRON from 9:30 to 10 with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon reporting on the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference held in Uruguay.

TONIGHT'S television log again boasts a heavy Saturday night schedule of sporting events.

KGO's "Wide World of Sports" from 5 to 7 p. m. will cover the 1961 National AAU Men's Swimming Championships in Los Angeles.

At 7 o'clock channel 7 will carry a boxing match from Madison Square Garden between two of the best light heavyweights — Doug James and Von Clay.

And at 8:30 p. m., from Portland, KTVU will bring you the San Francisco 49ers vs. the Minnesota Vikings in a professional football exhibition with Bob Fouts and Gordie Soltau again at the mike.

STEREO NOTES

Organ Music From Parisian Church Proves Fascinating

By JOHN SUNIER

THREE PRELUDES AND FUGUES, OPUS 36, by Marcel Dupre, and LE BANQUET CELESTE, LES BERGERS by Olivier Messiaen. Marcel Dubre performing on the gallery organ in the Church of Saint-Sulpice, Paris (Mercury Stereo SR 90231 and Mono MG 50231).

This volume five in a series of recordings made for Mercury by Marcel Dupre on the organ on which he has been playing for over 30 years and in the Parisian church which is second in size only to Notre Dame. His own preludes and fugues are exceedingly chromatic and dissonant, while not forsaking tonality. The registrations are varied and fascinating in sound, and the magnificent acoustical setting of the church is well-preserved in stereo.

The registrations prove to be an integral part of the two compositions by Messiaen, a one time student of Dupre. "Le Banquet Celeste" is taken at a very slow tempo, and with curious stops and constantly repeated rhythms is almost hypnotic in effect.

SYMPHONY NO. 1 IN C MAJOR and SYMPHONY NO. 2 IN D MAJOR by Beethoven, Paul Paray conducting the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. (Mercury Stereo SR90205).

Admirable performances of great music in spacious sound, by an orchestra fast becoming one of the nation's best. The classically-turned "First Symphony" is given a hearty and jovial reading. Even though Beethoven fully realized his approaching deafness during composition of the energetic "Second Symphony," the work is still, according to Berlioz, "smiling throughout."

Allies Deliver A Strong Crisis Note To Kremlin

Given Warning On Berlin Air Routes

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States, Britain and France today delivered notes strongly denouncing the Soviet's Union implied threat to the air corridors that link West Berlin with the western world.

The notes were delivered at the foreign ministry late this afternoon by messengers.

The Western Allies agreed yesterday on the wording of notes replying to a Soviet charge that the Allies have been airlifting West-German spies and provocateurs to West Berlin.

The Western capitals have rejected the Moscow charges in public statements.

The White House saw the Kremlin allegation—contained in a Soviet note Wednesday—as a threat to interfere with flights to West Berlin and voiced a "solemn warning" against any such "aggressive act" by the Communists.

PROTEST

More words were fired back and forth across the Iron Curtain.

In Berlin Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, U.S. commandant, protested personally to the Soviet commandant today against what he called the illegal regulations of the East German Communists in limiting crossing points between East and West Berlin.

Watson blamed the Russian, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, in part for incidents arising from the new rules.

Irate West Berliners have shouted insults at Soviet troops and tried to overturn Soviet jeeps. Last night several thousand West Berliners demonstrated against the Communists. Angry crowds gathered today at two Communist pass offices newly opened in West Berlin.

U. S. BOOKLET

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, writing in a foreword to a State Department booklet on Berlin, said: "For the third time in just over 13 years, the Soviets have launched a major threat to the freedom of West Berlin."

He voiced confidence that the United States, its Allies "and the stalwart people of West Berlin" will meet the Soviet challenge.

76,500 U.S. Reservists Called Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, in the biggest mobilization since the Korean War, is ordering 76,500 reservists and National Guardsmen to active duty.

Most of the men are being ordered to report Oct. 1.

The callup is part of the Kennedy administration's military build-up to be ready to deal with the Berlin situation and other world trouble spots.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced the call to active duty at a news conference late yesterday.

GUARDSMEN

Army and Air Force National Guard and reserve units that were alerted two weeks ago to possible duty are now being called up, he said. Navy men needed to man ships being added to the fleet also are being ordered to report.

The orders are going out to 311 units of the three services — 210 of them Army, 58 Navy, 33 Air Force, plus miscellaneous outfits.

The callup involves 46,500 Army Reservists and National Guardsmen, 23,600 Air Force men and 6,400 Navy Reservists.

McNamara said the orders do not specify how long the men will be held on active duty, but he noted that the authorization resolution passed by Congress placed a one-year limit on most recalls.

RELEASE

The secretary said the Defense Department hopes to release many of those being called as voluntary enlistments and draft inductions provide needed manpower.

In reply to newsmen's questions, McNamara said that if any of the activated units are sent overseas, dependents would not be allowed to go along.

Orders to the recalled units began going out yesterday and kept flowing today. Commanding officers will get the first word and then notify individual reservists. It will take up to three weeks for individuals to get their personal orders.

When the beefing-up is completed, the Army will have 1,008,000 in uniform, the Navy 657,000, the Air Force 888,227, and the Marine Corps 190,000.

Crisis In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil was plunged into a crisis by the sudden resignation of President Janio Quadros, with touring leftist Vice President Joao Goulart flying home today to take over.

Supporters of Goulart, 43, threatened a general strike in the country already beset by financial troubles if any attempt is made to block him from taking over the presidency if he wants to—and an aide says he does.

Goulart, a wealthy rancher who heads Brazil's Labor party, is flying from Singapore after touring Red China, where he sang the praises of Mao Tze-tung and accomplishments under the Peiping regime.

The three allies have been urging France to join in a Western diplomatic initiative.

Bridge Directors Vote To Help Get 2nd Span

Golden Gate Bridge directors voted yesterday to do everything they can to help get another bridge built between San Francisco and Marin Counties.

With only one dissent, the directors voted to "do whatever we can to expedite, cooperate and facilitate the building of a second bridge to Marin County."

San Francisco Director Ben Lerer made the motion after the board had agreed to postpone vote on further study of feasibility of rapid transit on the Golden Gate Bridge until Sept. 5.

He received enthusiastic support from Marin Director Leland Murphy, who has consistently opposed putting transit on the Gate Span.

"We should do everything possible to assist in planning a new bridge so they can't say we're just against everything and for nothing," Murphy declared. He said the new bridge should be planned for rapid transit.

Director Peter Gasser of Napa, who earlier had unleashed a violent attack against transit on the Gate bridge, said he already had a motion in committee calling upon the bridge district to build the second bridge.

Director George Anderson of Ukiah also pointed out he had for years been urging the district's building of a second span and criticized his fellow board members for reducing tolls.

"If you'd stayed with me on not lowering tolls, we'd be in a much better position to build a second bridge," he declared.

Daniel L. Del Carlo, San Francisco director, was the only one to oppose the motion. He said there "is no point in passing such a motion. I made one in 1948 and it just died in committee. What can we actually do to 'expedite or cooperate'?" he asked. He noted that the state has appropriated half a million dollars to study a second crossing in the next two years.

"I don't know what agency will build the bridge," declared Lerer, "whether we will or someone else, but we've got to expedite the planning or we're going to be too late."

ANOTHER TOLL CUT SOUGHT FOR GATE SPAN

Another toll cut will be sought next year for the Golden Gate Bridge.

Marin Director Leland Murphy warned the bridge board yesterday that in view of a record July traffic, the first month in which more than two million vehicles crossed the span, he would request toll cuts to become effective next July.

General Manager James Adam told the board that 2,012,031 vehicles used the bridge last month, 128,000 more than crossed in July last year.

Prosecution Says Marin Teacher Savagely Beaten

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The streetcar murder trial was in recess here today after the prosecution had produced testimony that a school teacher was beaten savagely before he was run over and killed by a streetcar.

Four teen-age boys are on trial, charged with the murder of William P. Hall, 27.

Dr. Robert Wright, autopsy surgeon, testified yesterday that Hall's head and shoulders were covered with deep cuts and bruises. Defense attorneys asked Wright if the injuries could have been caused by the streetcar.

He said "No, they are typical of injuries suffered by being beaten with fists and kicked repeatedly."

The prosecution introduced autopsy pictures.

The prosecution charges that Michael Kilkenny, 16; Robert Hall, 17; Larry Magee, 16, and William Castillo, 17, robbed and beat the teacher and then left him unconscious on the tracks as part of a strongarm campaign against homosexuals.

The prosecution said there was no evidence that Hall was a homosexual.

County Merit System Gets Sheriff's 'Aid'

By RANDALL GOULD

When Marin Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos recently bypassed a 16-person eligibility list to get supervisors' approval of a personal choice for deputy sheriff who had taken no examination, he may have indirectly helped the county Merit System.

County Administrator Alan Bruce in his capacity of personnel director said today he is hopeful that the incident may prove of service in getting a modernization procedure under way in personnel procurement.

"Even the sheriff is still using the examination system," said Bruce.

He referred to his assistant, Stella Hughes, and found that within the last couple of days Mountanos's office drew on an eligible list in hiring an intermediate typist.

Miss Hughes conducts what are called "open continuous examinations" to keep a good backlog in several such categories.

Special examinations for positions in Marin's 28 county departments are conducted only when there is a probability of jobs, Miss Hughes explained. As a rule she drops in on a department head when the eligibility list in a given category begins to run low.

She said she called on Mountanous not long before he rammed through appointment of an unexamined shoe repairer as deputy sheriff. She mentioned that the list of eligibles was down, and got his approval to conduct the latest examination, she said.

More than 200 candidates showed up and went through three days of examinations, ending with 16 winners on the list which the sheriff later disregarded. To conduct the oral part of the examination Miss Hughes brought in police lieutenants or higher and undersheriffs from Oakland, Richmond and Sonoma County, following inter-county custom of getting their services as public service at no cost except for their meals.

Bruce concurs with Mountanos's criticism that some

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Astronaut Fined

LOMPOC (UPI)—Astronaut Leroy Cooper Jr. was fined $11 yesterday by a justice of the peace who said, "There may not be any traffic restrictions out there in space, but in Lompoc an astronaut has to obey the same rules as anybody else."

Cooper, an Air Force Captain and one of the seven Project Mercury spacemen, had been cited for making an illegal U-turn in this town 150 miles north of Los Angeles.

Barbara Burns Hiding

The 22-year-old daughter of the late comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns left General Hospital last night against the advice of her doctors.

'Monkey Trial'

SALEM, Ill. (UPI)—John T. Scopes, defendant in the famed Dayton, Tenn., "Monkey Trial" in 1925, will not take part in tomorrow's dedication of a statue of William Jennings Bryan, the man who successfully prosecuted him.

Ceremony officials were advised that Scopes became ill with a stomach disorder Thursday night. He was staying at the home of a sister, Mrs. Tom Clark, in Paducah, Ky.

Scopes, a native of Paducah, now lives in Shreveport, La. Ceremony officials said a doctor advised him not to continue the trip to Salem, where he once lived. Scopes was a member of the 1919 Salem High School graduating class addressed by Bryan.

14 Die In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—Fourteen persons died in Algeria yesterday under rebel attack by hand grenade, bomb, pistol and knife. Authorities said 17 were wounded.

A Moslem band lobbed a hand grenade into a restaurant in Medea, about 75 miles south of here, and then sprayed the room with machinegun fire.

Adult School Courses Approved

The Marin Junior College District board Thursday night approved the fall semester adult school courses and instructors recommended by Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of extended day and adult education.

The vote was 4-0, trustee George G. Washburn having gone home by the time this item was reached.

Three new courses will be offered: A class in savings and loan principles to be taught by Jack Goodwin; a class in contemporary painting and sculpture to be taught by Mrs. Nancy Clarke Hayes; and a class in English and general physics to be taught to members of the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais.

Briggs proposed the courses for the radar men be taught on the mountain instead of on the campus because he was assured their commander could more easily arrange their attendance there than if they had to come down to campus level on their own. This was regarded as the understatement of the evening.

There will be apprentice courses in auto mechanics, carpentry, electronics, painting, plumbing and sheet metal work. Briggs said most would be taught by persons now on the faculty.

2nd Rider Convicted

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The second of 192 Freedom Riders scheduled for trial here was convicted yesterday by an all-white jury which deliberated about 15 minutes.

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A flaming F-100 jet fighter hurtled into a residential area yesterday, killing 2-year-old Tibby Lynn Tuttle, injuring several others and turning a peaceful street into chaos.

The pilot, First Lt. W. H. Barbour parachuted to safety. He was flying from Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, S.C., to Nellis Air Force Base, Nev. He was stopping at Tinker Air Force Base to refuel.

The pilot told Tinker his plane was on fire and he bailed out. The plane crashed two miles north of the base in suburban Midwest City, hitting in the backyard of Mrs. Foy Hurst, who was not at home. It glanced off two houses and then exploded. The fuselage and engine ripped through the Tuttle residence, killing the youngster.

You Know, Ivan, It's Like Jazzy

MOSCOW (AP) — From now on jazz is in around here, man, but it's got to be Soviet style. You know, with melody, harmony, rhythm and all that stuff.

This is the word from the Soviet Union's leading "dzhaz" composer, Aleksander Tsfasman.

In an article in Izvestia, Tsfasman said he doesn't like the bad press jazz has been getting in Soviet newspapers.

"When do they mention jazz?" the composer asked. "Only when it appears as an accomplice to criminal offenses and leads dissolutes of the inner 'sweet life' to the defendant's bench."

Even in the movies, he complained, a positive hero is backed up with national songs and "for the negative one — jazz."

This has got to stop, Tsfasman said, adding: "Jazz has firmly entered into our daily life and has become an integral part of our musical culture."

He noted that in Russia more than 3,000 jazz bands are playing in various locales.

"No less important is the question of professional training," Tsfasman went on. He feels the time has come to open classes in music schools to train jazz band leaders, musicians and vocalists.

Sunny Hills, School Board Meeting Set

For the first time since they began wrangling several months ago, leaders of the San Anselmo School District Board and the Sunny Hills Presbyterian Orphanage will hold a joint meeting next Wednesday, San Anselmo Schools Supt. Stephen Parodi said today.

He said the full district board will meet with a committee from the orphanage at 2 p.m. at Sunny Hills over the orphanage's opposition to the district's plans to acquire Sunny Hills land for a new grade school.

After this joint meeting, the district leaders will adjourn and hold a meeting of their own at Isabelle Cook School, Parodi said.

In the battle of news releases between the two groups, Sunny Hills announced July 11 it had hired lawyers to fight any condemnation of its land.

The district meanwhile has sought to change the boundaries of its proposed school site so as not to include any of the land Sunny Hills seeks to have rezoned from single residential to commercial.

Last Monday night the San Anselmo Planning Commission delayed decision on Sunny Hills' request for a rezoning of Parcels 3 and 4, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue.

The planners scheduled a special meeting for Sept. 11 to discuss the Sunny Hills request further.

The school officials say Sunny Hills land is required because of "pressing need for another school site." E. T. Hermann, chairman of the Sunny Hills board, has said the orphanage might be forced out of business if a school is built on its property.

Tamalpais Adult Evening School To Open Sept. 11

Counseling services are available, Russell said, for students wanting assistance and courses may be taken for credit toward high school graduation if prior application of intention is made.

A fee of $4 will be charged for all regular courses. There is no fee for classes in fundamentals, Americanization and English for the foreign born.

A special course in investments will be offered at Tam High by Jess J. France Jr., San Rafael investment broker. Six meetings will be held beginning Sept. 18 and concluding Oct. 23.

things about the personnel system are out of date. He called for "modernization" in a letter of last March 30. This won support from Chairman William D. Fusselman. But Julius H. Selinger, head of the personnel commision, put up vigorous objections and the matter was dropped.

Bruce said that next week he intends to place the matter before the supervisors again. He expects to ask appointment of a special committee, including both Selinger and a representative of the department heads to go over the personnel system.

Selinger said he would cooperate in a new attempt at modernizing procedures.

Typical of special examinations currently being held was that for the newly created office of collector of delinquent county bills.

Miss Hughes held this examination last week. It attracted 50 applicants which preliminary screening cut to 25. These appeared for two days of oral examination. To handle this Miss Hughes brought in experts in the field—one from the state, one collector from another county, and Fred C. Robbins who has long run a well known collection agency in San Rafael. As a result, nine applicants were certified.

Bruce and Miss Hughes sometimes encounter vacancies that are hard to fill. At present they need a medical social worker to operate under County Physician Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., and a radio technician operator for the county communications department. Both jobs will be open at the end of this month but applicants of proper qualifications are so far lacking. Examinations of experience record is the chief procedure in such cases.

After the merit ordinance became effective in 1951 the Personnel Commission conducted examinations. But now it functions primarily as an appeal body. Its exact duties and functions may be among the matters tackled if and when "modernization" is undertaken.

Bruce's recommendations have included speeding up the recruiting and examination process, and making it more flexible; including field practice and other practical tests as far as possible; using examinations primarily for qualification and evaluation rather than ranking and several points giving more power to department heads.

One of Mountanous's objections was to the fact that a department chief is given five eligible names at a time rather than the whole list. Bruce thinks there is merit to this criticism though he says that some systems restrict appointment to the top three names.

Bruce has suggested that the department head needn't interview all those certified, also that use of promotional examinations might be optional.

He feels Mountanous was right in wanting to be present at examinations. Now the department head is barred.

One of Bruce's recommendations of last spring ran:

"Decisions as to recruiting methods, whether an examination is to be given, type of examination, weighing factors, timing, etc., should be made by the personnel director working with the department head, under the general supervision of the board of supervisors."

Of even more interest to department heads was:

"The right of department heads to manage their departments effectively and to dispense with unsatisfactory employees without undue harassment needs further strengthening. This may be accomplished by specifically placing the burden of proof on the employee in all appeal proceedings."

OSCAR
Wandering days end

Hub Lions' Lion Back Home Again

He and his partner, Benny, an identical lightweight metal lion, were out to advertise the Lions Club "white cane day" to raise funds for the blind. Benny, who sat in front of the San Anselmo fire house for the day, was left alone.

The club thought the theft had been only a "gag," perhaps by members of another club, reports Harry Brogioli, a past president of the group.

Yesterday two boys, about 12 or 13, told him they knew where the Oscar was. He had been stored in a San Anselmo garage, after having been heisted by older youths.

Brogioli declined to identify heisters, keeper or finders. The two young boys got $25 each for finding Oscar, who has returned to his home with Benny in the back yard of Brogioli's home, 324 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

Audubon Society Takes Option On Ranch Land

The Marin Audubon Society announced today it has taken a first option to buy the 500-acre Canyon Ranch on Shoreline Highway between Stinson Beach and Bolinas for $300,000.

William S. Picher, president, said the group seeks to acquire the land to provide a sanctuary for the large colony of great blue herons and American egrets which nest on the ranch and to create a recreation center for Marin young people's groups.

He said the society hopes within the three months of the option period to raise by donations and pledges sufficient funds to warrant its taking up the option from the present owners, the Tevis Land and Livestock Co. and Mrs. Suzanne de Tessan.

The society is receiving donations at P.O. Box 441, Tiburon, Picher said. He reported that in event the option is not taken up, all contributions will be returned to the donors.

"No other site in the county offers educational and recreational opportunities so diverse and rewarding as Canyon Ranch," Picher said. "Its proximity to Stinson Beach, Duxbury Reef, Bolinas Lagoon and to the trails and lakes of Tamalpais State Park make it ideal as a center for camping, hiking and swimming."

Picher added, "The ranch would also be a convenient overnight camping headquarters for groups visiting Stinson Beach State Park and the Point Reyes Seashore Area. Because of the varied terrain of the ranch and the diversity of the nearby coastline, it would provide an ideal center for nature study."

Officers Search For Suspect In Marin Stabbing

Sheriff's deputies searched today for a 50-year-old, six-foot, 170-pound laborer accused of stabbing a Marin City man with a four-inch knife in a vacated apartment for no apparent reason last night.

The wanted man was identified as Walter Lee.

Sheriff's Deputy H. E. Morgan said Lee is suspected of stabbing Ennis Bowie, 43, of 9 Cole Drive, Marin City, in Building B-2. Bowie said he could give no reason for the atttack unless it was because Lee had been drinking.

Bowie was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was treated for a wound in the right chest and pronounced in satisfactory condition today.

Bolinas Motor Traffic Discussed

Directors of Bolinas Community, Inc. had no official meeting last night for lack of a quorum but spent more than an hour discussing closing the beach to motor traffic.

Some 25 persons attended the meeting but only five directors of the seven needed for a quorum showed up, Jack B. Lowe, president, reported. Residents generally have agreed to closing both the Brighton and Wharf street beach entrances to cars, motorcycles, scooters and horses, Lowe said.

Directors are expected to take action at their Sept. 29 meeting and request the moves from the Marin Board of Supervisors.

Judge Brusatori Is Doing 'Better'

Marin Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori had a "better night" last night at San Rafael General Hospital where he has been confined since Aug. 7.

He was taken to the hospital after suffering what was termed a "mild" heart attack at his home. No visitors are yet allowed, hospital authorities reported.

tion" in the divided city must go and claimed the right to take control of the access routes—land, water and air—after Moscow signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

The State Department has no comment on Ulbricht's remarks. U.S. officials consider him only a Moscow puppet.

The Western ambassadorial group which has been conferring in Washington on the Berlin crisis had little trouble agreeing on a firm stand in their new note to Moscow. But the Allies are having more difficulty thrashing out an answer to another Soviet note.

This Soviet document, dated Aug. 3, spoke of negotiations for peaceful settlement of the German issue but did not retreat from proposals the West deems unacceptable. The West's problem: Whether to enter into negotiations with the Communists soon or hold off for a while.

France's President Charles de Gaulle has let it be known he sees no good in rushing into negotiations—not so long as the Russians continue their Berlin threats and show no willingness to modify their position.

The United States, Britain and West Germany lean toward early negotiations. They feel too much delay could allow the crisis to grow beyond the chance of peaceful settlement.

One possible high-level contact between the West and the Soviet Union could be at New York next month when the foreign ministers attend early sessions of the U.N. General Assembly's fall meeting.

U.S. authorities said no decision has been reached as to the time or place for negotiations.

The State Department booklet on Berlin published yesterday outlines, as Rusk put it, "our patient and persistent efforts to resolve the issues involved by peaceful means."

The 48-page booklet, containing photographs and maps, compares the two parts of Germany and says 16 million inhabitants of the Eastern zone are ruled by the Soviet Union "through its Communist creature, the East German regime which calls itself the German Democratic Republic."

"That regime," the pamphlet continues, "is neither democratic nor a republic. It was not chosen by the people it controls and has never been freely endorsed by them."

On the other hand, the government of West Berlin, states the booklet, "is the only freely elected government behind either the Iron or the Bamboo Curtains."

Wrong Trustee Named As Having Abstained

The Independent-Journal yesterday reported the Marin Junior College District board voted 4-to-0 Thursday night, with George G. Washburn abstaining, to approve continuation of the parent education program. This was in error.

The reporter's notes show Washburn voted with the majority and it was trustee Rupert E. Kempf who abstained.

The tournament will be held at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael 24 hours a day until Oct. 15. Bowlers $1 entry fee will go to the Guide Dogs for the Blind. Their scores will be on a handicap basis and can be from any league or individual play as long as a bowler is entered in the tournament, explained Maynard.

Two hundred forty-two farmer-employers in Marin County and an undetermined number of other employers of agricultural labor served by the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment will be affected by a 1961 amendment to the California Unemployment Insurance code.

The amendment extends disability insurance and hospital benefits to agricultural workers.

Charles J. Brady, departmental auditor in charge in the San Rafael office, 807 E Street, said he will be glad to provide detailed information to farmers on request.

He said employment department headquarters in Sacramento will send registration forms by Sept. 12 to about 35,000 employers identified by federal records available to the state.

DEBUTANTE GREETS GUESTS

The stately San Rafael home of the late Capt. Robert Dollar was the setting yesterday afternoon of a reception for his granddaughter, Heidi Hickingbothan, who will be a Winter Ball debutante in Berkeley Dec. 22. Here Heidi and her mother, Mrs. Joseph Hickingbotham Jr. stand in the drawing room, to greet the 400 guests, who later strolled through the dining room with its white chrysanthemum, daisy and carnation arrangements, and the terrace which was hung with a canopy for the party. An orchestra played background music. Heidi's white organdy dress was trimmed with yellow and white daisy embroidery and a green belt. Her mother chose yellow organza and her grandmother, Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont, greeted guests in a blue and yellow chiffon gown. Heidi was graduated from Dominican in June and will enter Briarcliff Junior College next month. MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

It's A Big Weekend At Lagunitas Club

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

This is the big weekend for Lagunitas Club members and their friends. The invitational mixed doubles tournament is being played on the courts today and the finals will be tomorrow. Tonight there will be an informal dinner dance at the club.

Several cocktail parties will precede it. One will be given at the Alexander McAndrews' home in Ross. Co-hosting the party with Mr. and Mrs. McAndrew are her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dibblee (Jennifer McCone) of Merced. Mrs. Dibblee and her two children are visiting here for the month of August. Her brother, Michael McCone, and his wife will come over from San Francisco for the party. Missed from the family group will be the Peter McAndrews who are vacationing for two weeks at Fallen Leaf.

Last night the houseguests of the McAndrews, Senator and Mrs. James Cobey and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Temple, all of Merced, arrived for the weekend, the party and the Lagunitas Club events.

Carl and Harriet Brown are giving a cocktail party before going on to the club tonight.

WHEN PINKIE POMEROY was honored at a tea Thursday by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Paul Case of Sausalito at the Century Club in San Francisco, three generations of a number of families were present. Taking turns pouring were Mrs. Cases' friends, Mesdames Samuel D. Archibald, Raymond Thayer, Wallace Scott, Frank Stratford, John Koenig, John Sutthoff, B. M. Brooks, George Egleston, Watt Long, Stephen Bechtel, William Waste, William Booth, E. Covington Pringle, the hostess' daughter, Mrs. David Plant, her daughter-in-law Mrs. John N. Pomeroy, and her niece, Mrs. John Dey, who is visiting here from Coral Gables, Fla. Assisting them were Mrs. E. M. Shelton and Mrs. Doremus Papworth and Pinkie's two 14 year old cousins, Ann Pomeroy and Susan Plant, and Mary Riley.

Pinkie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pomeroy of Sausalito, whose real name is Margaret will make her debut Dec. 28 in Spartanburg, S.C., her mother's former home and the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur F. Cleveland. Her parents will honor her at a dancing party Sept. 7 at Hazelmont, their Sausalito home. Pinkie, a graduate of Ashley Hall, Charleston, S.C., will be a sophomore at University of California, where she is an Alpha Phi this fall.

For the tea Pinkie wore a full skirted pink organza frock and held a small bouquet of garnet roses. Her mother wore a full skirted gown of cocoa brown chiffon over black. Mrs. Case was gowned in a Sophie model, black brocade background with deep red roses.

A REAL GESTURE of appreciation was made by Frank and Mary Baumgarten who returned Wednesday from a delightful three weeks cruise on an Italian cargo ship, Gallileo Ferraris. They enjoyed sight seeing at ports of call, the delicious meals aboard ship and their accommodations and particularly the friendliness of the young officers and crew. They talked about this on their way home from the ship which had docked on the Oakland side and decided that they were going to do something to show their appreciation.

Most of the young men would stay aboard ship, they knew, as they did not have money at the rate of exchange) to go sightseeing. So when they arrived at their home, Ridgeview Farm in Fairfax, they threw down their luggage and then Mary, driving one car and Frank the other, went back to the ship and invited eight of the officers to join them. They took them on the "grand tour" then up to their "farm" where the Italians were particularly interested in the stables and then over to Wally and Ida Scott's home on the Belvedere Lagoon. Ida wasn't home but Wally gave the visitors a warm welcome and then the sailors had a busman's holiday taking turns at sailing in Wally's boat. Then it was back to the ship to end the big day.

On the Galileo Ferraris the Baumgartens sailed to Vancouver, B.C. There they visited Sally and Dick St. John, formerly of Fairfax. They were also shown the sights in Tacoma by Sally's mother, Mrs. Joseph Gilpin, who has just built a new home. In Seattle Frank and Mary contacted the Daniel Warners formerly of Ross. Dan is now teaching at the University. Canadian friends also entertained the Baumgartens in Vancouver.

And was Frank surprised to meet in a Vancouver store Wally Hickman and Bill Waste, who with their spouses were on their way back from Jasper National Park. Frank and Mary stayed a couple of days at the Empress Hotel in Victoria and they cruised around Juan de Fuca Strait and stayed at Salt Spring Island, which they found delightfully quaint.

Now Mary is busy with preparations for the luncheon she will give Thursday in honor of Patricia James and Mary Campion, who will make their debut at the San Francisco Cotillion Dec. 27. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Balfour James of Ross. Mary, who has been traveling in Europe this summer, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Campion of San Francisco.

Cope Family Returns Home After Two Years In Geneva

The Caleb Copes and their daughters, Susan, 16, Sally, 12, and Molly, 9, have returned to Mill Valley after more than a two-year holiday in Geneva, Switzerland.

It wasn't exactly a holiday for the girls, for they attended the International School in Geneva, where there are students from 63 countries. They are now looking forward to returning to Dominican this fall.

Cope, an architect, and his wife, had more time to follow their own interests, and during school vacations the family covered 15 countries in western Europe.

"We were really able to see the countries," said Mrs. Cope, "because we drove everywhere in our own car, and all of us learned to speak French. We were particularly impressed with the chateau country on the Loire in France."

In Geneva Mrs. Cope became a member of the American Women's Club, which is international in scope, was on the committee for the American library and active in work with the guild of the "American Church."

"They called it the American Church," she explained, "though it was really Episcopal, because it was center of English speaking activities in the city."

Music is a major interest of the Copes and they were disappointed not to be able to attend music festivals, which did not occur during vacations. But they enjoyed the performances of the famous Orchestre de la Swisse Romande, and they were able to see the passion play at Oberammergau.

The family traveled both ways by ship, landing on the rerun journey at New York City, where they picked up a new car and drove home to Mill Valley. They are staying temporarily in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Aird of Mill Valley, who are in Europe.

Easy Gourmet Treat

Ladylike Season For Campus Coeds

This will be a ladylike season for campus belles.

Blouson and princess-style dresses in blues, reds, browns and yellows, solids and plaids are on the hangers of high school and college girls.

Show-the-arms may work its way into the after-sports wardrobe.

A fashion-minded girl may invest in some of the high-style fur trimmed or lined coat popular this season, hardly the dish-of-tea for limited budgets. Many have invested in big dramatic colorful capes and coats with enormous pockets.

Height will disappear in hair-dos gradually this fall, and by winter there could be a definite trend to flat top neat hairdos.

Sweaters are still long, but are smooth. Woolknits and mohair reflect the trend to casual rather than a careless look.

Pearls reflect the good taste that has come over young people.

UPSTON WEDDING IN EAST

Marie Andree Gignoux became the bride of John E. Upston Jr. last Saturday afternoon at the Cathedral Church of St. Luke in Portland, Me. The young couple is spending a wedding trip at the Gordon Tevis home in the Valley of the Moon while the Tevises are in Europe.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John E. Upston of Kentfield and the late Major General Upston. The bride's parents are Judge and Mrs. Edward T. Gignoux of Portland, Me.

Gwendolyn Patterson of Westport, Conn. was maid of honor, and other attendants were Corolan Poett of Hillsborough, Diane Hay of Cumberland Foreside, Me., Mary Maltby of Falmouth Foreside, Me., and Sandra Thaxter and Sara Pew of Portland, Me.

Thomas T. Mein of Woodside was best man for the bridegroom.

Ushers were Edward T. Gignoux Jr. of Cumberland Foreside, Me., Sidney W. Thaxter of Portland, Philip Gignoux of New York, Michael Rapuano, Buck's County, Pa.; and Gavin Scott of Montreal. James W. Aubrey of New York was the ringbearer.

Mrs. Sanborn Reports On Gold Star Home

Mrs. Henry R. Sanborn spoke on her visit to the Gold Star Mothers home in Long Beach following her visit there with Colonel Sanborn, who was attending the American Legion convention in Los Angeles in June. Mrs. Sanborn told the Marin Chapter how the home is run and of its facilities for retired couples when she spoke at the chapter's first fall meeting, held at the Novato home of Mrs. George Carpenter of Novato.

Honored guest of the chapter has been Mrs. Annetta Bumps of the San Antonio, Tex., chapter, who has been visiting in Marin for several weeks.

Peninsula Residents Vacation, Entertain

By CORENA GREEN

Mollie and Nancy Love of Belvedere made a one day round trip by air to New York just to have lunch with their father. This was just prior to Mollie's departure for Marin's Girl Scout Camp at Treasure Mountain. The two girls, with their younger sister Elizabeth, will return to New York shortly for a longer visit. They will be back home before school opens.

The David H. Walkers of Belvedere have just returned from several weeks in the south. In San Diego they rented a trailer and traveled down the Gulf Coast of Baja California to San Felipe, where they camped on the beach. Their itinerary also included a trip without the trailer down Baja California's west coast and a week in southern California visiting relatives.

Mrs. John Wylie of Belvedere entertained at a luncheon for her stepdaughter Lisa Wylie who is visiting from the east.

The William Kings who have been visiting the Frank Kings of Belvedere have returned to their home in Panama City, Fla. The relationship between the two King families will someday cause a genealogist many a gray hair. William is Frank's father and Mrs. William King is Mrs. Frank's sister. This presents all sorts of interesting combinations of relationships. Mrs. Frank King's niece, Miss Patty Persons, has also been a visitor and has returned to Memphis.

Mrs. W. C. Witter and her son Jack have been to Tuolumne Meadows on a pack trip.

The Charles Blacks of Tiburon and their three children have been in Yosemite. Anne will soon return to the University of Cincinnati and Tony is off to San Jose State as a freshman.

The Donald Mitchells have moved from Little Reed heights to a new home in Del Mar Estates. A surprise cocktail party was given them by their old neighbors as a housewarming followed by dinner at Tiburon Tommie's.

The John Hoffmires also of Little Reed Heights are off to Lake Tahoe with their four boys including brand new Tommy. Also at Tahoe have been the Victor Banks of Hillhaven while their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Michell N. Abramson, Jr., have been touring the Pacific Northwest.

Off for Hawaii on Friday, for a week were the Lowell Airolas of Little Reed Heights. Other Tiburon residents now in the Islands are Susan De Berry and Janet Zeigler, who left last week with Janet's father, James Zeigler, for a two-weeks stay. While there they will visit Mr. and Mrs. James Crase, who have just returned there following a month visit with their daughter, Mrs. Harold Green of Tiburon and her family. When the Crases returned to the island they were accompanied by their granddaughter Elizabeth.

Houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stanton Jr. has been Wendy Donaldson. Wendy formerly lived in Tiburon with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donaldson who moved to New York. The Donaldsons have since moved to Dallas.

Other vacationers are the Raymond Menzels and their five children, who have been camping up the Pacific Coast; the Al Smetanas and their four girls, who are driving to the east coast to visit relatives; the Carl Coombes, who with family and boat are at Meeks Bay, and Mrs. Thomas Drohan and her children have been staying at her family's ranch near Sonora.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Errors Often Come To Light When Playing In Tournament

Many a slip goes unnoticed in ordinary rubber bridge that would come to light if the hand were played in a tournament.

When this hand was played in a tournament, recently, twelve declarers made four notrump on the South hand. The thirteenth declarer was unlucky enough to go down at three.

The play went very quickly at twelve of the tables. South won the first trick with the queen of hearts and led a spade to finesse with dummy's ten. This enabled him to try a club finesse.

South led another low spade to dummy's jack and took a second club. Then he got to dummy with the ace of spades for a third club finesse. By this time he could lead out the ace of clubs to capture East's king. Five clubs, three spades, one heart and one diamond gave the declarer the first ten tricks.

SOMETHING WRONG: Have you spotted the slip? Something went wrong at the first twelve tables, but nobody noticed it. It came to light when some of the players asked what happened at the thirteenth table.

It was very simple. South won the first heart, led a spade to dummy's ten and tried a club finesse. Then South led another low spade, just as all the other declarers had.

West could see what was going on, so he put up the king of spades on the second round of that suit. Declarer could still win three spade tricks, but he could win only two of them in dummy. That meant he could take only two club finesses. Down one.

This is one of the reasons for trying duplicate bridge, if you haven't already done so. You learn from everybody else's good and bad plays, as well as from your own.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump. You would bid one diamond in response to one club, but your hand is not strong enough for a response of two diamonds.

Music Scholarships Awarded Marinites

Five music scholarship awards, instead of the expected four, were announced today by the Marin Music Chest.

Four instrumentalists—three girls and a boy—were named winners following auditions held for 16 contenders between 14 and 19 years old at Angelico Hall of Dominican College. But so impressed were the judges by the performance of a 15-year-old vocalist that a fifth scholarship was made available late yesterday by Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain, Mrs. Raymond Thayer and Mrs. Samuel Archibald to award to her, announced Mrs. Archibald, who is Music Chest president.

The five winners are: Kathleen Winslow, 14, pianist; Sharon Johnson, 15, violinist; Mary Hall, 17, pianist; Russell Taylor, 15, organist, and Jan McCready, 15, vocalist.

Miss Winslow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Winslow of Tiburon. She is a sophomore at Katharine Branson School in Ross and has studied piano five years. Her present teacher is Mrs. Inga Cohelan of Fairfax.

Sharon is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Johnson of San Rafael and is a junior at San Rafael High School. She is concert-mistress of the high school orchestra and Marin Youth Orchestra. Sharon is studying with Carol Weston of San Francisco. Her ambition is to get a music scholarship to Stanford University when she graduates from San Rafael High.

Mary is a daughter of Dr. Byron Hall of Belvedere and Mrs. Elizabeth Hall of Kentfield. She is a student at Katharine Branson School in Ross, entering her senior year. Her interest other than music is in dramatics, and her ambition is to make music her career. Miss Hall is studying music with Faith France of Ross.

Russell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Taylor of Mill Valley. He has studied organ for four years, and also is an accomplished pianist. Russell is a sophomore at Marin Catholic High School.

Jan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland M. McCready of Stinson Beach, is a soprano, and has studied voice for three years. Her present teacher is Bella Resek of Mill Valley. The young singer is a junior at Tamalpais High School, is a member of the high school choir and has appeared in four school productions: "Brigadoon," "The Tender Land," "Pajama Game" and "Amahl and the Night Visitors." She is interested also in dramatics.

"With so much talent to select from, it was difficult to make a choice," Mrs. Archibald said.

The winners will be introduced to the public during intermission at the closing concert of the season, Sept. 10 at 8:30 p.m. in Forest Meadows, San Rafael, featuring Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers.

Opening Delayed At Kindergarten

West Marin School kindergarten will not get under way for about three weeks after the Sept. 5 opening of school, Supt. George B. Stratton said today.

Construction of new rooms at the school will not be completed until that time, Stratton said.

Parents may register new pupils every day from 1 to 4 p.m. at the West Marin School. Registration for the Inverness School will be on Aug. 31 from 1 to 4 p.m., Stratton said.

Roofer Found Guilty Of Bilking Sisters

A Sacramento roofer was found guilty yesterday of trying to cheat two elderly San Anselmo sisters of about $800 last May.

A jury of seven women and five men found Vernon G. Lawson, 24, guilty of attempted grand theft. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court set Monday morning for sentencing.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales put Josepha Daniel, 82, and Emma Daniel, 85, on the witness stand, but neither was able to identify Lawson as the man who came to repair their home and tried to get $800 from them. Bales, however, produced a check for $800, written by Josepha Daniel, which Lawson had tried to cash.

The two sisters live at 101 Ross Avenue in San Anselmo.

Lawson, defended by Harold Hayes, contended that the Daniel sisters had contracted with him to repair and repaint the entire house for $800. He alleged that it was a legitimate contract, and he had no intention of taking money from anyone.

The jurors deliberated for more than five hours before ruling against Lawson.

Bids To Be Advertised For Widening Of Span

Advertising for bids on the $1,200,000 widening program for the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge should start in about a week, the general manager reported yesterday.

The job was to have been put out to bids some time ago, but the U.S. Army, which controls the land on which the bridge sits, interjected a number of requirements the bridge district was forced to accept.

The general manager, James Adam, said working plans and specifications including the desired Army changes, will be completed next week and turned over to the military authorities. Simultaneously bids will be advertised.

"We should have the Army's approval before the deadline for signing a contract with the winning bidder," Adam noted.

He asked and received from the bridge directors $3,000 with which to pay for special engineering services needed in connection with the Army's wiring requirements.

The directors yesterday also:

1. Heard a report that a proposal of the State Highway Department to build a roadway so that motorists could drive from south-bound lanes under the bridge to Vista Point, would cost $264,000, of which the state would pay only $40,000. An alternative would be a 20 to 25 car parking area on the west side of the bridge costing $40,000, which the state would pay for entirely.

2. Authorized advertising for bids for a new tow truck and a new tower truck.

3. Received a report from California Highway Patrol Capt. T. F. Parnow that 1,176 citations were issued on bridge approaches from Jan. 1 to June 30 for "accident causing violations" and an additional 250 arrests made for non-moving violations, as well as "many thousands of driver contacts made where a verbal warning or notice of Vehicle Code violation were issued."

4. Referred to the building and operating committee a proposal by Pacific Productions, Inc., of San Francisco that a motion picture of bridge operations be made in connection with the Silver Anniversary of the bridge in May next year.

Air crews, guided by radar teams from the ground will fly high and low-level daylight and night missions. The F-101 jets from the base will fire air-to-air rockets and missiles at jet drone planes.

Crusade Leaders To Tour School

ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Aug. 26, the 238th day of the year with 127 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1873, Dr. Lee De Forest, whose invention of the three element vacuum tube made modern electronics technology possible, was born.

In 1883, the great volcano at Krakatoa in the Netherlands East Indies began to erupt. It destroyed two thirds of the island and an estimated 36,000 persons lost their lives.

In 1920, the secretary of state declared the 19th amendment to the Constitution, providing for suffrage for women, operative.

In 1948, Mildred Gillars, known to thousands of American soldiers as "Axis Sally" was flown to the United States from Berlin to face charges of espionage and treason.

A thought for today: German philosopher Immanuel Kant said: "Man should not allow himself to be governed by his feelings and inclinations, but by reason."

49ers Seek First Victory Against Vikings Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers and rookie Minnesota Vikings square off tonight with each club seeking its first win of the National Football League exhibition season.

Both clubs have dropped a pair of contests, but the 49ers have been the more impressive thus far. That's understandable, however, as the Vikings are beginning their first season as an NFL franchise.

A full house of approximately 29,000 is expected to watch the contest, largely because Norm Van Brocklin, current Viking coach and former NFL quarterback star, and Minnesota quarterback George Shaw both hail locally. Van Brocklin starred for the University of Oregon and Shaw grew up in Portland.

GAME ON TELEVISION
KTVU (Channel 2) will televise tonight's 49er-Viking game starting at 8:15

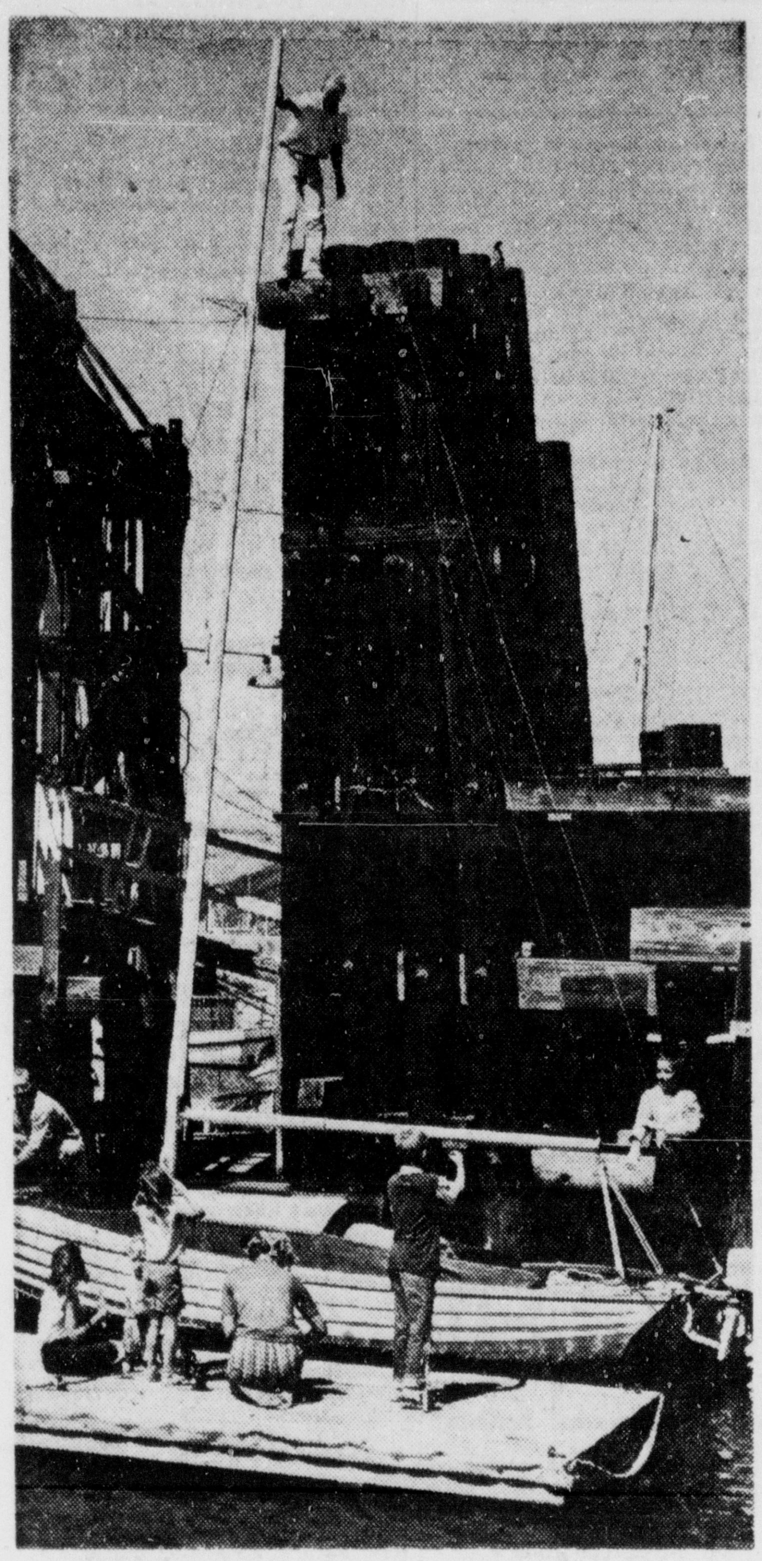
Three ex-49ers are now in the Viking fold. Halfback Hugh McElhenny heads the list, along with linebackers Clancy Osborne and Karl Rubke. All three are expected to start.

Forty-Niner Coach Red Hickey planned to go with John Brodie again at quarterback, with C. R. Roberts at fullback, and J. D. Smith and R. C. Owens at tight backs. Rookie end Bernie Casey will open in place of injured veteran Clyde Conner.

Defensive tackle Lou Cordileone, acquired from the New York Giants for veteran quarterback Y. A. Tittle, will start his first game for San Francisco.

Three 49ers, fullback Bill Cooper, kicker Tommy Davis and back Jim Johnson will miss action due to injuries.

San Francisco has been edged by the New York Giants, 21-20, and the Cleveland Browns, 27-24, while Minnesota has dropped contests to Dallas, 38-13, and Baltimore, 13-3.



SAIL HO, SAIL HIGH

Clipper Yacht Harbor salesman Ken Underwood has found a new use for the old Marinship ferry pier. Whenever a prospective boat buyer has rigging trouble, Underwood goes into his aerial act, climbs to the top of the ancient pilings and goes to work on the rigging. He is doing so here for prospect Bob Baum, of Sausalito, while an appreciative audience watches his daredevil tactics. Marin artists have also found good use for the ferry slip at Clipper. They have painted it from all angles and under all conditions and art classes regularly use the picturesque structure for class assignments, according to Clipper Yacht Harbor operator Shirley Morgan. SPORT SHORTS

Stoneham Insisted On Regular Lineup

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Short steps along the sports trail:

THE SAN FRANCISCO Giants' recent rise to pennant contention in the National League followed closely Horace Stoneham's insistence that Alvin Dark stop his Stengel-like platooning and put some semblance of a "set lineup" on the field from day to day.

When President George Weiss of the New York Mets was general manager of the New York Yankees, he once made this acid inquiry about widely publicized trader Frank Lane: "How many pennants has he won?" his listener replied: "None." Apparently Charlie Finley thought the same thing.

It's a shame the Boston Red Sox can't play all their games at home. They won 14 of their last 17 at friendly Fenway Park but recently lost nine of 10 road games.

NOW THAT Rod Laver and Roy Emerson of Australia have unexpectedly decided to compete in the national singles championships at Forest Hills next month, it seems our title may remain abroad for another year. Tony Trabert was the last United States' player to take the crown, back in 1955. Laver's acceptance Thursday made him the automatic favorite to add our title to his Wimbledon championship. Laver lost to fellow-Aussie Neale Fraser in our 1960 final.

ELSTON HOWARD, catcher of the New York Yankees, made his comment on his race for the American League batting title with Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers: "We're in our own little world. Once a week people take time out from the home run race to inquire what we're doing."

However, despite the home run furor, it's been a great season for pitchers. Joey Jay (18-8) needs five victories to achieve the biggest winning season by a Cincinnati flinger since Bucky Walters had a 23-8 record in 1944. Frank Lary (19-6) requires three wins to be the top Detroit Tiger hurler since Hal Newhouser's 26-9 in '45. Whitey Ford (21-3) needs one more triumph to be the New York Yankees' best winner since Lefty Gomez' 26-5 in '34.

CARL BRAUN, who will resume his playing career with the Boston basketball Celtics next season, says he once tried to use an arm-grab defense on Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors' seven-foot center. "But," says Carl, "Wilt just carried me right off my feet and up into the air. He took me so high, I got scared and let go in a hurry."

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates says the "human element" is the big difference between his world championship team of 1960 and his faltering Bucs this season. The players' averages are pretty close to those of 1960, but that doesn't mean a thing, he says. "It's when they hit safely," he explains, "and when they make the big play in the field that is the difference between a first-place team and a fifth-place outfit."

Football Contests Slated For Novato, Hamilton Youths

A pass-punt-kick competition for Novato and Hamilton Field Air Force Base boys will be held early in October in Novato, it was announced today.

Boys aged 6 through 10 may register from Monday through Sept. 25 at the L. J. Dervin Ford Co., 7401 Redwood Highway, Novato. The company is sponsoring the local tournament; the Ford Motor Co. sponsors the competition nationally.

The five winners in each age group in the local contest will win football uniforms; the five boys placing second will win warm up jackets and the third place winners will receive footballs.

Winners of the Novato competition may go on for regional and national competition. Five national winners and their fathers will see the National Football League championship game and attend a White House reception.

Exact date and site of the Novato competition has not yet been decided.

Babe 'Trails' Maris By Only 10 Games

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Babe Ruth, always a guy to rise to a challenge, now is only 10 games behind Roger Maris. And he's within four of Mickey Mantle.

With tongue in cheek, that's the way the three Yankee sluggers stand in their battle for the home-run record after Maris and Mantle again failed to add to their totals last night in New York's 3-0 victory at Kansas City.

Maris, who hasn't connected in three games, still has 50 after going 0-for-3 against left-hander Jim Archer of the A's in the Yanks' 128th game of the season. Mantle had two hits, both singles, in four trips against Archer and right-handed reliever Bill Fischer, leaving his home-run count at 46. He had belted just one in 12 games.

Ruth hit his 46th in game No. 132 and his 50th in game No. 138 en route to his record 60 in 1927.

Despite the lack of home runs, the Yankees held to a two-game lead in the American League race behind the five-hit pitching of Ralph Terry. Second-place Detroit won 6-0 at Washington in a game held to eight innings by rain, as Jim Bunning checked the Senators on two singles for the Tigers' second straight shutout success and seventh victory in eight games.

Third-place Baltimore beat Minnesota 5-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 3-2 in a battle for fourth place, and Boston won 12-6 at Los Angeles, peppering the Angels with four home runs.

The Yankees broke a scoreless duel after Archer (8-10) hit Maris with a pitch leading off the fourth inning. Maris scooted to second on Mantle's fly to deep left and then came in on Bill Skowron's single. The other two runs came in the ninth on singles by Mantle, Elston Howard, pinch-hitter Yogi Berra and Terry, who won his sixth in a row for an 11-1 record. Terry has a string of 22 scoreless innings.

Bunning (15-9), a lean right-hander, didn't allow a hit for 6⅓ innings at Washington, then gave up singles by Gene Woodling and Willie Tasby in the seventh for the second two-hitter of his major league career.

Tiburon '9' Hosts Jeffs Tomorrow; S.A. Plays Lodi

San Francisco Jeffersons, oldest semi-professional baseball organization in northern California, make their annual trek to Marin County tomorrow to battle the Tiburon Pelicans at Tiburon's Judge Field, 2:30 p.m.

Tiburon, with an 8-7 won-lost record on the season, probably will start righthander Buzz Wensloff on the mound with veteran lefty Fred DeMartini in relief.

Elsewhere tomorrow the Ongaro Plumbers of San Anselmo play host to the Lodi Bears at 1:30 p.m., Memorial Park in the Hub City.

Moonstruck Giants Eclipsed; Defensive Failures Blamed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ever hear that an eclipse of the moon is a bad omen.

The San Francisco Giants hope it's just superstition, because they and the moon were overshadowed last night. The streak-happy St. Louis Cardinals won 7-3 in their fifth straight and 10th in a row at home.

As the eclipse took place, some unnatural lunacies occurred on the playing field. The Giants came up with three errors, a wild pitch and a passed ball to give 20-year-old Ray Sadecki his 12th win against six losses. It was Billy O'Dell's fifth loss against four victories.

Despite their second straight setback the Giants remain five games behind the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Cards scored twice in the first inning. Outfielder Charley James hit a soft one near O'Dell and beat the pitcher to first.

James stole second and made it to third on an overthrow by Giant catcher John Orsino. He made it home on a single by Bill White. Ken Boyer had walked and a single by Don Taussig scored him to make it 2-0.

The four-run Cardinal fourth was too much for O'Dell, who was replaced by Sad Sam Jones.

CEPEDA ERROR

Pitcher Sadecki singled to right field but Orlando Cepeda lost the ball for an error and eventually threw to the plate. His throw was made worse by a Willie McCovey deflection and the situation worsened when Orsino missed the ball and Schaffer came home.

Sadecki went to third and O'Dell went to the clubhouse. Jones threw a wild pitch and Sadecki crossed the plate. The Cards put the seventh one across in the seventh. Sad Sam was taken out in the seventh and replaced by Bob Bolin.

Giant scoring came in the top of the fourth and in the eighth. Willie Mays clouted a triple and was brought in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda in the fourth.

In the eighth Eddie Bressoud walked, Joe Amalfitano singled and Jim Davenport hit a run-making double. Mays hit a grounder that made the Giants' third and final run.

Giant hurler Mike McCormick (10-12) faced Bob Gibson (8-10) today.

Old Pro Duke Helps Bums Snap Tailspin

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers' 10-game losing string is a thing of the past, and it was Duke Snider, their old power guy of the past, who shook them free of the slump.

The Duke, playing despite the pain of a chronic bum knee, capped a two-run inning with a triple and then hit a home run for the clincher in the third as the Dodgers clubbed first-place Cincinnati 7-2 in the opener of a four-game showdown with the Reds last night.

Oddly, the victory put second-lace Dodgers within 2½ games of the Reds in the National League race — exactly where they were when they started the losing string Aug. 14.

San Francisco, in third place, stayed five games behind as the Giants, after winning six straight, lost their second in a row, 7-3, at St. Louis. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 1-0, and Milwaukee and Philadelphia split 9-4 decisions in a twi-night pair.

PURKY SHELLED

Snider's slugging, making up for an 0-for-4 performance when he was moved into the lineup by Manager Walt Alston Thursday night, was matched by a pair of home runs by Frank Howard in the Dodgers' 11-hit assault on Bob Purkey (14-9) and two relievers.

Jones 13-5 Pick Over Clay On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Doug Jones (18-0) takes on Von Clay for the third time tonight and is the 13-5 choice to run his record in their personal rivalry to three-for-three.

The Madison Square Garden 10-rounder will be nationally televised by ABC starting at 7 p.m., PDT.

Jones, a New Yorker, won close decisions over Clay, of Philadelphia, twice last year at St. Nicholas Arena. Both are light heavyweights but the contract calls for both to come in over the 175-pound limit.

Hapless Rams Routed; Waterfield Mystified

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sometimes it is better to let things remain a mystery.

For instance, Coach Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams said last week he hoped to find out what type of team he had when it met the Cleveland Browns last night. You can bet now Waterfield wishes he didn't know.

Waterfield learned the awful truth as the Browns manhandled Los Angeles offensively and defensively to win their National Football League exhibition battle, 34-17, before 40,086 stunned fans at the Coliseum.

The Rams' offensive wall, which looked somewhat improved in two earlier pre-season games, appeared as hapless as ever. Even Waterfield was somewhat shocked by the team's inability to mount any type of offensive drive.

"Certainly we haven't played that bad in our previous games?" he questioned slowly. "We'll have to hope for improvement."

Waterfield then said what had already become evident to anyone in the Coliseum as he added, "we didn't block for our passers in the second half."

Indeed the Rams didn't, and they let a 10-7 halftime margin turn into a 34-10 Cleveland lead in the fourth quarter.

The Los Angeles defenses, which had showed strength in the club's first two outings, also fell apart before the likes of rambling Jim Brown and precision passer Milt Plum.

Football player Brown, whom Coach Paul Brown in the understatement of the year called "a good back," bashed for two touchdowns. Plum tossed scoring passes of 43 and 30 yards apiece to Leon Clarke and rookie Bob Crespino respectively.

Michigan Team Wins Pony World Series

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Hamtramck, Mich., reigns today as champs in Pony League baseball.

The team edged San Antonio 2-1 in 10 innings last night in the finals of the league's World Series.

Reg Ferrebee singled home both Hamtramck runs, one in the sixth that tied the game 1-1 and the other in the 10th.

Raiders Play In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The team that never has lost an exhibition football game, the San Diego Chargers, tries to keep its perfect record intact tomorrow when it hosts the Oakland Raiders in a pre-season American Football League battle at Balboa Stadium.

The Chargers, who didn't drop an exhibition game during their first year of operation last season in Los Angeles, are 2-0 during 1961 following two wins over the AFL champion Houston Oilers.

Looking for their first 1961 win, the Raiders open with a backfield that's been collected mostly from the University of Pacific at Stockton about 60 miles away. Quarterback Tom Flores, and halfbacks Jack Larscheid and Herman Urenda all hail from UOP.

Pastors Establish Systematic Visitation At Marin, San Rafael General Hospitals

A regular Protestant pastor is now assigned to be chaplain of the week at two Marin hospitals.

The Protestant Hospital Chaplains of Marin County systematically serve Marin General Hospital and this month started a program of calling at San Rafael General Hospital. Protestant chaplain service by ordained ministers at both Ross and Novato general hospitals is on an irregular schedule, and those hospitals are served mostly at patients' requests.

Catholic patients are called upon by priests from parishes near all Marin's hospitals. Schedules vary. At Ross a priest was reported by business manager Maxine Ferriario to call at least once a week from St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Mrs. Patricia Leonard, superintendent at San Rafael General said a priest from St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael calls daily, usually it is Rev. John Patroni, assistant pastor. Marin General has no regular schedule of priest visitation, said attendants.

At all the hospitals the priests are given a list of patients that are Catholic and then visit each patient who may have visitors. A specific minister of any faith is, of course, called at a patient's request.

The Protestant Chaplain's new service at San Rafael General was started by the organization's pastor - officers; Rev. Gearl S. Moyer of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madara (president); Rev. George F. Walker of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Tiburon (vice president), and Rev. Donald H. Baldwin of the Methodist Church of San Rafael (secretary.)

Some 20 other Marin pastors of almost all denominations are in the organization which schedules two pastors as "chaplain of the week," one for Marin General, and the other for San Rafael General. This week the chaplain at Marin is Rev. Harold Bonner of the Church of the Nazarine in San Anselmo; at San Rafael General it is Rev. Wallace Hough of the First Baptist Church of San Rafael.

Each chaplain wears a chaplain name-plate and cross in his lapel. He also consults a patient's file. The pastor's work in co-ordination with the hospital's volunteer workers. He is asked by the group to notify the pastor of the church of which a patient is a member. Tuesdays and Fridays are designated for calling.

Ross Hospital does have student ministers who visit as part of their required field work at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

They come about twice a week during the academic year, said Mrs. Ferriario.

Attendants at all the hospitals reported some religious reading materials are in their libraries for patients. Also the Marin County Library will mail patients who are members, any books or periodicals on religion, or any other subject it has. Volunteer workers may check out books for patients, said Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian.

Staff and patients at the hospitals as well as the chaplains and priests realize that the hospitals are non-sectarian, and in the words of San Rafael General administrator John H. Prescott, "patients, medical staff and personnel represent and respect all religions."

First Day Of School Exciting And Fun If Child Is Unafraid

Remember the thrill of your first day at school? There's never been another day like it, has there?

Do you have a child who will start school this fall? He'll be just as excited as you were. Do everything possible to make his first day a success. Go to school with him the opening morning. His teacher may not welcome you. That's okay. Just smile, and stay there. If your little one needs you, don't leave. The inconvenience to his teacher will be less important than his emotional welfare.

Stay at the back of the room. Say nothing. Do nothing. Just be where he can see you. After a while he'll feel safer. He can tell you when he no longer needs you. Then you can leave. But don't let him feel he's been deserted.

Is he ready for school? Does he know which room he'll be in? Where the restrooms are? How to find and use the playground? How to get to and from school safely? Has he had a good physical exam? Are you sure his eyesight is normal? And his hearing? Is he happy about school, and anxious to begin?

Remember this. If he makes a good start, he's set for a successful school career. If he makes a bad start, he may have lasting trouble. And the first day is the most important one of all.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I phoned my daughter's first grade teacher. I asked if my girl could meet her before the opening of school. She seemed offended, and told me not to bring her. Dr. Barbour, didn't you advise parents to have their first graders meet their teachers in advance?"

(A) Yes, I did. I'm sorry your teacher responded that way. Sensitive teachers know that starting school is a great step, often difficult, They realize that prior acquaintance with the teacher can help. Some teachers spend the week before school starts calling on the homes of their new students. I think all first grade teachers should do that, and be paid for it.

OPENING DOORS NO PROBLEMS

Billy O'Brien, 6, can't use either hand since he fell from a tree several weeks ago and broke both wrists. But he gets around the house just fine since his parents removed the door knobs and padded the shafts with some tape to give his teeth a good grip. Billy lives in Arlington, Minn. (AP Wirephoto)

Federal Tax Policies Will Remain The Same

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncertainties may pile up daily in this and that part of the globe but one thing businessmen can now be sure of: Federal tax policies will be about the same for another year.

This can affect some business planning, many tax returns, and also the hopes of the U. S. Treasury in holding down a prospective deficit that seems to grow and grow.

Businessmen who were eyeing some tax relief as an incentive for expanding their plants can forget it. There won't be any special help that way this year.

Those who were fearing a crackdown on expense spending as one of the pleasanter ways of doing business can relax. Congress has put all that over until next year, if then. And the same goes for the withholding at source of taxes on interest and dividend payments.

Those who are bemoaning the chance of losing present partial deductions of dividends from taxable income also can relax. That, too, has gone by the board.

The Internal Revenue Service may tighten up its scrutiny of returns and could be a little less lenient in allowing deductions, but changes along that line are a normal uncertainty in doing business.

True, the tax changes that President John F. Kennedy proposed early in the year had been running into increased opposition, and the final decision to postpone such revisions wasn't exactly unexpected.

But at least now business can plan along one line instead of having to set up alternates.

The biggest change in plans may come for those who were expecting to expand activities next year.

Most such expansion was probably based on indications that a general economic upswing is fairly certain. But the chance the proposed tax bill held out of getting some tax deductions doubtless will make a difference in some marginal cases.

The Democratic majority on the House Ways and Means Committee has promised to take up this proposal as the first order of business in 1962.

Such tax relief would cut into Treasury receipts, but the Treasury had counted on getting that much and more back from other provisions of the shelved bill. In addition to the withholding tax on dividends and some kinds of interest payments, and tighter rules on business expense accounts, the tax-raising proposals included a controversial tighter tax treatment of some income earned abroad.

How much the loss of this prospective take will cut from anticipated Treasury receipts is open to debate. But the Treasury now is looking to another source of increased revenue anyway.

That is the extra take it expects to come from present corporate and individual income taxes due to the expected surge in economic activity.

Barber Shop Style Singing Contest

Fifty members of the Marin Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will compete in the Northern California elimination in Alameda High School auditorium Sept. 9.

They will sing against more than a dozen other groups for the right to represent the area in the far western contest in San Diego next October. Winners of that contest will sing in the international competition in Kansas City next summer.

The chapter said tickets for the Alameda event may be obtained from Ed McKinney, 1023 E Street, San Rafael, or at the auditorium.

Hub Rotary Speech

Norman C. DeLaittre, governor of Rotary International District 513, will speak before the San Anselmo Rotary Club on Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the Legion Log Cabin.

Treasurer Should Urge Canada Visits

OTTAWA (UPI)—If U. S. Treasurer Elizabeth Rudel Smith wants more public support for her "colored money" campaign, she might encourage her fellow countrymen to visit Canada.

Contact with this country's multi-color currency seems to sell Americans on the idea.

A survey of U. S. visitors to Parliament Hill showed almost unanimous support for the Canadian system of printing each denomination on different colored paper. Even those who vetoed the idea for the United States did so no grounds of economy and not out of preference for their present one-color system.

The prime reason behind the conversion of most tourists to "colored money" appears to be the very point emphasized by Mrs. Smith—easier identification. Many of them also agreed with her that the varied colors produce a more attractive product.

"I think it would be wonderful to change to the Canadian system," said Clifford Eynon of Harbor Beach, Mich. "It certainly makes it easier to tell them apart."

"I find it easier to make mistakes with our bills," added Joseph Sczipucha of Jersey City, N. J. "It sure would be helpful to have each denomination a different color."

"I've found Canadian money more attractive and a bit easier to tell apart, but I don't think it would be worth all the trouble to change ours," he said.

Latest word from Washington indicated that the administration sides with Hicks. Mrs. Smith said this week after a meeting with Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon that her proposal had been "deferred."

Mrs. Smith, a National Democratic Committeewoman, lives in Kentfield.

Like It Or Not, Californians Must Think Of Whole State

Sometimes, when we Californians start fighting over water, smog, climate, tourists, anything, we forget that we are one state, vitally connected by economy, laws, government, association and many other things although physically partially divided in two by the Tehachapi Mountains.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown in a speech this week in National City brought the spotlight immediately to bear on our togetherness.

"We must never forget," he declared, "that our large volume of internal trade causes changes in one part of California to be quickly felt throughout the state's economy.

"In short, all Californians are in the same economic boat. In manufacturing alone, some 28,000 jobs are created in the Los Angeles-Long Beach Area because San Francisco Bay Area customers buy more Los Angeles products than San Franciscans sell in Los Angeles. If that demand should drop in San Francisco, unemployment would soon occur in Los Angeles."

We recall, too, recent studies of highway travel which showed that more than 50 per cent of the tourists coming into Redwood Empire state parks were from Southern California. These people are able to bring a flood of new money into our area because their part of the state is prospering.

As the governor pointed out, nearly half of all civilian jobs in California are created to supply private customers in California.

It is these economic facts of life which we sometimes forget when we get into arguments about who gets water where or how much of the state gas tax should go North or South.

We can't write off Southern California, much as we might sometimes feel like it. They can't afford to be without us. We, in fact, are a team working together in the fastest growing, soon-to-be the largest state in the Union.

We can reach our objectives sooner if we minimize the fact that we're from the North and they're from the South and work together for the best of everyone, for if it's good for them, it's good for us too.

A Free Fishing Hint

Although we enjoy the sport, we have never posed as fishing experts. But recently a friend who is an encyclopedia of fish lore gave us a tip to pass on to our readers. He considers it the secret of hot weather fishing.

Fish are like people, says this gentleman. Especially trout. During hot weather they lose their appetite. Therefore, they pass up big chunks of bait like a fellow turning down his third potato.

So says our friend.

Bouquets And Brickbats

BOUQUETS to the Marin Industrial Development Foundation for taking a constructive approach to the San Rafael tunnel abandonment and seeking outside, impartial investigation by the State Public Utilities Commission on repair costs and to San Rafael City Council for calling a meeting next Wednesday to discuss the problem.

A BRICKBAT to Doherty Drive, Larkspur, for not staying where the engineers put it.

A BOUQUET to Louis Joseph Oliver of Black Point on his 106th birthday last week.

A BOUQUET to Marin Shakespeare Festival and its director John Brebner for the six weekends of "Midsummer Night's Dream" which awakened Marin County to The Bard. Many children saw Shakespeare for the first time and at least one we know of, changed her school major from homemaking to dramatics as a result of seeing the show.

BRICKBATS to the supervisorial majority who succeeded in cutting the county tax rate 7 cents by putting off paying a civic center bill until next fiscal year and manipulating the unappropriated reserve fund.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ROBBERS ARE NOT EASILY DECEIVED

Those who specialize in evil seldom take anything for granted. They are not easily deflected from the pursuit of any goal they feel will result in their advantage.

Persons on the side of truth and justice should certainly not be any less persistent and painstaking. They should leave no stone unturned in achieving their objectives.

Don't let the Devil tempt you to be complacent. If you show as much enterprise on behalf of God's truth as others do in the spread of iniquity, you are bound to exert an influence for good.

> (Luke 16:8)

Instill in me, O Holy Spirit, a determination to push on despite all obstacles.

Chester Bowles Has Been Quietly Divested Of Authority, Responsibility

WASHINGTON — That storm-tossed problem, the present place and future role of Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles, has now been solved by a decidedly singular, quite conspicuously unannounced compromise.

To permit more orderly management of the State Department, Bowles has been quietly stripped of most of the customary policy-making authority and administrative responsibility of the principal Under Secretary of State. The Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, George Ball, has been given the responsibility and authority thus taken away from Bowles.

To satisfy Bowles, meanwhile, he has been left with his title and all its superficial perquisites. He has also been given a general commission to think large thoughts, on the ground that he is a good idea-man. And he may further receive a more specific commission to interest himself in the welfare of the undeveloped and uncommitted nations.

BALL, WHOSE gifts for decision and dispatch long ago commended him to President Kennedy, has become the principal Under Secretary of State in all but name. And Ball's deputy, Asst. Secy. Edwin M. Martin, must now carry most of the responsibility for economic affairs.

As is usual in such cases, the very existence of this peculiar new arrangement may be denied, or the shifts of authority and responsibility may be officially minimizd and made to seem trifling. But the Bowles compromise is a decidedly important and interestitng event.

AT THEIR FIRST White House luncheon, when President Kennedy told Bowles he had better take another job, Bowles did not get the message that he was being fired. Hearing that his words had fallen upon deaf ears, the President then sent an emissary to the State Department to tell Bowles he had indeed been fired. With Bowles' encouragement, the emissary returned to propose the precise compromise which has now been made.

This did not satisfy the President. He sent his emissary back to the State Department, to tell Bowles that the President wanted him out. There followed the weekend of the grandiose Bowles pressure campaign—the solicited message to the White House from Adlai Stevenson, the begged-for editorials, and all the rest. This was followed by the second White House luncheon, at which the President did not fire Bowles.

THE BEST guess is that the President finally consented to keep Bowles out of consideration for Secretary of State Dean Rusk. This is not to say that the Secretary of State made the smallest objection to the President's original plan to fire his Under Secretary. But after reflection, the President evidently decided he ought not to make Rusk the target of an organized pro-Bowles uproar at this particular juncture.

The President will never be satisfactorily served by his foreign policy-making apparatus, as long as it is staffed by a sort of human smorgasbord.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Hal Morgan Going To Quit As Demo Leader?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

CHIP DAY

Is Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin Democratic County Central Committee, going to resign? If so, when? Those questions are beginning to flicker around when groups of Democrats start talking shop.

Hal has been doing a lot of traveling lately in his business. He's been out of county much of the time and has had to be inactive. He often misses central committee meetings.

A COUPLE of left-over items from the Brown-McCarthy fracas:

Ex-Director of Motor Vehicles Robert I. McCarthy was seen leaving Sacramento—by bus. No driver's license?

Tom Carvey, president of the California Democratic Council, sent a telegram to Gov. Edmund G. Brown after McCarthy's bitter resignation letter was made public. The telegram said:

"The California Democratic Council opposes McCarthyism in all of its forms."

MARIN AND SONOMA Democratic clubs are hosting a reception and buffet supper for Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson in the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building on Thursday, Sept. 7.

The reception is scheduled for 6 p.m. with the buffet to start at 6:30.

Reservations — at an unbelievably low price — can be made in Marin with Mrs. Peter Krug of Larkspur or Mrs. Chester Bowles Jr., of Belvedere.

MARIN SENATOR John F. McCarthy will be the kick-off speaker at the California Young Republican College Federation's first annual leadership institute at Newport Beach.

McCarthy will open the three-day workshop on practical politics, club activities and membership Sept. 7.

The senator has been spending considerable time and speeches in Southern California recently. Almost like a candidate for statewide office. But what office?

Next Thursday McCarthy is scheduled to be in Yreka at a State Fact Finding Committee on Natural Resources meeting to study fish problems of Iron Gate Dam on the Klammath River.

TIME IS RUNNING out on the right of a county superintendent of schools to appoint replacements to school district boards.

Marin Supt. Virgil Hollis is telling school trustees who are considering retiring, that if they resign before Sept. 15, he is responsible for their replacement. After Sept. 15, the remaining school board members will fill vacancies.

The change is brought about by a bill passed by the legislature earlier this year and signed by Governor Brown. It will be the first time in the state's history that regular school boards, excepting junior college, unified, and city boards, will appoint new members to serve with them.

THIS MAY NOT be political, but somehow I think it is.

My mother and father celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this week. I happened to mention this fact to a local publicist. His reaction was:

"It's going to be a great shock to some political leaders I know in both parties."

"What do you mean by that?" I asked.

"They've always claimed," he answered, "that your parents were never married."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Marin Has Good Cards Against SP

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With a great deal of interest (as a former railroad man) I have been reading of the SP's desire to abandon service to San Rafael via the NWP.

The first step is to abandon repairs to the tunnel and route service via the Santa Fe from across the Bay to Tiburon.

As I look at it, the SP wants to retain the "plum"—that is, the bulk of the shipping from Northern California—and let the Santa Fe have the crumbs—that is, the costliest end of the line via the Santa Fe ferry.

How does the Santa Fe feel about this? They used to handle much more than Marin County alone can provide!

As I have read in your paper in past years, the Santa Fe at one time vied with the Southern Pacific for control of the NWP (just as they are both fighting now for control of the Western Pacific).

From where I sit I can see at least two weapons for San Rafael to use:

1. Sponsor the Santa Fe in her desire to acquire the Western Pacific.
2. Require the Santa Fe to reciprocate by negotiating for control of the NWP. The Santa Fe wanted NWP in the past and perhaps still does.

The Santa Fe operates a ferry to Tiburon—already has a foot in the door, as you might say. Make a deal with the road that makes the best offer. There are many possibilities.

Then too, if the road is abandoned, don't let speculators gobble up the old right of way as was done in the portions of the old electric road. This right of way may be just what you want for the new transit system.

As an afterthought, has an open cut, following the route of the old tunnel, been considered? The earth excavated could be used as a fill on the new fairgrounds. The cut could be made wider for one or two lanes of highway traffic with the State Highway Department sharing the cost.

San Rafael and the county have a lot of good cards if they play them right.

Bill Bradley May Have Inside Track For Deputy Coroner Job

The supervisors have authorized an assistant to help County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Normally, this should start quite a scramble for the new job, which pays over $6,000. But this time, there seems to be no "mad race" to vie for the position. Which probably means Coroner Keaton already has eyes pretty well focused on the man he wants for assistant.

Although no one is talking at of the time of this writing, there is some indication that the coroner is looking for a trained law enforcement man to be assistant coroner. Some sources are going as far as to hint that the solid favorite to be appointed is the man with the English derby hat and eyes of a Scotland Yard man, Inspector Bill Bradley.

Of course, this is only unconfirmed rumor at this stage. Whoever it will be, Coroner Keaton has announced he'll be disclosing his appointment in a week or two.

THE NEWEST pistol packin' mama on the county range in San Rafael is a petite girl named Aurora, who works in the city hall.

IF YOU SEE a man in downtown San Rafael, with a gadget that looks like a Geiger counter strapped to his shoulder and probing the ground with a long steel rod, you needn't get alarmed. The fallout hasn't started yet.

He's merely the routine "gas sniffer," a man that PG&E hires to make routine checks around town of any gas leaks that might have sprung on the company's lines.

WHEN SOMEBODY asks for an annulment, the reason he (or she) gives is usually the time-worn "misrepresentation" or "fraud."

But young lawyer Fred Robbins, Jr., came up with a new excuse the other day. He says both his client and spouse were so intoxicated when they got married in Reno that they were of unsound mind. Therefore, the marriage should be null and void.

IF YOU WANT to make $500 in your spare time, take a tip from Joann Rassio of Tiburon. She did it during her leisure by sending in a story and having it published in September issue of Woman's Day, sold at local stores.

She got some of the ideas from a course in creative writing she took at Drake High. It's taught Thursday nights by Mrs. John Cresap of San Anselmo.

GIRLS, YOU'LL soon be able to get cosmetics that are out of this world.

Bill Nave Has Led Busy Life

By ELLEN BRY

William Nave says he was born an old man.

He grew up fast, owning and selling business, borrowing to build others, while still in his teens. The family home in which he was born was razed to make way for his Nave Shopping Center in Novato.

Today he talks of building a shopping center in Half Moon Bay, a medical-professional building in Novato. He has just finished construction of the $1,500,000 Nave bowling lanes near Hamilton Air Force Base.

But he calls the young years, up to 18, the "crowded years" when people called him the "boy wonder."

HIS FATHER, Peter Nave, came from Genoa, Italy, to

He later purchased land in Novato, at first 10 acres, later upping it to 70 acres, in what now is the Nave Gardens subdivision.

"And he became a citizen in nothing flat," Nave says today, still with a hint of the Italian accent acquired from his family.

The eight-room house where Nave was born in 1901 went up in 1838. Nave remembers fishing for trout and swimming "in the days of no swimming suits" near what now is the Nave Shopping Center.

With two brothers and two sisters he worked the orchards and gardens, milked the cows, dug potatoes.

Novato then had a couple of blacksmith shops, a livery stable, a saloon and general store where "they'd sell everything from liquor to harnesses," Nave remembers.

It might surprise you to know that this is one of the big "meeting places" of buyers and sellers in the U.S. Last year, for instance, more people ran more ads in I-J Classified than in the morning New York Herald Tribune or the evening N.Y. Journal American—a a total of 3,519,748 lines.

Last week alone, 5,256 ads "went to market" in the Classified section of the I-J. The only reason they do... is because it brings results, proved again and again. Whether you're selling or buying, look to the I-J Classified... where big ideas and sound bargains turn small space into action.

entered school. His formal schooling was short—there was business to be done. There were night courses later, but "I got most of my education through affiliation with some of the finest business people in the county."

By the time Nave was 13, two men were working for him, buying and selling livestock and farming equipment. When he was 15 he started his jitney business, meeting the trains with a model T and a Dodge.

The jitneys served the "little business people and retired people" who made up Novato. You could get a ride for 10 cents to a quarter. "They'd get on by the dozen just to ride in a car," Nave says, leaning back in the modern chair in the modern office of the Nave Lanes.

Money to buy cars? Nave had trapped foxes, chopped wood, did odd jobs. Cars cost $400 to $600. He later opened the first garage in Novato, once operated a butcher shop and country store.

"I borrowed $10,000 off a bank up here when I was 19. They knew me."

ONE MORNING in 1916 he was putting along in his car when he saw two girls walking to the railroad station to catch the train for San Rafael to attend high school.

He offered them a ride and met Irene Lartigue. They were married in 1921.

She later was to become a cook on the ranches which Nave owned and operated, when "she'd never seen a cow before." She's been bookkeeper, accountant, consultant for the business enterprises through the years.

Nave learned to ride from Spanish ranchers and herders south of Novato. "Those were real cowboys. They'd put me on a horse and I'd hold on like a snail."

Where the Marin Golf Club now stands with its smooth, green tees, cattle once munched on wild grass. In 1919, Nave bought the Loma Verde and Bodkin ranches, at one time owning 2,100 acres of land and running up to 800 head of cattle.

The first world war came along and Nave was marching down San Rafael streets in a parade on the way to the induction center when the armistice was announced.

Nave continued in the cattle business, opening an insurance agency in 1928, the Redwood Music Co., jukebox concessionaire, in 1934. He moved to San Rafael in 1929. And in 1930 the cattle business almost killed him.

NAVE FELL through a barn floor while on a cattle buying expedition, fracturing his spine and hip, temporarily paralyzing his lower body. He was in a cast for 18 months. "I suffered the tortures of hell," he says today, shaking his head at the memory.

The injury, children beginning to arrive, the depression, combined to get him out of the cattle business. Billy Nave was born in 1924; Bobby in 1926, Richard (Rich) in 1930.

In the early '30s Nave was appointed loan commissioner for the Federal Land Bank, approving more than a million and a half dollars worth of loans to depression-hit ranchers and poultrymen.

In 1935 he was appointed a deputy county assessor, planning to stay at the post only a short time. He quit in 1949.

The time in the county courthouse was time to do some thinking, "making little notes in little books."

He kept looking and noting that bowling alleys never were found in the bankruptcy columns. "It was changing from a cigar-smoking type to a family spot."

Financing for bowling lanes was not easy to get. It was the same problem he'd had with the Nave Shopping Center in Novato: "They thought the pony express still ran through Novato. 'You're out of your mind,' they say."

THE BOWLING lanes and the shopping center are reality now. Nave owns them "with the bank and the boys." This is a family business — "banks want you to get involved, sell stock."

There are 14 grandchildren now, "just in case the automatic pin setters go out," Rich Nave explains.

"I've lived a varied life," Nave says. "There's more years crammed into my life —if I was to die tomorrow, I'd be 120."

Selling Nuclear Survival On TV

Each program in the KPIX-TV series entitled "Steps to Survival" opens with the flat statement that survival from nuclear attack is possible, desirable, necessary.

The men at KPIX who are primarily responsible for the series admit that the statement is far from universally accepted.

But producer Lee Mendelson, KPIX public affairs director Jere Witter and program director Ray Hubbard are convinced that their series has started many Bay Area people to thinking about the advisability of protection, and has encouraged and helped them to take the first steps.

All three men, incidentally, are Marin residents. Mendelson lives in Terra Linda, Witter in Mill Valley, Hubbard in Ross.

Their show, KPIX's major public affairs undertaking for 1961, is seen Sundays on Channel 5 at 1:30 p.m.

MENDELSON says it all started when San Francisco Mayor George Christopher was faced with a KPIX newsreel camera and given the opportunity to make any kind of public service statement he thought appropriate—providing it was limited to 10 seconds.

Christopher used his brief time on-camera to urge viewers to attend a series of lectures on nuclear preparedness, put on by the San Francisco Disaster Council.

The mayor's 10-second "spot" never got on the air. KPIX decided it could do better by the subject.

To Mendelson and Hubbard went the assignment of putting the disaster council's civil defense course on TV. And program director Hubbard logged the defense course into his summer and fall schedule.

The three men decided they were faced with three preliminary steps:

1. They had to seek out top authorities and get themselves educated on civil defense.

2. They had to try to gauge public attitude toward nuclear preparedness.

3. And they had to then design a sensible approach for a series of television programs.

CONFERENCES were held with Admiral A. G. Cook, head of the San Francisco Disaster Council, and with Allan Jonas, chief of the California Disaster Office. Both agreed to extend the fullest cooperation of their offices.

The KPIX men found that "a whole new attitude toward civil defense was pervading the powers of government."

Formerly, they say, it had been generally thought that survival of a hydrogen bomb attack would be an impossibility.

"Even many of the nation's highest leaders were privately convinced that defense preparations were less than useless," Mendelson says, "and little more than lip-service was paid to getting ready for the worst."

That school of thought was undergoing a revision in high circles, the TV men found. This, they add, was largely due to studies by RAND Corp. of Los Angeles which reported it had found that large numbers of people could and would live through nuclear bombardment, and that the nation would survive the first shock of nuclear war if it came.

RAND had also probed into public attitudes on nuclear questions.

It reported that people, understandably, did not want to think about "the bomb," and that the antagonism went even deeper. The RAND people said that many Americans felt it was bad to even think about civil preparedness because:

1. They felt civil defense was useless.

2. They feared a well-de-

Marinites Head TV Show With That Objective

veloped civil defense set-up might make governments "careless," less anxious to avoid nuclear war, and therefore increase the possibility of war.

3. They were convinced that in the event of such a war, the world's wreckage wouldn't be worth living in, and that survivors might well "envy the dead."

RAND held that adequate preparation and fallout protection could save tens of millions of lives.

RAND ALSO maintained that data from nuclear experiments and nuclear damage showed that the nation would actually not be destroyed in a first-round nuclear encounter—that life would exist in the aftermath and that what kind of life "would be determined by the preparations the people took before hand."

RAND supported the idea that the outcome of World War III would depend upon how well the nation was prepared to shelter itself, and upon how many Americans survived the first nuclear onslaught.

To the theory that preparedness induces nuclear carelessness, state disaster chief Jonas had this reply: "I just bought seat-belts for my Chevrolet, but I didn't buy them so I could race over Black Point at 100 miles an hour on the wrong side of the road."

There were other objections to civil defense, some on religious grounds, some on intellectual.

A San Francisco newspaper came out against shelter-protection, asserting that "the American is not a burrowing animal."

The antagonism toward civil defense, the KPIX men found, was deep rooted and grounded in ideas that had been shared for a long time in high levels of government.

"It wasn't something that KPIX could discount," Mendelson says, "and it wasn't something we could expect to set to rest with a series of television lectures. But we felt we had some new and encouraging concepts of nuclear protection, that the people should be told about and which might, at least partly, overcome the basic antagonism."

The television men were also heartened by evidence that if civil defense was taboo in some quarters, not all people were bored with or opposed to the idea.

DISASTER officials reported they found many had a nagging curiosity about it, others even an eagerness to learn.

Jonas put it this way: "When anything hits the newspapers about civil defense, people just about ring our telephone off the wall. They want information."

KPIX decided upon an optimistic approach to civil defense and the introduction, a step at a time, of new information and the new thinking of authorities upon the subject.

The San Francisco civil defense course was re-designed to fit the needs of TV. Its scope was widened to interest the entire Bay Area. The four two-hour lectures remodeled into a more manageable series of 12 half-hour shows, with two half-hour programs of review to conclude the series.

Many photo slides were eliminated because they were too dim for use on the air. Other visual effects were devised for added impact: Fire demonstrations, Geiger counters, first-aid models, set-ups for storage of food and water.

It was decided the course would be presented before a live studio audience so that questions could be asked and answered.

Major alterations of the basic disaster course, however, were those necessary, Mendelson says, to point up "a new philosophy of nuclear survival—one which we felt had national and historical implications."

IN INTRODUCING the basics of disaster preparation, Lt. William Osterloh and other disaster council members discussed such topics as the nature of fear and how to cope with it, the elements of first aid, fire and damage control, food and water storage techniques, group training, etc.

Questions from the studio audience were plentiful.

One highpoint of the series, not yet completed, came when KPIX obtained films of a group undergoing nuclear tests in a shelter. The films had never previously been shown.

The series also has taken an interest in the family fallout shelter, the group or community survival shelter, and the shelter-building business.

Besides Admiral Cook and Jonas, guests have included Walmer Strope of the Navy's radiological laboratory at Hunters Point; Gen. Crawford Sams, the man who conducted medical studies at the sites of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and other persons involved with the nuclear survival problem.

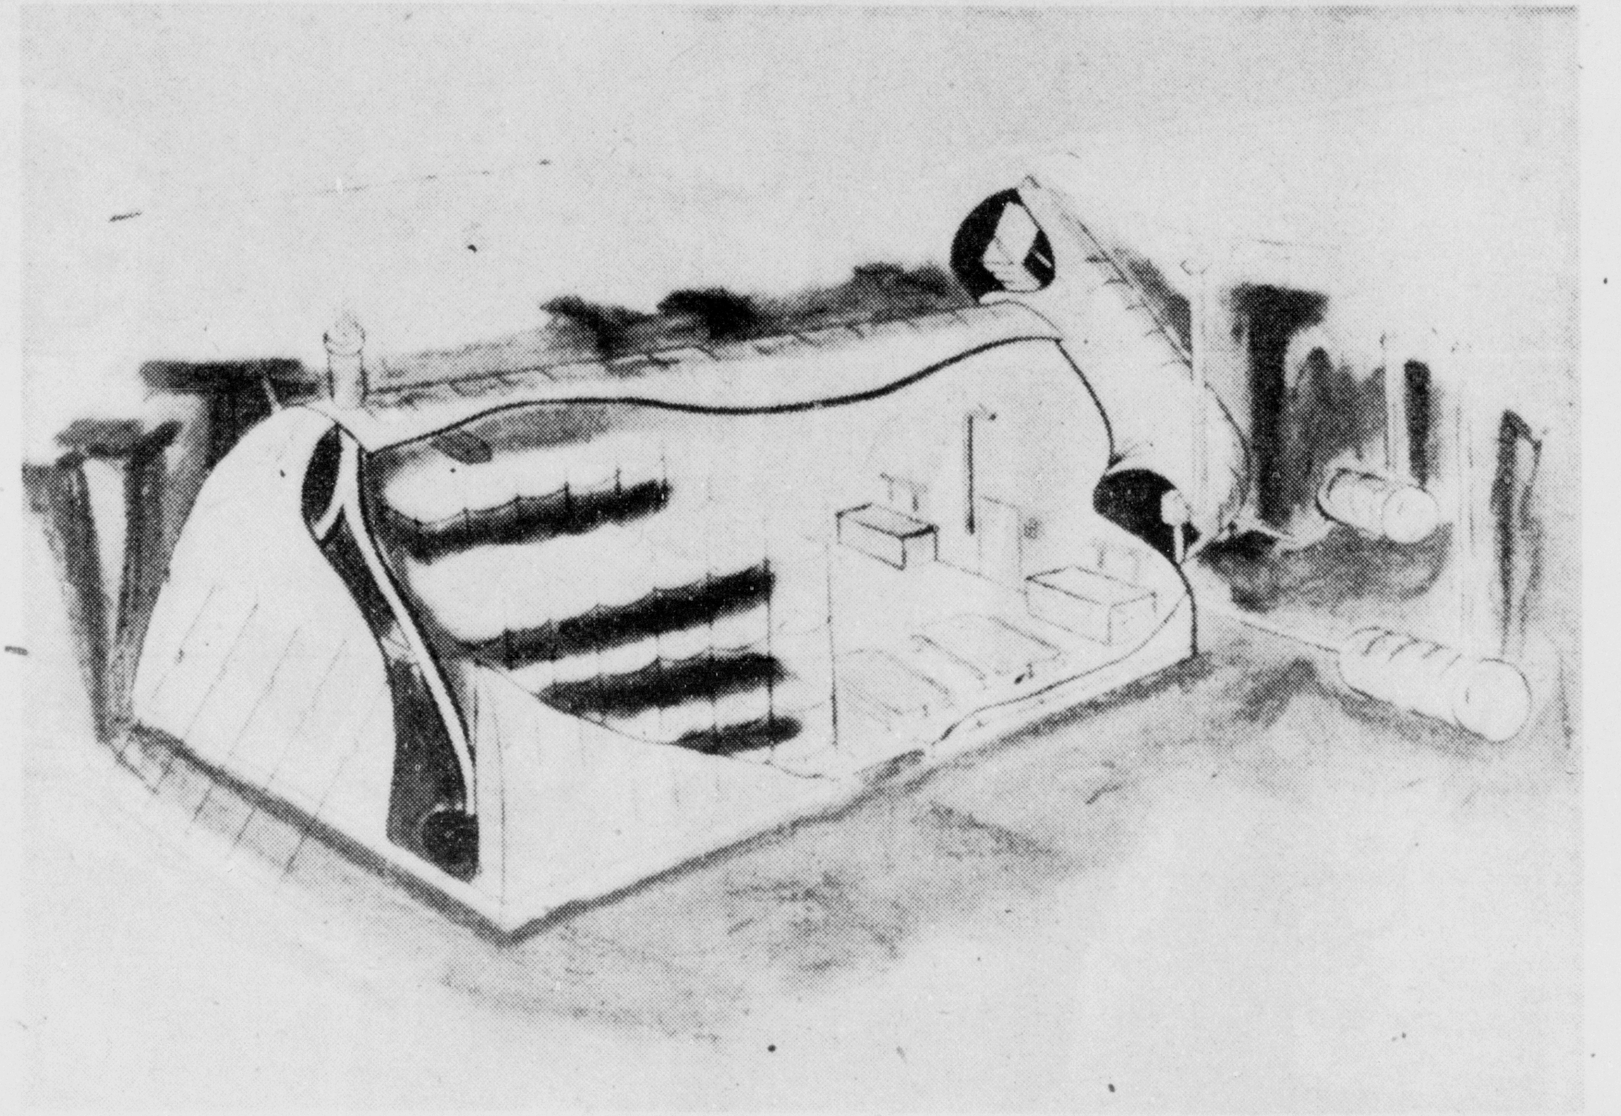
Mendelson and his associates acknowledge that their series cannot answer all the questions on the nuclear survival issue. And they doubt that they will succeed in galvanizing the Bay Area public into a mass effort in the civil defense field. But they are heartened by such letters as one received by KPIX from D. C. Armanino, assistant vice president of the Wells Fargo Bank and American Trust Co. He wrote:

"I have been one of the individuals in the audience for five of your 'Steps to Survival' TV programs . . . I have been greatly impressed with the material and information presented, and this morning I . . . suggested that steps be taken to organize a civil defense plan for our bank . . ."

THE KPIX TEAM from Marin acknowledged that it isn't succeeding in persuading all the skeptics of nuclear survival that the civil defense effort is worthwhile.

But they do feel they are making some headway.

And Mendelson, Witter and Hubbard are convinced that it was vital that some one undertake the assignment which their station handed them.



THIS IS A SKETCH of the "community" or "group" bomb shelter developed by the U.S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory at Hunters Point and indorsed by the state civil defense office. The "group" shelter has been the focal point of several of the "Steps to Survival" television programs over KPIX. The shelter is planned to house approximately 100 people for two weeks or longer.

"Can The New Burlap Garments Be Drycleaned?"

A few months ago, I answered a question regarding the serviceability of the new burlap fad. I mentioned its readiness to fray. I did not comment on its drycleanability.

Yes, new burlap fashions can be drycleaned, but much depends upon the grade of jute used in making the burlap garment you purchase. There is high grade and low grade burlap, just as in all articles. Burlap is made from jute grown in India and has a naturally offensive odor. That must be removed. It must be bleached and dyed and then softened from its natural stiffness.

Jute does not take dyes readily. The color may rub off or the dyes may crock. Incidentally, poor quality burlap usually has many thick bark knots, tends to wrinkle excessively and may shed lint.

As we stated a couple of months ago, burlap is presently "high fashion" and should be purchased and worn for its own sake. However, high fashions aren't always serviceable. It can be drycleaned, but much depends upon garment construction, fabrics construction, finish and how the color has been applied. Enjoy your burlap fashions, but don't expect them to perform like fabrics to which you are more accustomed.

INDICATIVE OF THE NEW Sausalito that is beginning to spring up among the village's picturesque older landmarks is the Cote D'Azur luxury apartment project to overlook Shelter Cove. Site clearing has started for 60 one, two and four-bedroom apartments on the old Weber property on South Street. Builders are the Albert-Lovett Corp. which recently constructed the towering Comstock apartment building on San Francisco's Nob Hill. Called "community apartments," the units will sell from $18,000 to $64,000. They are to be completed by next June.

Sausalitans Look To The Future

By BRUCE COLEMAN

They're knocking at the gates of the village.

From the gate to the south, the Golden, to the gate to the north, Gate 5, developers are clambering around Sausalito's hills and waterways.

In their hands they hold blueprints. In their heads they have visions of hotels, apartments, boatels and fancy restaurants.

SAUSALITANS know they have a good thing. "We've got the goose that lays the golden egg," says Sausalito City Councilman Marjorie Brady. She spoke of Shelter Cove's natural beauty which draws tourists and tradesmen.

Some Sausalitans say they must be wary. Civic leader Carl W. Spring says: "There are a lot of tom cats coming to town looking for the kittens, of which we have, unfortunately, too many."

In the burst of building permit requests which make their way to city planners and councilmen, there are millions of dollars' worth of developments. Some large developments have been approved; many are awaiting approval.

Alive to Sausalito's future and its loquaciousness, the Sausalito Rotary Club recently held a series of six talks on "The Future of Sausalito—As I See It."

The community program, which was well attended, had top speakers representing homeowners, merchants, tourists, city officials and builders.

The series was followed by a group of three town hall forums by the Sausalito Citizens Council in cooperation with the Sausalito Woman's Club. Again crowds were good.

The talks pointed up the town's problems. Should it be tourists first, Sausalitans second? (Last year the city got $117,000 in sales tax revenues, second to San Rafael in the county with $186,000.) Should hotels be allowed on the edge of the residential district? How should Marinship be directed?

WHAT WAS decided? Business would get better. There will be more tourists. Sausalito will be a town of single people, couples and old couples, but fewer people with children.

Here are some of the developments, which indicate that Sausalito is leaning more toward apartments, boatels and marina activities than industry, that were discussed:

In Marinship, Clipper Yacht Harbor has started a five-to-seven-year project worth five million dollars which will be an integrated marina facility

A CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE for waterfront planning submitted to the Sausalito City Council two proposals for a civic center as shown on the map above. The first calls for a new police station next to the fire station on Johnson Street, remodeling of the present City Hall, and construction of a library next to the Bank of America. An alternate plan suggests the police station on Johnson Street with a civic center on Northwestern Pacific Railroad freight station property. Still a third plan, a minority report, would have a park, green, plaza and civic bulding on the sandspit to jain present Vina Del Mar Plaza.

THE VINA DEL MAR INN, a Spanish-style hotel, has been proposed for the 700 block on Bridgeway to be named after Sausalito's sister city of Vina Del Mar, Chile. It has been held up by the city, pending studies of zoning for hotels. A one million dollar project, the hotel is to have 49 rooms, a swimming pool, cabanas and a park to be entered from Bulkley Avenue. It is to be built by Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley. Some Sausalitans have described it as "a Grecian coliseum."

Changing Faces Of Sausalito

— harbor, restaurant, boatel, small shops, apartments.

A two and one-half million dollar shopping center has been approved for Kurt Heath and Allied Grocers in Marinship. Heath, of Mill Valley, also proposes apartment houses for boaters as well as a luxury restaurant over the water.

The apartments would be part of a model city on 1,750 acres of the Marin Land and Cattle Co. and would include a lake, golf course and homes.

"The Pelican," a 75-unit garden apartment unit, to cost $1,300,000, has been approved in Marinship by the city.

IN SHELTER Cove, work has begun on a 60-unit community project, "The Cote d'Azur," to cost $2,600,000. Apartments are to be on 75-year leases starting at $18,000 and going to about $64,000.

Sausalito Properties, Inc., plans an inn, restaurants, yacht harbor and pedestrian walkway on 32 acres of waterfront between Napa and Dolphin streets.

A variance is being sought by Mrs. Marian W. Frick to build an 80-room hotel on Bulkley Avenue.

Being tiny, Sausalito does not have a great amount of space to be built upon. For this reason, the water looks good to build over.

Marinship — with its mixture of industry—looks good to apartment builders and there was no pause recently when developers began building behind the American Distilling Co., a whisky factory.

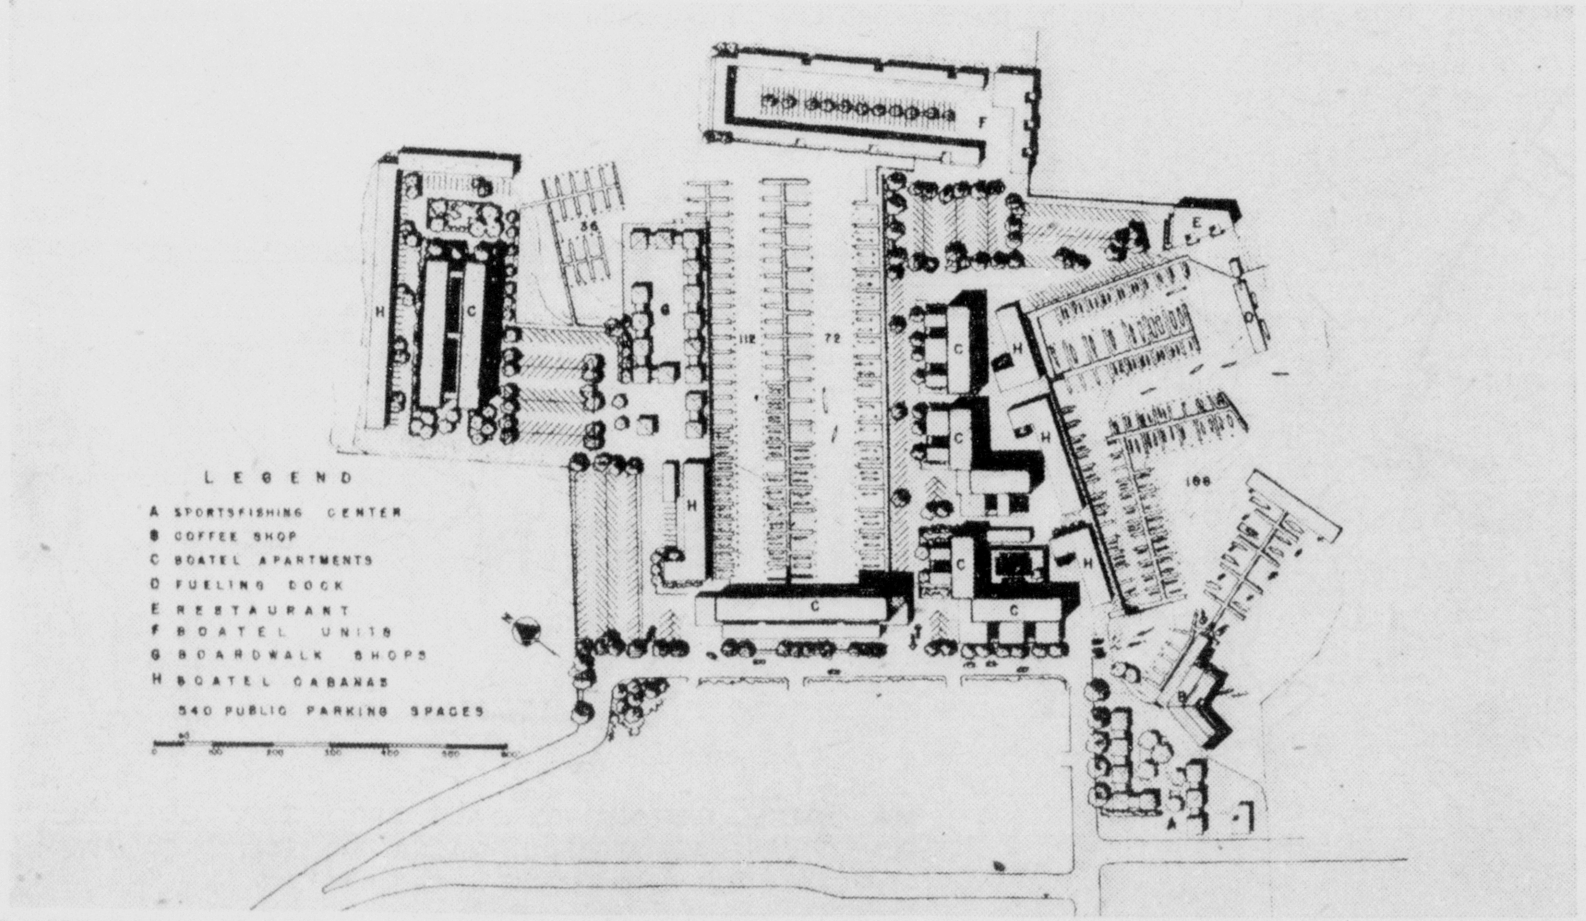
The city fathers try heroically to handle the multitudinous problems facing the city. In spite of this, they are often berated for being slow to act. Builders say it hurts not only the builder but the city's coffers.

PLANNING Commissioner Paul Micou says "hasty decisions will damage the city"; that the city needs professional help and that the townspeople should participate in the commission's and council's decisions. "Too often," he said, "the only person we see at our meetings is the one who wants to get something done."

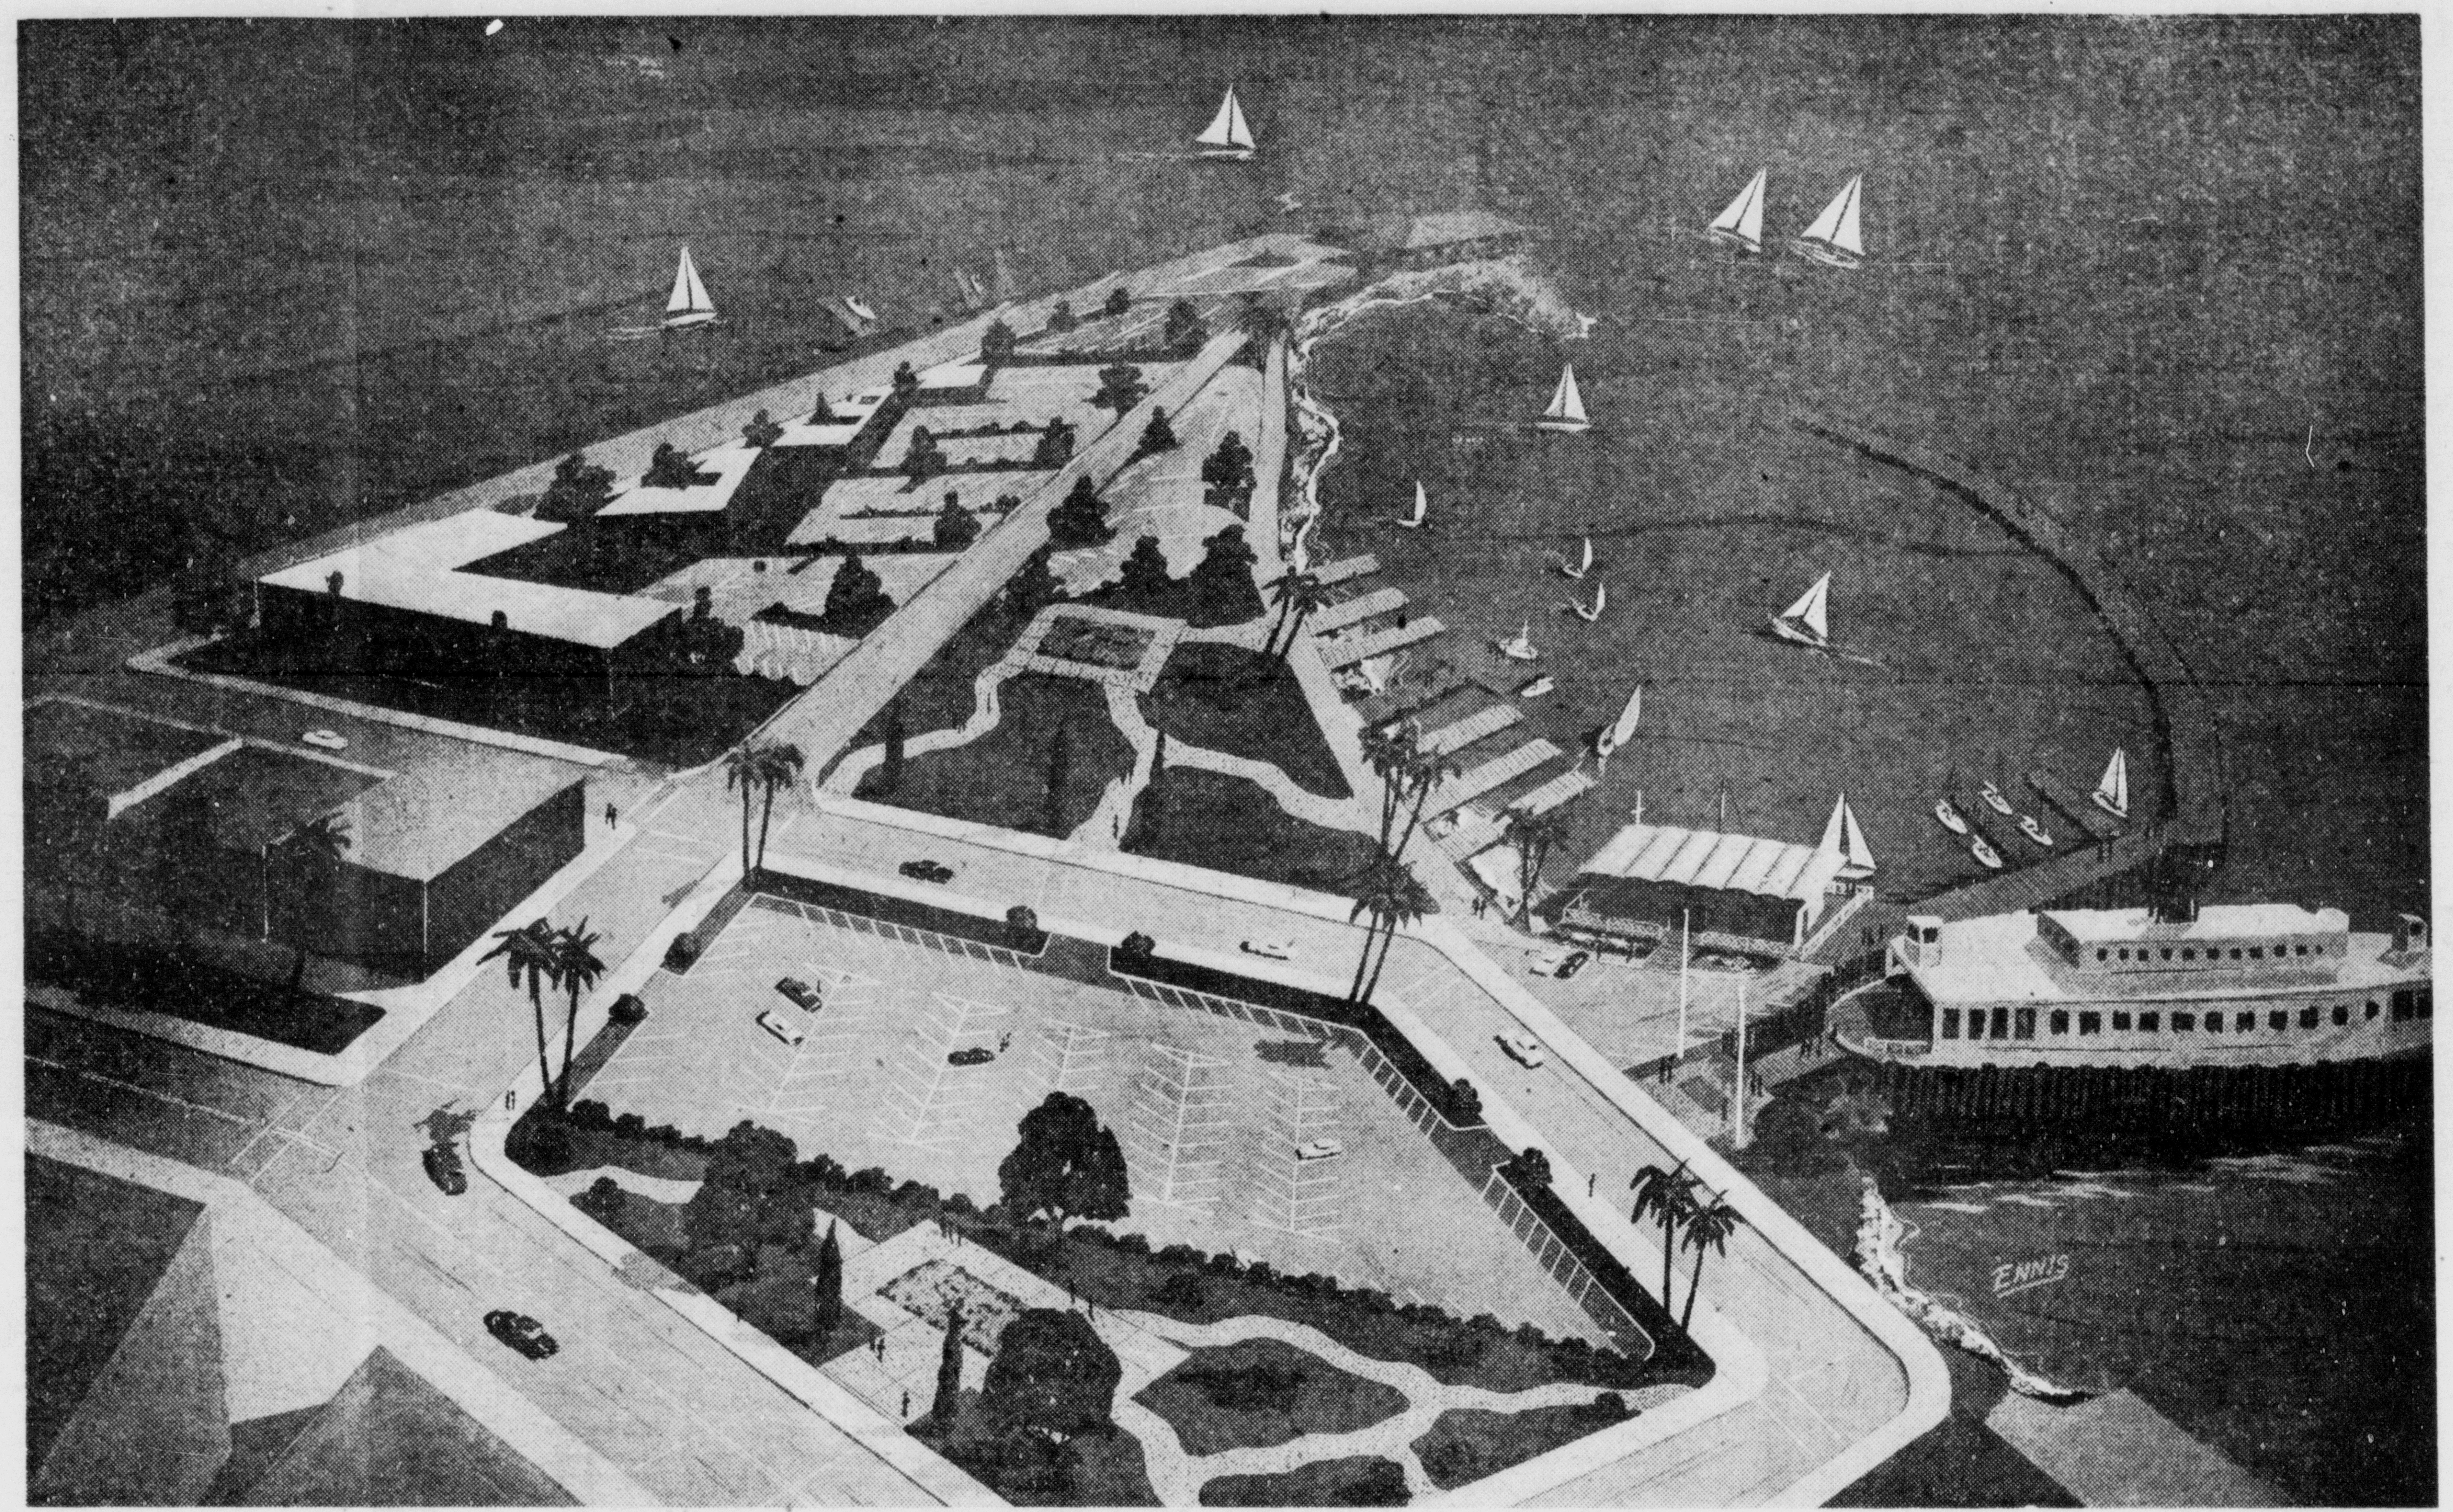
Always lurking in the background are esthetics. Sausalito should keep its waterfront, should have public walkways, parks, a civic center, an art gallery. Citizens have had many a hot discussion over the central waterfront area as to whether it should be park or parking.

Rotary's final speaker in the series, A Leonard Bjorklund, summed things up saying: "Let us keep the future of Sausalito, whether we see it one way or someone else sees it another, in our own hands."

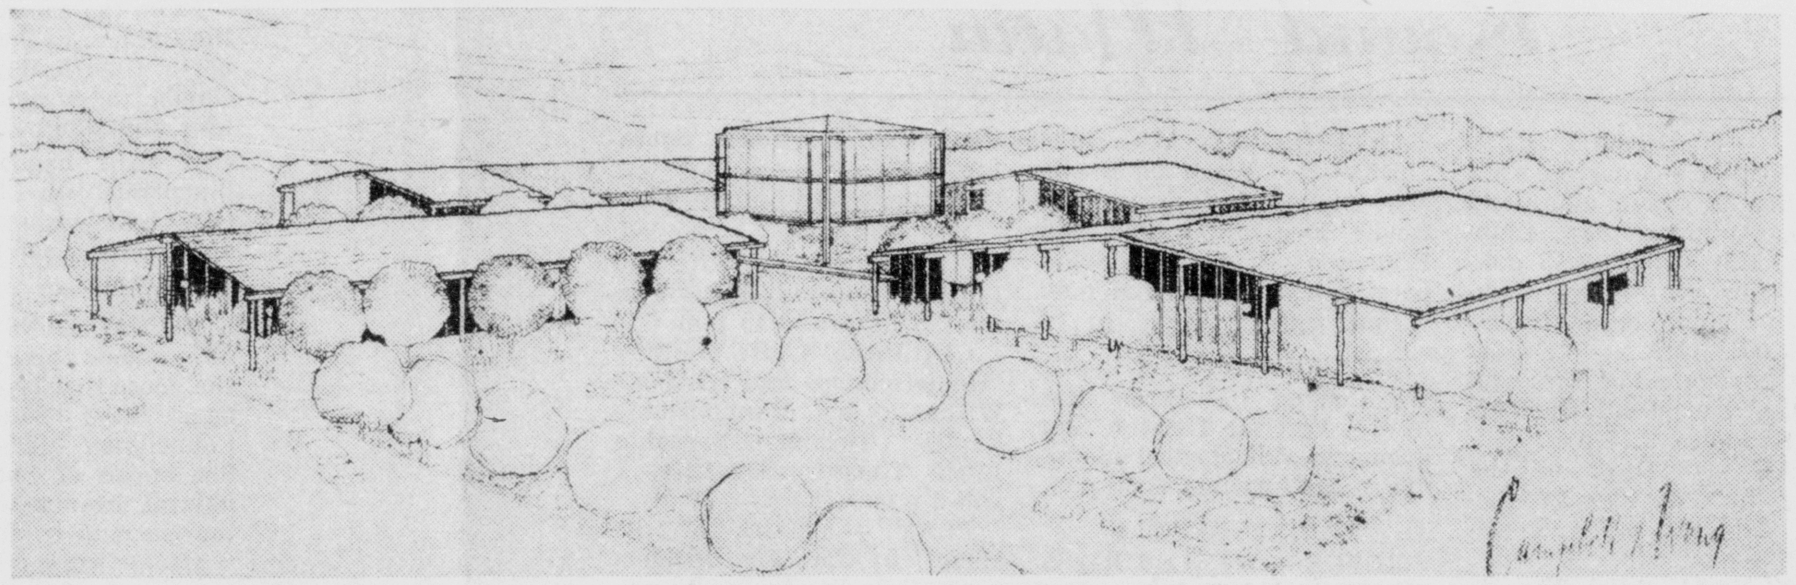
So, how now, Sausalito? Where do you go? Can you have tower apartments and still be a village? You have the "golden goose waterfront." What will you do with it?



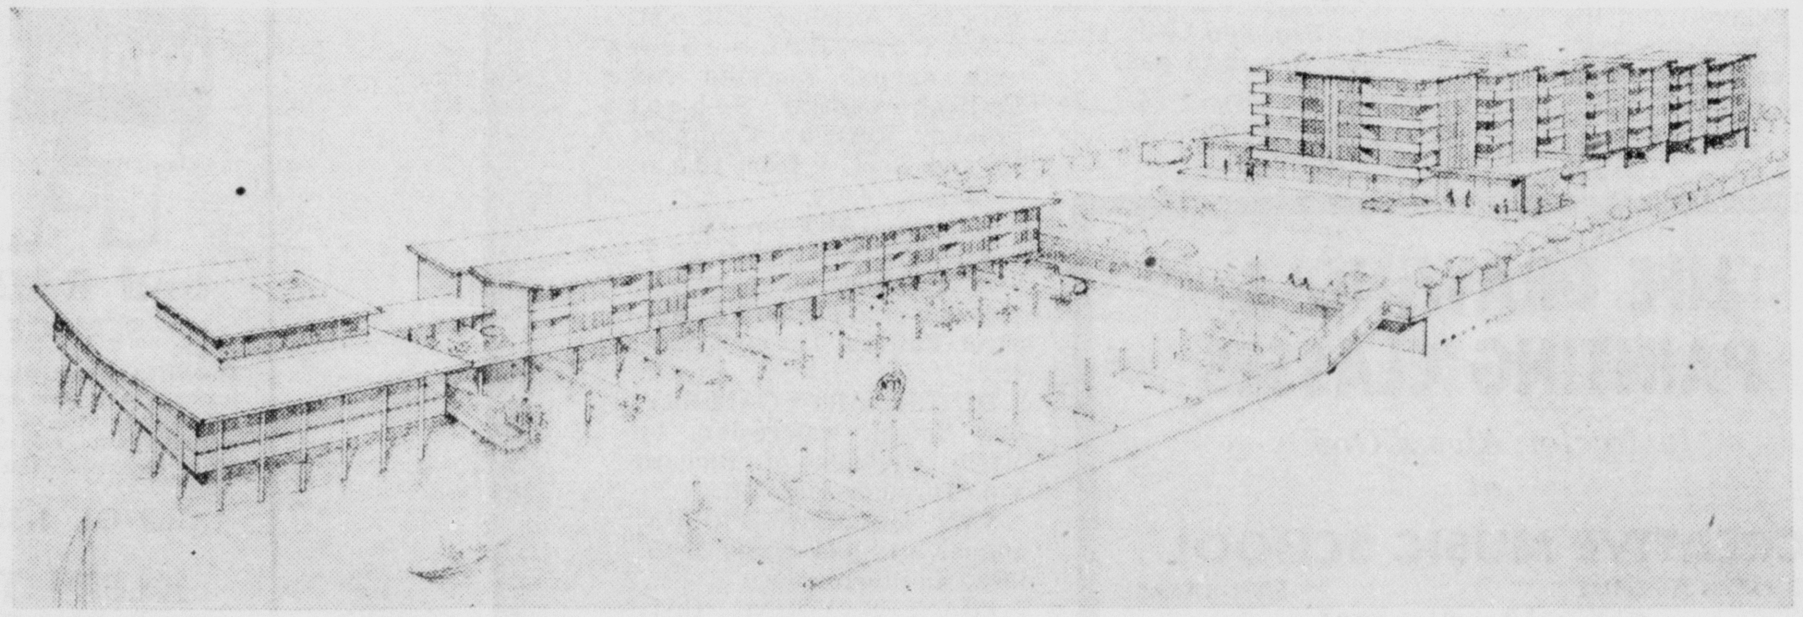
CLIPPER YACHT CO.'S five million dollar project is one-fourth complete at Sausalito's Marinship. It will include a sportsfishing center, boatel apartments, coffee shop, and restaurant, fueling dock, boatel units, boardwalk shops, cabanas and 50 parking spaces, as shown in the plot plan above. Finger piers will permit guests to have their boats at their backdoors. The project will have a 500-boat capacity. Shirley Morgan, co-owner with Clifford Pedersen, says the remainder of the project will be constructed as soon as street plans for Harbor Drive are approved. Architect is Roger Lee of Berkeley.



THE HEART OF SAUSALITO is its central waterfront which holds the tiny and beautiful Vina Del Mar Plaza, the ferryboat Berkeley, the sandspit, municipal parking, and, for cars, a place to turn around. It was a cause celebre recently when two groups of citizens argued over whether it should contain more park or more parking. This rendering shows the Sausalito Yacht Club's proposal for a breakwater with a public promenade, berthing for 75 boats, and El Portal Street extended to loop in front of the club and connect with Railroad and Humbold Avenues. The sandspit, at rear, houses the Spinnaker restaurant at its tip with proposed Carmel-type shops in the center.



APPROVAL HAS BEEN GIVEN by the city of Sausalito for construction of the Heath-Allied Grocers Shopping Center to be built on Bridgeway in the Marinship for approximately two and a half million dollars. The center will have a tower for offices and will include supermarket and shops. It will have an inner mall with a moat of water around it. Worley K. Wong and John C. Campbell are the architects.



FOR MARINSHIP, the Heath Land Co. has proposed to build boatel apartments designed for people who might have another home but desire an apartment in Sausalito where they can keep their boat tied up outside. Over the water at left would be a restaurant which Fleur De Lys plans to operate. At far right are 50 units of marina apartments. The architect is William H. V. Brooke of Belvedere.

Sausalitans Speak About Their Village

Enid Foster, artist: "Tourist, go home."

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., mayor: "Every inch of the waterfront is gold . . . We're going toward the tailfin and the tourist."

Frank Bosl, banker: "Industry, either through trades or the actual commercial end . . . can become a very important factor in our community."

Harold Puharich, hardware store owner: "There is a plan that a certain amount of parking is to be eliminated in downtown Sausalito . . . it will kill downtown Sausalito."

Rob Rose, builder: "Sausalito's future seems to be at the mercy of prejudice, intuition, caprice, vacillation, favoritism or vengeance . . . Why can't the city administration work with our citizens in harmony, trust, confidence and cooperate to build a better Sausalito?"

Carl W. Spring, civic leader: "Sausalito is facing a challenge. The whole area is just bursting at the seams."

M. Justin Herman, executive director, San Francisco Redevelopment Agency: "Tourists for awhile are here to stay . . . I think we've got to open up the waterfront, not only for the resident but for the tourist as well . . . you have great opportunities; you just need more daring."

Luther W. Conover, merchant: "Sausalito is a show place, a gem of the entire Bay Area. It has more of the flavor, more of the feeling of old San Francisco than San Francisco itself has."

Halsey Lyon, vice president, A. G. Schoonmaker Co., Inc.: "Sausalito does not stand alone as an island in what is a vital part of the community of Marin County. It contributes a great deal to the being of Marin County."

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., attorney: "We must be self-interested. Self-interest is not a dirty word."

Straw Hatters Place New Emphasis Upon The Dance

The satirical sketches and music that have been the principal assets of past Straw Hat Revue successes will again be a major part of "We Had It—So We Cooked It," the new Festival Theater funfest which opens next Wednesday.

But these facets of the evening's entertainment are going to have to share honors with a new Straw Hat trend—a new stress on the dance.

Choreographer Jeannie Herst has been busy rehearsing "hoofers" for the generous portion of dance routines which has been incorporated into the new revue.

To make room for the dancers, the stage of the Festival Theater, located on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo, has undergone extensive renovation since the recent closing of the extended run of Shaw's "Back to Methuselah: Part One" and Thurber's "The 13 Clocks."

The platform was rearranged to provide a large and open stage to accommodate the dance numbers.

Choreographer Herst has been the Straw Hatter dance director for a number of years. She has also worked with the San Francisco Ballet Company.

After opening next Wednesday, the revue will run nightly, Wednesdays through Saturdays, for three weeks at the theater. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

THAT SHADY LADY from San Francisco, Dolly Brine, is again played by Elizabeth Fuller in the Straw Hat Revue, "We Had It—So We Cooked It," which opens Wednesday night at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo. "The Trial of Dolly Brine" has been a hit in past revues and is being repeated by popular request. But most numbers in the revue are new. Shown with "Dolly" are music director Fae McNally, left, and Louis Bennett as an astonished judge. "We Had It—So We Cooked It" will run for three weeks, playing Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Boyhood Pals Stick Together

They attended the Old Mill Grade School together.

They were schoolmates at Tamalpais High School as they grew up together in Mill Valley.

AFTER HIGH school they went to Europe together.

Monte studied art in Paris, traveled across Europe and North Africa, painting as he went. After a year and a half, he returned to Mill Valley where he has been busy painting canvases ever since.

Tom had remained in Europe for five years before returning to the U. S. to operate the firm of T. Taylor Wishart and Son at Green and Sansome Streets in San Francisco.

The firm maintains a fine arts gallery in conjunction with the business establishment. And there will hang paintings by James Kenneth Monte through Sept. 23.

His "Freeway" spreads crimson over everything—"a bloody, insanely arched suicide trap," it has been described.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Novel Headed For Best-Seller Lists

By DON KEOWN

This must be one of the big novels of 1961—a certain best-seller, and deservedly so.

Zara has based his tenth novel upon the tragic life of Stephen Crane, a fascinating subject, indeed. He has then exploited that excellent choice brilliantly. The result is a stirring and powerful novel, a long one, but one that holds the reader hypnotized from start to finish.

Zara follows Crane from his boyhood as the guilt-ridden son of a stern minister, through his youth and his literary struggles, and on to his death at an untimely early age.

The author paints Crane as what he was—an unhappy genius, tragically ill-fated in love, seldom satisfied with his own literary efforts and frequently unappreciated by the public, particularly that in his own country. He was a man buffeted by hardships and disappointments. But Crane's place as one of the giants of the turn of the century is made clear. He may have lacked the charm and flamboyance of his contemporary. Richard Harding Davis, and therefore never achieved the popularity of RHD with the American public. But he was a far more talented man, a much deeper and sincere personage. And he had his own kind of quiet courage.

Through Zara's book parade many other greats and near greats of the era, pictured with such clarity that often they seem to be standing before the reader's eyes. But Crane remains at all times the central figure.

THE UNDYING PAST edited by Orville Prescott, Doubleday and Co., 623 pages, $7.50.

It is a long way from the historical novels and short stories written by the likes of Scott and Tolstoy to the sensational and superficial trash that pours from the printing presses today, supposedly chronicling life as it was in the past. And the direction is backwards.

No one is more aware of this or angered by it than Orville Prescott, the New York Times book reviewer.

A bitter critic of much that passes for historical novels today, he is an unqualified admirer of the really quality writing in this field, both past and present.

In this book he presents a collection of excerpts from what he regards as the most distinguished examples of historical fiction. Represented are such authors from the past as Beloc, Defoe, Tolstoy, Melville, Conrad, Hawthorne, Thackery and Dickens, and such contemporary writers as Wilder, Roberts, Wolfe, Richter and Forester.

In all, there are 45 selections, covering the scope of history from antiquity to the American Civil War.

There, Prescott tells us, is what the historical novel or short story can mean when it has not fallen into the hands of the "potboiler." It is an impressive demonstration.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF BULLFIGHTING by Barnaby Conrad, Houghton Mifflin Co., 272 pages, $10.

In the title of his book Marinite Conrad uses the term "encyclopedia" advisedly. It is just that, offering about all the information of any consequence that is available upon Conrad's favorite sport.

Included are the definitions of frequently used bullfighting expressions, the biographies of the more noted matadors, the roles of the less glamorous participants in the sport, histories of many of the brave bulls, much discussion of bullfighting techniques, the formal rules of the fight,. and much, much more.

The aficionados will, of course, regard this book as a must for their libraries.

The non-enthusiast will be primarily interested in the photographs which Conrad has collected to illustrate his text. They are superb. Ten dollars, however, is a stiff price for the non-student to pay, and we expect that the appeal of the book will be almost exclusively with the aficionado or the would-be aficionado. But they are increasing in number north of the border, and Conrad may well succeed in doing a bit of recruiting for their ranks through this book.

13 FOR LUCK by Agatha Christie, Dodd, Mead and Co., 248 pages, $3.50.

There is only one Agatha Christie, a fact that every mystery story fan must bemoan. For she is the master of the mystery puzzle—so expert, indeed, that she can compress greater bafflement into a short story than can most writers into a novel.

Here are 13 of her short stories, topnotch mysteries all with one exception. The publishers especially recommend them for the young reader, perhaps because violence and bloodshed are at a minimum. But we recommend them for readers of all ages, and do so enthusiastically.

Those peerless Christie sleuths Hercule Poirot, Miss Marple, Mr. Satterthwaite (with the mysterious Harley Quinn), and Parker Pyne all work brilliantly. Only the story of Tommy and Tuppence Beresford is a disappointment. The others are all Agatha Cristie at her best—and that is very, very good, indeed.

KINKIE THE KINKAJOU, a "star boarder" for six weeks at the animal shelter of the Humane Society of Marin County, tries a piece of hard candy given her by Mel Morse, the society's executive director, as dessert after she had polished off her dinner of fresh fruit.

BUT KINKIE finds that chewing the candy isn't an easy matter. So she takes it out of her mouth and holds it in her paws while she tries to puzzle out just what the trouble is. "It looks all right," Kinkie decides. And she isn't one to pass up a sweet. So she decides to give it another try, and to chomp down a bit harder this time. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

AND BITE DOWN hard Kinkie does. This time she gets the job done. The candy goes down and it tastes great.

Add Kinkie The Kinkajou To Animal Shelter's Guest List

He's Just One Of Many Unusual Visitors That Humane Society Has Played Host To

By DON KEOWN

Dogs and cats may be in the majority, but they are far from the only "boarders" at the animal shelter maintained in San Rafael by the Humane Society of Marin County.

Many other animals and birds, some native to Marin, some originally from far-away places, find their way into the shelter for various reasons. And there they present some special problems for Mel Morse, the society's executive director, and his busy staff.

"Whenever we get an unusual animal, we all learn a little," Morse says.

Bats, canaries, monkeys, chimpanzees, raccoons, donkeys, egrets, goats, hamsters, lizards, moles, ocelots, deer, foxes, guinea pigs, horses, rabbits, rats, mice, owls, parakeets, pheasants, squirrels, turtles, seals, snakes, skunks, sparrows, chickens, cockateels, cows, crows, doves and ducks.

One recent addition to the list was Kinkie the kinkajou.

Kinkie's former owner placed her in the shelter with a request that a new home be found for the pet. She was a guest of the shelter for a month and a half, and left when the humane society succeeded in finding for her a new home offering ideal conditions for a lively young kinkajou.

The kinkajou is a relative of the monkey, a nocturnal and arboreal little mammal belonging to the Procyonidea family. A native of Mexico, Central America and South America, the animal has a long, prehensile tail, large and lustrous eyes, and a soft and woolly yellowish brown fur.

Placed with persons who understand the kinkajou, the animal makes an excellent pet, according to Morse.

Recently, the shelter has experienced a "run" of monkeys.

"We've had four in a period of two weeks," Morse reports.

Which animals cause the humane society staff the most trouble?

"People," says Morse with a grin.

Then, seriously, he adds: "It is the animal which requires a radically different environment from the usual one at the shelter which provides us with our greatest challenge. For instance, the seal. We have to try to simulate the environment of sea-life in order for the seal to thrive. And sometimes that takes a bit of doing, although we get it done somehow."

Seals, kinkajous, cats, dogs and even the lowly mole have all found temporary homes at the Third Street shelter. And all have basked in hospitality that would put many a hotel to shame.

THE CANDY WAS good, but now Kinkie has another problem. Her paws are all sticky and she doesn't know what to do about that.

KINKAJOUS aren't the only unusual pets which have found a temporary home at the humane society's shelter. A number of monkeys have enjoyed its hospitality of late. This one was a stray which was picked up and was being held to be claimed by his owners.

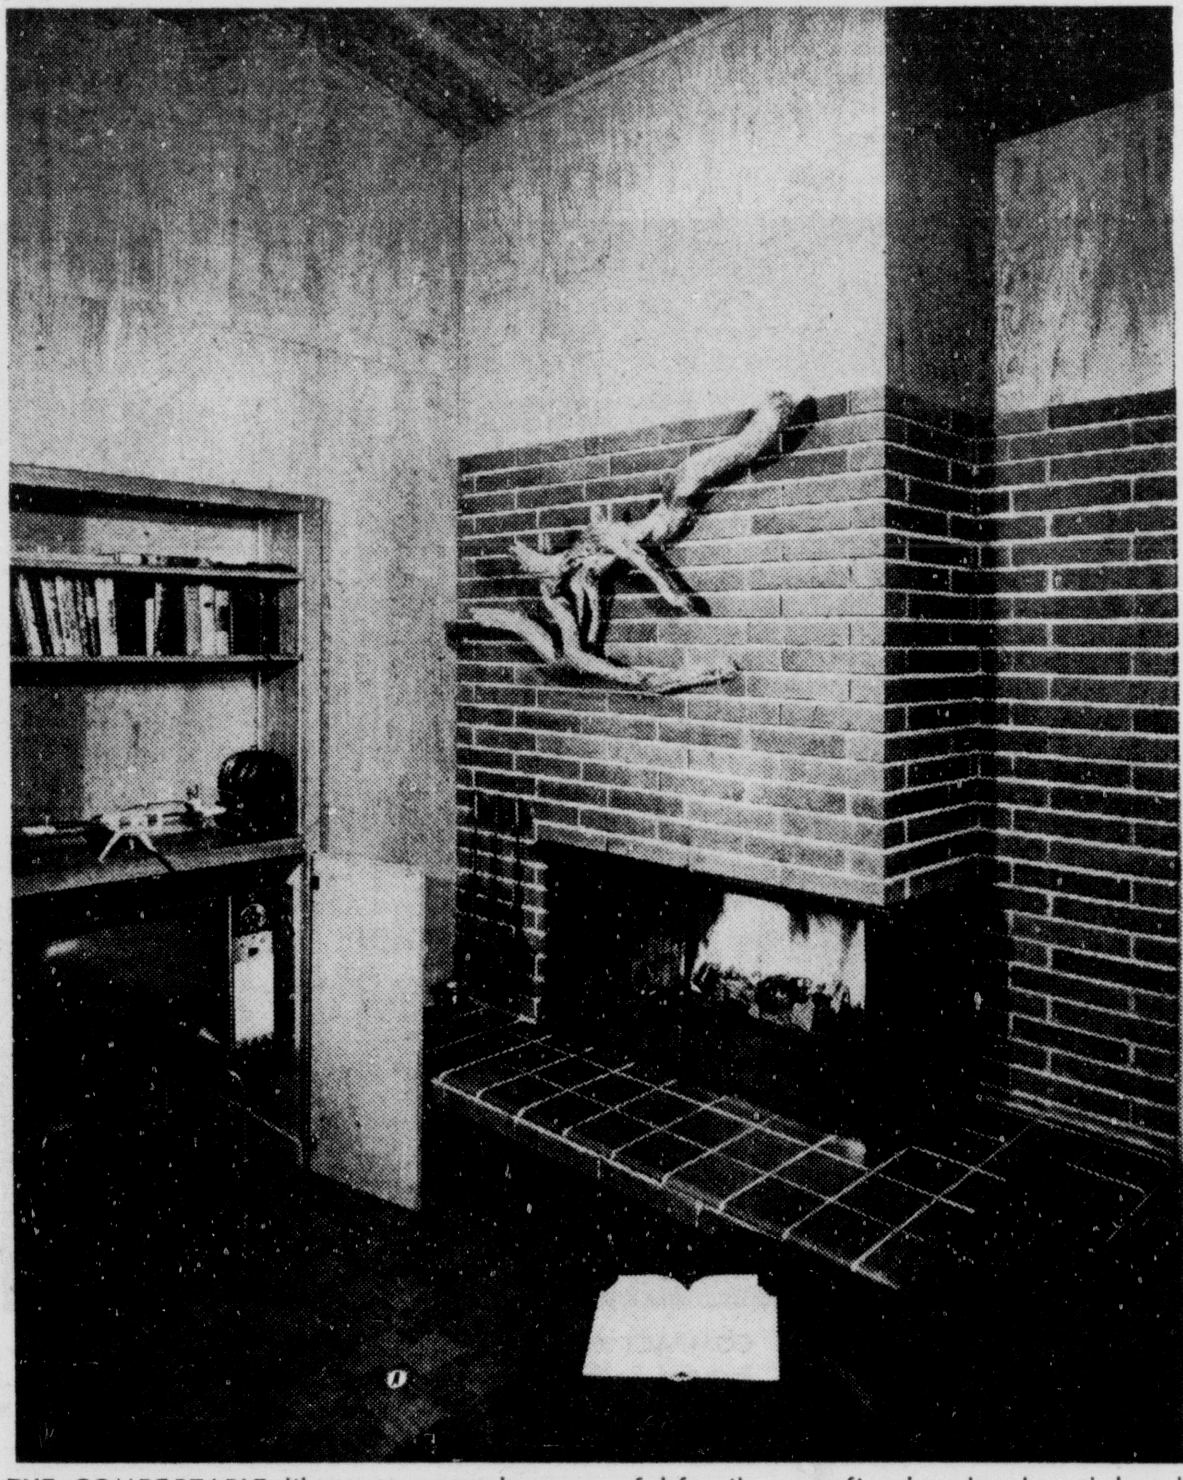
THE INVITING ENTRANCE to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saltzman, 71 Junipero Serra Avenue, San Rafael, combines brick, glass and vertical siding finished with dark brown stain. Bright white trim accents are used. Australian fern in planting box marks the entry sheltered by redwood-supported alcinite overhang. Parking space for five cars is provided in the paved area. The house was designed by Edward Hageman and Associates to owner's specifications for Custom Builders — Parnow Bros. of San Rafael. (Photos by Ken Molino)



THE COMFORTABLE library corner shows "TV Garage," where set may be shut off from view when not in use. The cheerful family room fireplace has hearth bench for extra seating. Select birch paneling is finished in light shade.

Marin Living

A Home Tailored For Its Occupants

Tailored to the requirements of the Richard Saltzman family is their three bedroom, three bath home at 71 Junipero Serra Ave., San Rafael, in the new Villa Real area.

Built by Custom Builders-Parnow Bros., San Rafael contractors, the most unusual feature of the Saltzman home is a well-equipped music room. In addition, there is a formal living-dining area, convenient kitchen, good service space, and large family room opening to a concrete terrace and sparkling kidney-shaped swimming pool, also built by Parnow Bros.

A PLEASING combination of brick and vertical siding stained dark brown contrasts with bright white trim on facia and window detail. Dramatic use of glass walls gives architectural interest and clerestory windows provide ample glareless daylight in the home's sunny location. Easy-care flowering shrubs have been chosen for planting.

A large entrance area, entirely paved, permits parking for five cars for guests in addition to the two-car garage, which takes care of the family's needs.

Three-quarters of an acre of property gives the home and pool seclusion as well as uninterrupted vista of the oak-studded hillside. The 36 foot by 16 foot pool, surrounded by a spacious terrace of concrete squares marked by VIEWED FROM THE lanai the sparkling 36 feet by 16 feet kidney-shaped pool is the center of much summertime fun at the home built by Custom-Pool Division of Parnow Bros. for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saltzman in Villa Real. Sliding glass doors give access to the spacious terrace from the master bedroom and family room. Redwood frames the alcinite shelter which overhangs the lanai, giving pleasing shade on warm days. The lanai is used as a dressing room and also houses pool equipment for heating and filtering.

FOCAL POINT for the large living-dining area of the Richard Saltzman home is in the black metal fireplace and hood mounted on a white polished concrete hearth. The free-standing fireplace also serves as a divider between the dining and living areas in the open plan room. Interesting architectural feature of the Edward Hageman and Associates design built by Custom Builders — Parnow Bros. of San Rafael, are the clerestory windows which give daylight without glare.

Focal point of the formal living room is a black metal firebox and hood mounted on a white polished concrete bench. The free-standing fireplace and its unusual hearth serves as a divider between the living and dining areas in the Villa Real home, designed by Edward Hageman and Associates of San Rafael. Emphasizing the pitched roof line are exposed brown stained beams. Walls are painted aqua, and Mrs. Saltzman has chosen carpeting in aqua tweed to create a unifying effect in hall, living-dining area and master bedroom. Upholstered pieces in black or white are effective. Three slender supporting columns separate the entry hall in the open plan. Light beige drapes are drawn across the glass wall in the living room and high clerestory windows bring natural light into the spacious room.

THE MODERN kitchen is well located to serve both formal dining area and family room. A bath adjacent to the service and laundry area also serves the pool. Family room walls are of sturdy select birch finished with natural light stain. Ceiling treatment of the family room continues the use of dark brown exposed beams accenting the high roof line. The window wall of this room with its outlook of the pool and hillside is further enhanced by repetition of uncurtained clerestory windows, and one end of the room contains a comfortable library corner, cheery brick hearth and birch paneled built-in "TV garage." Informal in tone, the room is furnished with durable upholstered pieces of tweed and naugahyde. Practical linoleum in brick pattern was chosen by Custom-Builders for the floor covering.

Richard Saltzman, associated with the family business, Saltzman Furniture Co. in San Francisco, is a spare-time musician, hence the music room containing piano, drums and vibraphones, the scene of much musical activity when Dick and his friends get together for practice and fun sessions. Saltzman's small combo is in demand for local engagements.

THE TWO Saltzman daughters, Laura, 11, and Linda, 9, are active in Girl Scout and Bluebird programs, with their mother, Lorellen, assisting with leadership responsibilities. Laura is a seventh-grader at Davidson School, with Linda in the fourth grade at San Pedro School.

The Saltzman family moved to their Marin County home four years ago from San Francisco.

Fall Color In Marin Takes Some Planning

The intensity of fall color in Northern California depends entirely on where you live. Here, near the coast, you sometimes have to scratch for it.

It is, therefore, a good idea to plan specially for fall—not only for fall foliage color, but also for that which comes from the berried shrubs and from bedding plants.

Our most spectacular displays come from the brilliant splashes of foliage which certain trees give us. You see this often in the Mother Lode, where poplars, locust and scarlet oak color up so vividly. Try these same specimens in coastal gardens, however, and you'll see why color depends on where you live.

Best bets for foliage color along the coast—and obviously they are just as good or better inland—are sweet gum, maidenhair tree and Chinese pistache. Scarlet oak will show occasional bursts of color in coastal gardens and flowering Japanese cherries turn vivid where few others will.

These five—or four, if you exclude scarlet oak as a sure thing—will give you a nice range of fall color: The lovely yellow of maidenhair tree, the richly mixed reds and yellows of sweet gum and flowering cherry, the bright reds of scarlet oak and Chinese pistache. Who could ask for more?

Of the berried shrubs, none offers more vivid color than pyracantha. Improvement of this species has been a steady thing over the years with larger berries the prime goal of every hybridist. Orange berried pyracanthas usually bloom first and are followed closely by the reds. Cotoneaster and barberry also offer good fall berries.

The premier flower of fall is the chrysanthemum, with rich bronze or yellow seasonal colors. Wait until fall's first breath arrives; then load up with 'mums. You'll find them ready and waiting in full bloom at nurseries.

A CHECKLIST FOR GARDENERS OF MARIN

✓ Bush berries that have not been pruned yet should be. Remove the canes that bore fruit this year and loosely wind the new growth around the trellis.

✓ Shasta daisies are better divided in early spring than now. Simply remove the top growth when they stop blooming.

✓ Stake chrysanthemums. Continue feeding them at two week intervals.

Can You Recall The Events That Lead To Opening Of World War II?

WHERE WERE you when madman Hitler sent his troops and tanks swarming into Poland? Had you realized that World War II was about to explode?

If you have difficulty remembering the sequence of events which preceded the German aggression against its neighbor, you can refresh your memory by watching "The Twentieth Century" program on KPIX tomorrow night at 6:30.

It will be a rebroadcast of "The Week That Shook the World," the story of those fateful days when diplomats tried desperately to stave off the war which the German dictator was determined to have. Highlights are recordings of on-the-spot news reports made during that week by correspondents Edward R. Murrow, Eric Sevareid and William L. Shirer.

Like most of the Twentieth Century documentaries, it is an exciting story — and one none of us should forget.

AND WHILE on the subject of war, the "Camera Three" series tomorrow at 9 a. m. on KPIX will offer a dramatization of "Company K," William March's fine novel of World War I. It is a vivid description of the terrifying loneliness felt by men facing violent death.

ANOTHER noteworthy television venture into heavy drama will take place tomorrow on "Look Up and Live," also a Channel 5 show and seen at 8:30 a. m.

The program will continue its summer drama series with Jean-Paul Sartre's "The Flies," a modern parable of vengeance and guilt based on the legend of Orestes.

FOR MORE pleasant viewing, KPIX will offer you a chance to visit, view and savor Venice's famed Piazza San Marco on its "Accent" program tomorrow at 11:30 a. m.

Your hostess will be Mary McCarthy, American novelist.

Seated at a table at Quadris, Venetian sidewalk cafe in the Piazza San Marco, Miss McCarthy will discuss with CBS correspondent Winston Burdett something of the architecture and history of the square called the world's "most famous drawing room."

There will also be a look at the Doge's Palace and a stroll toward the sea so that you can see something of Venice, the cultural center and resort.

NOVATO planning commissioner Harvey McAskill and Marin Golf Club manager Kenneth Baker, originally scheduled to appear on last Sunday's "Gracious Living in the Bay Area" show on KGO, will be seen instead tomorrow as guests of host Bud Foster at 3:15 p. m.

"EDITOR'S CHOICE," seen at 10:30 p. m. Sundays on KGO, will look into the predicament of the small American community without a doctor tomorrow night. It will also tell what one Wisconsin town did to correct that situation.

THE MEN who know our problem juveniles best—our juvenile court judges — will discuss delinquency on KRON tonight at 10 o'clock.

Participants will be six judges from different sections of the country. Their discussion was videotaped in June while their honors were in San Francisco for the convention of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges.

They'll discuss such matters as delinquency trends in their respective areas, and the relationship of school drop-outs and delinquency.

The locally-produced show will follow a network "Nation's Future" program on KRON from 9:30 to 10 with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon reporting on the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference held in Uruguay.

TONIGHT'S television log again boasts a heavy Saturday night schedule of sporting events.

KGO's "Wide World of Sports" from 5 to 7 p. m. will cover the 1961 National AAU Men's Swimming Championships in Los Angeles.

At 7 o'clock channel 7 will carry a boxing match from Madison Square Garden between two of the best light heavyweights — Doug James and Von Clay.

And at 8:30 p. m., from Portland, KTVU will bring you the San Francisco 49ers vs. the Minnesota Vikings in a professional football exhibition with Bob Fouts and Gordie Soltau again at the mike.

STEREO NOTES

THREE PRELUDES AND FUGUES, OPUS 36, by Marcel Dupre, and LE BANQUET CELESTE, LES BERGERS by Olivier Messiaen. Marcel Dubre performing on the gallery organ in the Church of Saint-Sulpice, Paris (Mercury Stereo SR 90231 and Mono MG 50231).

This volume five in a series of recordings made for Mercury by Marcel Dupre on the organ on which he has been playing for over 30 years and in the Parisian church which is second in size only to Notre Dame. His own preludes and fugues are exceedingly chromatic and dissonant, while not forsaking tonality. The registrations are varied and fascinating in sound, and the magnificent acoustical setting of the church is well-preserved in stereo.

The registrations prove to be an integral part of the two compositions by Messiaen, a one time student of Dupre. "Le Banquet Celeste" is taken at a very slow tempo, and with curious stops and constantly repeated rhythms is almost hypnotic in effect.

SYMPHONY NO. 1 IN C MAJOR and SYMPHONY NO. 2 IN D MAJOR by Beethoven, Paul Paray conducting the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. (Mercury Stereo SR90205).

Admirable performances of great music in spacious sound, by an orchestra fast becoming one of the nation's best. The classically-turned "First Symphony" is given a hearty and jovial reading. Even though Beethoven fully realized his approaching deafness during composition of the energetic "Second Symphony," the work is still, according to Berlioz, "smiling throughout."
